| Subject:        | Action plan to take forward customs counter-terrorism initiatives - Report from the informal working group |

- 1. In Council document 7218/04 ENFOCUSTOM 16 dated 10 March 2004, the United Kingdom delegation recommends several actions that can be taken by Customs administrations to support the fight against international terrorism. The Customs Cooperation Working Party (CCWP) agreed that a small group of Member States be established to develop those actions and to produce an action plan for consideration.
- 2. The informal customs counter-terrorism working group met on 11 May. The group comprised representatives from France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Portugal, Sweden, the United Kingdom, Europol and the Commission (DGs JAI & TAXUD).

0229/04

- 3. The working group had a very useful and constructive meeting talking through the issues outlined in ENFOCUSTOM 16. The discussion identified that the key areas for development are:
  - counter-terrorism awareness training;
  - the collection and exchange of intelligence;
  - threat assessments
  - intelligence-led multi-agency operations and
  - the funding of terrorism.

In addition, the group agreed that the areas for action must include:

- the external frontier of the Community
- export as well as import
- movements between Member States (under Article 30 of the Treaty establishing the European Community national security).

The working group stressed the importance of taking note of other developments and activities in the field of counter-terrorism, such as the Proliferation Security Initiative.

Training

- 4. Is existing training sufficient to meet the new threat? To be able to counter the threat "you need to know your enemy". This begs a number of questions, including:
  - do officers "know their enemy"?
  - do they know the terminology for example, what is a MANPAD?
  - would they recognise a detonator?

Intelligence

5. This is the key to success; however, how do you identify the needle in the haystack or indeed the needle in the entire field? The exchange of intelligence between Customs administrations and other relevant agencies is vital.

Threat assessments

6. Some customs-oriented threat assessments to counter international terrorism are available, but not for all modes of transport and not for all Member States. There is a need to identify what threat assessments are avail

Operations

7. The working group proposes that the CCWP, using the threat assessments, should organise multi-agency operations against high-risk targets.

Actions

- 8. A draft action plan is attached for approval by the CCWP. First and Third Pillar issues are identified on the plan, as a comprehensive, coordinated Customs approach is required. Work will be taken forward while respecting the Pillar competencies.
- 9. It is recommended that the current working group continues and reports to the CCWP.
