⁵ Opinion of [...] OJ C [...], [...], p. [...].

⁶ OJ C [...], [...], p. [...].

- (1) The Communication from the Commission to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on "The CAP towards 2020: Meeting the food, natural resources and territorial challenges of the future"⁷ sets out potential challenges, objectives and orientations for the Common ~~a~~ Agricultural Policy (CAP) after 2013. In the light of the debate on that Communication, the CAP should be reformed with effect from 1 January 2014. That reform should cover all the main instruments of the CAP, including Council Regulation (ECU) No ~~[COM(2010)799]~~ *1234/2007 of [...] 22 October 2007 establishing a common organisation of agricultural markets and on specific provisions for certain agricultural products (Single CMO Regulation)*⁸. In view of the scope of the reform, it is appropriate to repeal that Regulation ~~(EU) No [COM(2010)799]~~ and to replace it with a new Single CMO Regulation. The reform should also, as far as possible, harmonise, streamline and simplify the provisions, particularly those covering more than one agricultural sector, including by ensuring that non-essential elements of measures may be adopted by the Commission by way of delegated acts.
- ~~(2) — It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level. The Commission, when preparing and drawing up delegated acts, should ensure a simultaneous, timely and appropriate transmission of relevant documents to the European Parliament and to the Council.~~
- ~~(3) — Pursuant to Article 43(3) of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (the Treaty), the Council shall adopt measures on fixing prices, levies, aid and quantitative limitations. In the interest of clarity, where Article 43(3) of the Treaty applies, this Regulation should explicitly refer to the fact that measures will be adopted by the Council on that basis.~~

⁸ Council Regulation (EC) No 1234/2007 of 22 October 2007 establishing a common organisation of agricultural markets and on specific provisions for certain agricultural products (Single CMO Regulation) (OJ L 299, 16.11.2007, p. 1).

- (4) This Regulation should contain all the basic elements of the Single CMO. ~~The fixing of prices, levies, aid and quantitative limitations is in certain cases inextricably linked to those basic elements.~~
- (5) This Regulation should apply to all agricultural products listed in Annex I to the Treaty on the European Union and the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union in order to ensure the existence of a common organisation of the market for all such products, as required by Article 40(1) of the Treaty.
- (6) It should be clarified that Regulation (EU) No [...] [horizontal CAP Regulation]⁹ and the provisions adopted pursuant to it should in principle apply to the measures set out in this Regulation. In particular, the [horizontal CAP Regulation] lays down provisions to guarantee compliance with the obligations laid down by CAP provisions, including checks and the application of administrative measures and administrative penalties in case of non-compliance, and rules related to the lodging and releasing of securities and the recovery of undue payments.
- ~~(36a)~~ Pursuant to Article 43(3) of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (the Treaty), the Council shall adopt measures on fixing prices, levies, aid and quantitative limitations. In the interest of clarity, where Article 43(3) of the Treaty applies, this Regulation should explicitly refer to the fact that measures will be adopted by the Council on that basis.
- ~~(86b)~~ Certain definitions concerning certain sectors should be set out in this Regulation. In order to take into account the specificities of the rice sector, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~updating amending~~ the definitions concerning the rice sector ~~set out in Part I of Annex II of this Regulation to the extent necessary to update them in the light of market developments.~~

- (7) This Regulation ~~and other acts adopted under Article 43 to the Treaty~~ refers to the description of products and references to the headings or subheadings of the combined nomenclature. Amendments to the Common Customs Tariff nomenclature may necessitate consequential technical adjustments to ~~such~~ this Regulations. ~~The Commission should be able to adopt implementing measures to make such adjustments. In order to take into account such amendments, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of making the necessary adjustments.~~ In the interests of clarity and simplicity, Council Regulation (EEC) No 234/79 ~~of 5 February 1979 on the procedure for adjusting the Common Customs Tariff nomenclature used for agricultural products~~¹⁰ which currently provides for such a power should be repealed and the power integrated into ~~the~~ present Regulation.
- ~~(8) In order to take into account the specificities of the rice sector, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of updating the definitions concerning the rice sector set out in Part I of Annex II of this Regulation.~~
- ~~(9) In order to ensure that production is orientated towards certain varieties of paddy rice, the Commission should be able to adopt implementing measures in respect of fixing increases and reductions of the public intervention price.~~
- (10) Marketing years should be fixed for cereals, rice, sugar, dried fodder, seeds, wine, olive oil and table olives, flax and hemp, fruit and vegetables, processed fruit and vegetables, bananas, milk and milk products, and silkworms, and adapted as far as possible to the biological production cycles of each of those products.

¹⁰ Council Regulation (EEC) No 234/79 of 5 February 1979 on the procedure for adjusting the Common Customs Tariff nomenclature used for agricultural products (OJ L 34, 9.2.1979, p. 2).

- ~~(11) In order to take into account the specificities of the fruit and vegetables and processed fruit and vegetables sectors, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of fixing the marketing years for those products.~~
- (12) In order to stabilise the markets and to ensure a fair standard of living for the agricultural community, a differentiated system of price market support for the different sectors has been developed and direct support schemes have been introduced, taking into account the different needs in each of these sectors on the one hand and the interdependence between different sectors on the other. Those measures take the form of public intervention or, ~~as the case may be,~~ the payment of aid for private storage. There continues to be a need to maintain price market support measures whilst streamlining and simplifying them.
- (12a) Union scales for the classification, identification and presentation of carcasses in the beef and veal, pigmeat, and sheepmeat and goatmeat sectors should be fixed for the purpose of price recording and for the application of the intervention arrangements in those sectors. Moreover, they pursue the objective of improving market transparency.*
- (13) For the sake of clarity and transparency, the provisions on public intervention should be made subject to a common structure, whilst maintaining the policy pursued in each sector. For that purpose it is appropriate to distinguish between reference prices thresholds and intervention prices and to define the latter, in particular, clarifying that only intervention prices for public intervention correspond to the applied administered prices referred to in the first sentence of paragraph 8 of Annex 3 to the WTO Agreement on Agriculture (i.e. market price gap support). In this context it should be understood that market intervention can take the form of public intervention as well as other forms of intervention that do not use ex-ante established price indications.

- (14) As appropriate to each sector concerned in the light of the practice and experience under previous CMOs, the system of public intervention should be available during certain periods of the year and should be open during that period either on a permanent basis or should be opened depending on market prices.
- ~~(15) The price level at which buying-in under public intervention, i.e. price gap support, should be carried out at a fixed price for certain quantities for some products and in other cases should depend on tendering, reflecting the practice and experience under previous CMOs.~~
- (16) This Regulation should provide for the possibility of disposal of products bought in public intervention. Such measures should be taken in a way that avoids market disturbances and that ensures equal access to goods and equal treatment of purchasers.
- (16a)* The existing scheme for food distribution to the most deprived in the Union adopted under the ~~common agricultural policy~~ CAP should be the subject of a separate regulation adopted to reflect its social cohesion objectives. Provision should nevertheless be made in this Regulation to allow for disposal of products held in public intervention by making them available for use in the scheme.
- (17) To achieve the aim of balancing the market and stabilising the market prices, it may be necessary to grant aid for private storage of specific agricultural products. In order to ~~ensure provide for~~ market transparency, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of laying down the conditions under which it may decide to grant private storage aid ~~in order to achieve the aim of balancing the market and stabilising the market prices, and~~ taking into account the market situation.

- (18) In order to ensure that products bought in under public intervention or subject to aid for private storage are suitable for long-term storage and of fair, sound and marketable quality and to take into account the specificities of the different sectors for the purposes of ensuring the cost-effective operation of public intervention and private storage, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~adopting laying down~~ the requirements and conditions to be met by those products concerning their quality and eligibility to be bought in under public intervention and to be stored under the system of private storage aid, in addition to the requirements laid down in this Regulation ~~as well as in respect of adopting the applicable price increases or reductions for quality purposes as regards both buying-in and sales and in respect of adopting the provisions relating to the obligation for the paying agencies to have all the beef boned after the take-over and prior to the placing into storage.~~
- (18a) In order to take account of the specificities of the cereals and paddy rice sectors, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of laying down the quality criteria as regards buying-in and sales of those products.
- (19) In order to ensure appropriate storage capacity and the efficiency of the public intervention system in terms of cost effectiveness, distribution and access for operators, and to maintain the quality of products bought in under public intervention for their disposal at the end of the storage period ~~take account of the diversity of situations relating to the storage of intervention stocks in the Union and to ensure adequate access to public intervention for operators~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the requirements to be met by ~~intervention~~ storage places for ~~the all~~ products ~~to be bought in under the system subject to public intervention, provisions relating to the sale of small quantities remaining in storage in the Member States; and rules for direct sale quantities which may no longer be repackaged or are deteriorated; and certain~~ rules on storage of products inside and outside the Member State responsible for them and their treatments as regards customs duties and any other amounts to be granted or levied under the CAP.

- (20) In order to ensure that private storage has the desired effect on the market, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~measures for reducing the amount of aid to be paid rules and conditions applicable~~ where the quantity stored is lower than the contracted quantity; ~~and conditions for granting of an advance payment; and the conditions for re-marketing and disposing of products covered by private storage contracts.~~
- (21) In order to ~~safeguard the rights and obligations of operators participating in~~ ensure the proper functioning of the public intervention ~~or and~~ private storage ~~measures systems~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~providingsions relating to~~ for the use of tendering procedures; ~~the eligibility of additional conditions to be fulfilled by operators;~~ and an obligation of the operator to lodge a security ~~guaranteeing~~.
- (22) In order to take account of technical developments and of the needs of the beef and veal, pigmeat, and sheepmeat and goatmeat sectors, as well as the need to standardise the presentation of the different products for the purposes of improving market transparency, price recording and the application of the market intervention measures ~~standardise the presentation of the different products for the purposes of improving market transparency, price recording and the application of market intervention arrangements in the form of public intervention and private storage~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of adapting and updating Union scales for the classification of carcasses in ~~the beef and veal, pigmeat and sheepmeat and goatmeat those sectors as well as laying down certain related additional provisions and derogations.~~
- (23) ~~In order to ensure accuracy and reliability of the classification of carcasses, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the review of the application of classification of carcasses in Member States by a Union committee.~~

- (24) ~~The existing scheme for food distribution to the most deprived in the Union adopted under the common agricultural policy should be the subject of a separate regulation adopted to reflect its social cohesion objectives. Provision should nevertheless be made in this Regulation to allow for disposal of products held in public intervention by making them available for use in the scheme.~~
- (25) The consumption of fruit and vegetables as well as milk and milk products by school children amongst children should be encouraged, with a view to including by durably increasing the share of those products in the diets of children at the stage when their eating habits are being formed, thus contributing to the objectives of the CAP, in particular stabilising markets and ensuring the availability of both current and future supplies. Union aid to finance or co-finance the supply to children in educational establishments of such products should therefore be promoted.
- (26) In order to ensure a sound budgetary management of the schemes, appropriate provisions for each one should be established. Union aid should not be used to replace funding for any national existing school fruit and vegetables schemes and school milk schemes. In the light of budgetary constraints, Member States should nonetheless be able to replace their financial contribution to the schemes with contributions from the private sector. In order to make their school fruit and vegetables schemes and school milk schemes effective, ~~Member States should provide for~~ accompanying measures may be necessary for which ~~Member States they~~ should be allowed to grant national aid. Member States participating in the schemes should publicise the subsidising role of the Union aid.

- (27) In order to promote the healthy eating habits of children and to ensure that the aid is targeted at children in regular attendance at educational establishments administered or recognised by Member States, to ensure the efficient and targeted use of European Funds and to promote awareness of the scheme the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the school fruit scheme concerning: the additional criteria related to the targeting of aid the products that are ineligible for the scheme; the target group of the scheme; the national or regional strategies that Member States must draw up in order to benefit from the aid, including the accompanying measures; the approval and selection of aid applicants; ~~objective criteria for the allocation of aid between Member States, the indicative allocation of aid between Member States and the method for reallocating aid between Member States based on applications received; the costs eligible for aid, including the possibility of fixing an overall ceiling for such costs; and requiring participating Member States to publicise the subsidising role of the scheme and on the drawing-up of national or regional strategies and on accompanying measures.~~
- (27a) In order to ensure the efficient and targeted use of Union funds, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the school fruit scheme concerning the method for reallocating aid between Member States based on the basis of requests for aid applications received, the costs eligible for Union aid, including the possibility of fixing an overall ceiling for such costs; and the obligation for the Member States to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of their school fruit and vegetables schemes.
- (27b) In order to promote awareness of the school fruit and vegetables scheme, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission requiring participating Member States with a school fruit and vegetables scheme to publicise the subsidising role of the scheme Union aid.

- (28) In order to take account of the evolution in the dairy products consumption patterns ~~and of~~ the innovations and developments on the dairy products market, the availability of products on the different markets of the Union and nutritional aspects, ~~to ensure that the appropriate beneficiaries and applicants qualify for the aid and to promote awareness of the aid scheme~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the school milk scheme concerning: the products that are eligible for the scheme; ~~the Member State's~~ national or regional strategies, including accompanying measures where applicable; and monitoring and evaluation that Member States must draw up in order to benefit from the aid and the target group for the scheme; the conditions for granting aid; the lodging of a security guaranteeing the execution where an advance of aid is paid; monitoring and evaluation; and requiring educational establishments to communicate the subsidising role of the scheme.
- (28a) In order to ensure that the appropriate beneficiaries and applicants qualify for the aid and the efficient and effective use of Union aid, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the rules on the beneficiaries and applicants eligible for the aid; the requirement for the applicants to be approved by Member States; and the use of dairy products in the preparation of meals in educational establishments.
- (28b) In order to ensure that aid applicants respect their obligations, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of measures on the lodging of a security where an advance of aid is paid.
- (28c) In order to promote awareness of the aid scheme, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the conditions in accordance with which Member States are to publicise their participation in the school milk scheme and the fact that it is subsidised by the Union.
- (28d) In order to ensure that the aid is reflected in the price of the products, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the establishment of price monitoring under the school milk scheme.

- ~~(29) The aid scheme for hop producer organisations is only used in one Member State. In order to create flexibility and to harmonise the approach in this sector with the other sectors, the aid scheme should be discontinued, with the possibility to support the producer organisations under rural development measures.~~
- (30) Union financing is required to encourage ~~approved operator~~ recognised producer organisations, associations of producer organisations or interbranch organisations to draw up work programmes for the purpose of improving the production ~~quality and marketing~~ of olive oil and table olives. In that context, this Regulation should provide for Union support to be allocated in accordance with the priorities given to the activities undertaken within the respective work programmes. However, ~~the activities concerned should be limited to the most useful and~~ co-financing should be ~~introduced~~ reduced in order to improve the ~~quality efficiency~~ of such programmes.
- (31) In order to ensure the efficient and effective use of that the Union aid provided for producer organisations, associations of producer organisations or interbranch organisations in the olive oil and table olive ~~operator organisations sector~~ meet their objective of to improving the production quality of olive oil and table olives ~~and to ensure that olive oil and table olive operator organisations respect their obligations,~~ the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission ~~concerning in respect of the conditions for the approval of operator organisations for the purposes of the aid scheme, the suspension or withdrawal of such approval;~~ the specific measures ~~eligible for that can be financed by the~~ Union financing aid and the activities and costs that cannot; the minimum allocation of Union financing to ~~particular measures specific areas;~~ the ~~activities and costs that are not eligible for~~ Union financing requirement to lodge a security; and the criteria to be taken into account by Member States in the selection and approval of work programmes ~~and concerning requiring the lodging of a security.~~

- (32) This Regulation should distinguishes between fruit and vegetables, which include fruit and vegetables for marketing fresh and fruit and vegetables intended for processing, on the one hand, and processed fruit and vegetables, on the other hand. Rules on ~~producer organisations~~ operational funds, operational programmes and Union financial assistance should only apply to fruit and vegetables and fruit and vegetables solely intended for processing both being treated in a parallel way.
- (33) The production of fruit and vegetables is unpredictable and the products are perishable. Even limited surpluses can significantly disturb the market. Therefore, measures for crisis management should be established and those measures should continue to be integrated into operational programmes.
- (34) The production and marketing of fruit and vegetables should fully take into account environmental concerns, including cultivation practices, management of waste materials and disposal of products withdrawn from the market, in particular as regards protection of water quality, maintenance of biodiversity and the upkeep of the countryside.
- (35) Support for setting up producer groups should be provided for all sectors in all Member States under rural development policy. ~~so that~~ The specific support in the fruit and vegetables sector should therefore be discontinued.
- (36) In order to give producer organisations and their associations in the fruit and vegetables sector greater responsibility for their financial decisions and to gear the public resources assigned to them towards future requirements, terms should be set out for the use of those resources. Joint financing of operational funds set up by producer organisations and their associations is an appropriate solution. Additional scope for financing should be permitted in particular cases. Operational funds should only be used to finance operational programmes in the fruit and vegetables sector. In order to control Union expenditure, there should be a cap on assistance granted to producer organisations and their associations that establish operational funds.

- (37) In regions where the organisation of production in the fruit and vegetables sector is weak, granting of additional national financial contributions should be allowed. In case of Member States which are at a particular disadvantage with regard to structures, such contributions should be reimbursed by the Union.
- (38) In order to ensure an efficient, targeted and sustainable support of producer organisations and their associations in the fruit and vegetables sector, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of operational funds and operational programmes, the national framework and national strategy for operational programmes concerning the structure and content of a obligation to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the national framework and ~~a the~~ national strategies; Union financial assistance; crisis prevention and management measures; and national financial assistance.
- (39) It is important to provide for support measures in the wine sector which are liable to strengthen competitive structures. While those measures should be defined and financed by the Union, it should be left to Member States to select the appropriate set of measures to meet the needs of their regional bodies, taking into account their particularities, where necessary, as well as integrating them into national support programmes. Member States should be responsible for the implementation of such programmes.
- (40) One key measure eligible for national support programmes should be the promotion and marketing of Union wines ~~in third countries~~. Support to innovation can increase the marketability and competitiveness of Union grapevine products. Restructuring and conversion activities should continue to be covered on account of their positive structural effects on the wine sector. Support should also be available for investments in the wine sector which are geared towards improving economic performance of the enterprises as such. Support for by-product distillation should be a measure available to Member States which desire to use such an instrument to ensure the quality of wine, while preserving the environment.

- (41) Preventive instruments such as harvest insurance, mutual funds and green harvesting should be eligible for support under the wine support programmes so as to encourage a responsible approach to crisis situations.
- (42) The provisions on support to vine-growers by way of allocation of payment entitlements as decided by Member States were made definitive as from the financial year 2015.
~~Therefore the only such support which may be provided is the one decided by Member States by 1 December 2013~~ under Article ~~103n 137~~ of Regulation (EUC) No ~~1234/2007~~ ~~[COM(2011)799]~~ and under the conditions set out in that provision.
- (43) In order to ensure that Member States' wine support programmes meet their objectives and that there is ~~a an efficient and effective targeted~~ use of the European ~~F~~unds, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of rules: on the responsibility for expenditure between the date of receipt by the Commission of the support programmes, and modifications to support programmes and their date of applicability; ~~on eligibility criteria of support measures, on the content of support programmes and the type of~~ expenditure, administrative and personnel costs and operations that may be included in Member States' support programmes and the conditions for and the possibility to make payments through intermediaries in the case of support for harvest insurance ~~eligible for support; measures ineligible for support and the maximum level of support per measure; on changes to support programmes after they have become applicable; on requirements and thresholds for advance payments, including~~ the requirement ~~for to lodge~~ a security where an advance payment is made; in the use of certain terms; on the fixing of a ceiling for expenditure on the replanting of vineyards for health or phytosanitary reasons; containing general provisions and definitions for the purposes of support programmes; to avoid misuse of the support measures and on the avoidance of double funding of projects; under which producers shall withdraw the by-products of winemaking, exceptions from this obligation in order to avoid additional administrative burden and provisions for the voluntary certification of distillers; ~~and laying down the requirements for the enabling~~ Member States to establish conditions for the proper functioning for the implementation of the support measures, ~~as well as restrictions to ensure consistency with the scope of the support measures; regarding payments to beneficiaries, including payments through insurance intermediaries.~~

- (44) Beekeeping is characterised by the diversity of production conditions and yields and the dispersion and variety of economic operators, both at the production and marketing stages. Moreover, in view of the increasing incidence on bee health of certain types of hive invasions and in particular of the spread of varroasis in several Member States in recent years and the problems which that disease causes to honey production, action by the Union continues to be necessary as varroasis cannot be completely eradicated and is to be treated with approved products. Given such circumstances and in order to improve the production and marketing of apiculture products in the Union, national programmes for the sector should be drawn up every three years with a view to improving the general conditions for the production and marketing of apiculture products. Those national programmes should be partly financed by the Union.
- (44a) The measures which may be included in the apiculture programmes should be specified. In order to ensure that the Union aid scheme is adapted to the latest developments and that the measures covered are effective in improving the general conditions for the production and marketing of apiculture products, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of updating the list of measures by adapting those measures or adding new measures.
- (45) In order to ensure ~~a targeted~~ the effective and efficient use of Union funds for apiculture, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of: the avoidance of double funding between Member States' apiculture programmes and rural development programmes ~~the measures which may be included in apiculture programmes, rules on the obligations relating to the content of national programmes, their drawing up and the related studies;~~ and the ~~conditions for basis of~~ the allocation of the Union's financial contribution to each participating Member State.

- (45a) In accordance with Regulation (EC) No 73/2009, the hops area payment was decoupled from 1 January 2010. In order to allow the hop producer organisations to continue their activities as before, a specific provision should be made for equivalent amounts to be used in the Member State concerned for the same activities. In order to ensure that the aids finance the aims of producer organisations as set out in this Regulation, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of aid applications, rules on eligible hop areas and the calculation of aids.
- (46) Union aid for silkworm rearing should be decoupled into the direct payments system following the approach taken for aids in other sectors.
- (47) The aid for Union-produced skimmed milk and skimmed-milk powder intended for use as a feedingstuff and for processing into casein and caseinates has not proved effective in supporting the market and should therefore be discontinued, along with the rules concerning the use of casein and caseinates in the manufacture of cheese.
- (47a) Regulation (EC) No 1234/2007 sets out the deadline of 31 December 2015 for the application of the transitional planting rights regime. The decision to end the transitional prohibition on planting vines at Union level on that date is justified by the attainment of the main objectives of the reform of the Union wine market organisation in 2008, in particular the end of the long-standing structural surplus of wine production and the progressive improvement of competitiveness and market orientation of the wine sector in the Union. Such positive developments resulted from a marked decrease of vine areas across the Union, the exit of less competitive producers, as well as the phasing-out of certain market support measures removing the incentive for investments without economic viability. The reduction of supply capacity and the support for structural measures and promotion of wine exports allowed for a better adaptation to a decreasing demand at Union level, which results from a progressive decrease of consumption in traditional wine-producing Member States.

- (47b) However, the perspectives of progressive growth of demand at world market level provide an incentive to increase supply capacity, and therefore to plant new vines, over the next decade. While the key objective of increasing the competitiveness of Union wine sector should be pursued in order not to lose market share in the world market, an excessively quick increase of new vine plantings in response to forecasted development in international demand may lead again to a situation of excessive supply capacity in the medium-term with possible social and environmental effects in specific wine production areas. In order to ensure an orderly growth of vine plantings during the period between 2016 and 2030, a new system for the management of vine plantings should be established at Union level; a scheme of authorisations for vine plantings.*
- (47c) Under this new system, authorisations may be granted without a cost to be charged to the producers, and should expire after three years if they are not used. This would contribute to the swift and direct use of the authorisations by the wine producers to whom they are granted, avoiding speculation.*
- (47d) The growth of new vine plantings should be framed by a safeguard mechanism at Union level based on the obligation for Member States to make available annually authorisations for new plantings representing 1% of the planted vine areas, while allowing for certain flexibility in order to respond to specific circumstances of each Member State. Member States should be able to decide on making available smaller areas at national or regional levels, including for areas eligible for specific protected designations of origin and protected geographical indications, on the basis of objective and non-discriminatory grounds, while ensuring the limitations imposed are above 0% and are not over-restrictive in relation to the objectives pursued.*
- (47e) In order to guarantee that authorisations are granted in a non-discriminatory manner, certain criteria should be laid down in particular when the total quantity of authorisations made available by Member States is exceeded by the total of applications requested by producers.*

- (47f) The granting of authorisations to producers grubbing up an existing vine area should be done automatically upon submission of an application and independently of the safeguard mechanism for new plantings, since it does not contribute to the overall increase of vine areas. In specific areas eligible for the production of wines with protected designation of origin or protected geographical indication, Member States should have the possibility to restrict the granting of such authorisations for replantings on the basis of recommendations of recognised and representative professional organisations.
- (47g) This new scheme of authorisations for vine plantings should not apply to Member States not applying the Union transitional planting rights regime and be optional for those Member States where, although the planting rights apply, the vine planting area is below a certain threshold.
- (47h) Transitional provisions should be laid down in order to ensure a smooth transition between the former planting rights regime and the new scheme, in particular in order to avoid excessive plantings before the start of the new scheme. Member States should have a certain flexibility to decide on the deadline for the presentation of requests for conversion of planting rights into authorisations between 31 December 2015 up to 31 December 2020.
- (47i) In order to ensure a harmonised and effective implementation of the new scheme of authorisations for vine plantings, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the conditions for the exemption of certain vine plantings from the scheme, the rules relating to the eligibility and priority criteria, the addition of eligibility and priority criteria, the co-existence of vines to be grubbed up with newly planted vines, and the grounds on which Member States may restrict the granting of authorisations for replantings.
- (47j) The control of non-authorised plantings should be done effectively in order to ensure the compliance with the rules for the new scheme.

- (48) The application of standards for the marketing of agricultural products can contribute to improving the economic conditions for the production and marketing as well as the quality of such products. The application of such standards is therefore in the interest of producers, traders and consumers.
- (49) Following the Communication from the Commission on agricultural product quality policy¹¹ and subsequent debates, it is deemed appropriate to maintain marketing standards by sectors or products, in order to take into account the expectations of consumers and to contribute to the improvement of the economic conditions for the production and marketing of agricultural products as well as to their quality.
- (50) ~~In order to guarantee that all products are of sound, fair and marketable quality, and without prejudice to Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 28 January 2002 laying down the general principles and requirements of food law, establishing the European Food Safety Authority and laying down procedures in matters of food safety¹², a basic general marketing standard as envisaged in the aforementioned Communication of the Commission should be appropriate for products not covered by marketing standards by sectors or products. When such products conform to an applicable international standard, as appropriate, those products should be considered as conforming to the general marketing standard.~~
- ~~(51) For some sectors and/or products, definitions, designations and/or sales descriptions are important elements for the determination of conditions of competition. Therefore, it is appropriate to lay down definitions, designations and sales descriptions for those sectors and/or products, which should only be used in the Union for the marketing of products which comply with the corresponding requirements.~~
- (52) Provisions of a horizontal nature should be established for marketing standards.

¹¹ COM/2009/0234 final.

- (52a) Marketing standards should be divided between obligatory rules for specific sectors or products and optional reserved terms to be established on a sectoral or product basis.
- (52b) Marketing standards should, in principle, apply to all agricultural products concerned marketed in the Union.
- (52c) The sectors and products for which marketing standards may apply should be listed in this Regulation. However, in order to take account of the expectations of consumers and the need to improve the quality and the economic conditions for the production and marketing of agricultural products, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of modifying that list, under strict conditions.
- (592d) In order to take account of the expectations of consumers and to ~~contribute to the~~ improvement of the economic conditions for the production and marketing of agricultural products as well as ~~to their~~ the quality of certain agricultural products, and in order to adapt to the constantly changing market conditions, to the evolving consumer demands, ~~as well as in order to take into account and to~~ the developments in relevant international standards ~~and as well as to take technical progress into account and~~ avoid creating obstacles to product innovation, the power ~~to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~acts to~~ adopting marketing standards by sectors or products, at all stages of the marketing, as well as derogations and exemptions from ~~the application of~~ such standards ~~and in respect of necessary modification, derogation or exemption from definitions and sales descriptions~~. The marketing standards should take into account, inter alia, the natural and essential characteristics of the products concerned and thus avoid causing substantial changes in the ordinary composition of the product concerned. Moreover they should take into account the possible risk for consumers being misled due to expectations and perceptions; any derogation or exemptions from the standards should not entail additional costs which should be borne solely by farmers.

- (53) Marketing standards should apply to enable the market to be easily supplied with products of standardised and satisfactory quality and should relate, in particular, to technical definitions, ~~grading into~~ classifications, presentation, marking and labelling, packaging, production method, conservation, storage, transport, ~~information on producers, content of certain substances-related administrative documents, storage, certification and time limits, related administrative documents, storage, certification and time limits~~ restrictions of use and disposal.
- (54) Taking into account the interest of producers to communicate the product and farming characteristics and the interest of consumers to receive adequate and transparent product information, it should be possible to determine the place of farming and origin, on a case by case approach at the appropriate geographical level, while taking into account the specificities of some sectors, in particular concerning processed agricultural products.
- ~~(55) — Marketing standards should apply to all agricultural products marketed in the Union.~~
- (56) ~~It is appropriate to provide for s~~Special rules should be provided in respect of products imported from third countries if national provisions in force in third countries justify derogations from the marketing standards if their equivalence to Union legislation is guaranteed. It is also appropriate to determine rules relating to the application of the marketing standards applicable to the products exported from the Union.
- ~~(57) — It is appropriate to introduce the possibility for Member States to maintain or adopt certain national rules on quality levels as regards spreadable fats.~~

~~(58) In order to address changes in the market situation, taking into account the specificity of each sector, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of acts to adopt, modify and derogate from requirements related to the general marketing standard, and rules concerning the conformity to it.~~

(58a) Products of the fruit and vegetables sector intended to be sold fresh to the consumer should be marketed only if they are sound, fair and of marketable quality and if the country of origin is indicated. In order to ensure the proper application of that requirement and to take into account certain specific situations, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of specific derogations from that requirement.

(58b) A quality policy should be followed throughout the Union by applying a certification procedure for products of the hops sector and by prohibiting the marketing of such products for which a certificate has not been issued. In order to ensure the proper application of that requirement and to take into account certain specific situations, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of measures derogating from that requirement in order to satisfy the trade requirements of certain third countries or for products intended for special uses.

~~(59) In order to take account of the expectations of consumers to contribute to the improvement the economic conditions for the production and marketing of agricultural products as well as to their quality and in order to adapt to the constantly changing market conditions, to the evolving consumer demands, as well as in order to take into account the developments in relevant international standards and to take technical progress into account and avoid creating obstacles to product innovation, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of acts to adopt marketing standards by sectors or products, at all stages of the marketing, as well as derogations and exemptions from the application of such standards and in respect of necessary modification, derogation or exemption from definitions and sales descriptions.~~

~~(5159a)~~For ~~some certain~~ sectors and/or products, definitions, designations and/or sales descriptions are important elements for the determination of conditions of competition. Therefore, it is appropriate to lay down definitions, designations and sales descriptions for those sectors and/or products, which should only be used in the Union for the marketing of products which conform to comply with the corresponding requirements.

(59b) In order to adapt the definitions and sales descriptions for certain products to the needs resulting from the evolving consumer demands, technical progress and needs for product innovation, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of modification, derogation or exemption from definitions and sales descriptions.

(59ba) In order to ensure that operators and Member States have a clear and proper understanding of the definitions and sales descriptions laid down for certain sectors, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the rules for their specification and application.

(59c) In order to take into account the specificity of each product or sector, the different marketing stages, the technical conditions, any possible considerable practical difficulty, and also the accuracy and repeatability of the methods of analysis, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission concerning a tolerance for one or more specific standards beyond which the entire batch of products should be considered not to respect the standard.

~~(7759d)~~~~It is appropriate to determine~~cCertain oenological practices and restrictions for the production of wine should be determined, in particular as regards coupage and the use of certain types of grape must, grape juice and fresh grapes originating in third countries. In order to meet the international standards, for further oenological practices, the Commission should ~~as a general rule base itself on~~ take into account the oenological practices recommended by the International Organisation of Vine and Wine (OIV).

~~(7659e)~~It is appropriate to lay down rRules should be laid down for the classification of wine grape varieties, according to which Member States producing more than 50 000 hectolitres per year continue to be responsible for classifying the wine grape varieties from which wine may be made on their territories. Certain wine grape varieties should be excluded.

~~(5759f)~~It is appropriate to introduce the possibility for Member States should be able to maintain or adopt certain national rules on quality levels as regards spreadable fats.

~~(7859g)~~For the wine sector, Member States should be allowed to limit or to exclude the use of certain oenological practices and be allowed to keep more stringent restrictions for wines produced in their territory, as well as ~~permit~~ allow the experimental use of unauthorised oenological practices ~~under conditions to be defined~~.

(60) In order to ensure the correct and transparent application of national rules for certain products and/or sectors as regards marketing standards, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of establishing conditions for application of such marketing standards as well as the conditions for the holding, circulation and use of the products obtained from the experimental practices.

~~(60new)~~In addition to marketing standards, optional reserved terms should be established in order to ensure that terms describing specific product characteristics, or farming or processing attributes are not misused in the market place and can be relied on by consumers in identifying different qualities of product. In the light of the objectives of the present Regulation and in the interest of clarity, existing optional quality terms should be listed in this Regulation.

- (60a) Member States should be allowed to set up rules concerning the disposal of wine products not complying with the requirements of this regulation. In order to ensure the correct and transparent application of national rules concerning wine products, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of establishing conditions for the use of wine products not complying with the requirements of this regulation.
- (60b) In order to take into account the situation in the market and developments in marketing standards and in international standards, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of reserving an additional optional reserved term and laying down conditions of its use, and amending the conditions of use of an optional reserved term, and cancelling an optional reserved terms.
- (60c) In order to take into account the characteristics of certain sectors and consumer expectations, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of details on the requirements for the introduction of an additional reserved term.
- (60d) In order to ensure that products described by means of optional reserved terms conform to the applicable conditions of use, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of additional rules on the use of optional reserved terms.
- (61) In order to take account of the specificities in trade between the Union and certain third countries, ~~and the special character of some certain agricultural products and the specificity of each sector~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission ~~concerning a tolerance for each marketing standard beyond which the entire batch of products should be considered as not respecting the standard and~~ concerning ~~rules which define~~ the conditions under which imported products are considered as providing an equivalent level of ~~compliance with conformity to~~ the Union requirements concerning marketing standards and which allow for measures derogating from the rules that products be marketed in the Union only in accordance with such standards and ~~determine~~ the rules relating to the application of the marketing standards to products exported from the Union.

~~(7561a)~~ Provisions concerning wine should be applied in the light of the international agreements concluded ~~under Article 218 of in accordance with~~ the Treaty.

- (62) The concept of quality wines in the Union is based, inter alia, on the specific characteristics attributable to the wine's geographical origin. Such wines are identified for consumers through protected designations of origin and geographical indications. In order to allow for a transparent and more elaborate framework underpinning the claim to quality by the products concerned, a regime should be established under which applications for a designation of origin or a geographical indication are examined in line with the approach followed by Union's horizontal quality policy applicable to foodstuffs other than wine and spirits set out in ~~Council~~ Regulation (EC) No 1151/2012 ~~510/2006 of the European Parliament and of the Council 20 March 2006 on the protection of geographical indications and designations of origin for agricultural products and foodstuffs~~¹³.
- (63) In order to preserve the particular quality characteristics of wines with a protected designation of origin or a protected geographical indication, Member States should be allowed to apply more stringent rules.
- (64) To qualify for protection in the Union, designations of origin and geographical indications for wine should be recognised and registered at the Union level in accordance with procedural rules laid down by the Commission.
- (65) Protection should be open to designations of origin and geographical indications of third countries where they are protected in their country of origin.
- (66) The registration procedure should enable any natural or legal person having a legitimate interest in a Member State or a third country to exercise ~~his~~ their rights by notifying ~~his~~ their objections.

¹³ Council Regulation (EC) No 510/2006 of 20 March 2006 on the protection of geographical indications and designations of origin for agricultural products and foodstuffs (OJ L 93, 31.3.2006, p. 12).

- (67) Registered designations of origin and geographical indications should enjoy protection against uses which unduly take advantage of the reputation that complying products command. So as to promote fair competition and not to mislead consumers, that protection should also affect products and services not covered by this Regulation, including those not found in Annex I to the ~~Treaty~~ Treaties.
- (68) In order to take into account existing labelling practices ~~into account~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of permitting the use of a name of a wine grape variety ~~to be used even though it~~ which contains or consists of a protected designation of origin or a protected geographical indication.
- (69) In order to take into account ~~of~~ the specificities of the production in the demarcated geographical area, ~~to ensure product quality and traceability and to ensure the legitimate rights or interests of producers or operators~~ the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission ~~concerning in respect of~~ the ~~principles additional criteria~~ for the demarcation of the geographical area, and ~~definitions, the~~ restrictions and derogations ~~related to~~ concerning the production in the demarcated geographical area; ~~concerning the conditions under which product specifications may include additional requirements; and concerning the elements of the product specification; the type of applicant that may apply for the protection of a designation of origin or geographical indication; the procedures to be followed in respect of an application for the protection of a designation of origin or geographical indication, including on preliminary national procedures, scrutiny by the Commission, objection procedures, and procedure on amendment, cancellation and conversion of protected designations of origin or protected geographical indication; the procedures applicable to trans-border applications; procedures for applications relating to geographical areas in a third country; the date from which protection shall run; the procedures related to amendments to product specifications; and the date on which an amendment shall enter into force.~~

- (69a) In order to ensure product quality and traceability, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the conditions under which product specifications may include additional requirements.
- (69b) In order to ensure the legitimate rights or interests of producers or operators, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the type of applicant that may apply for the protection of a designation of origin or geographical indication; the conditions to be followed in respect of an application for the protection of a designation of origin or geographical indication, scrutiny by the Commission, objection procedure, and procedures for amendment, cancellation and conversion of protected designations of origin or protected geographical indication; the conditions applicable to trans-border applications; the conditions for applications relating to geographical areas in a third country; the date from which protection or an amendment thereto applies; and the conditions relating to amendments to product specifications.
- (70) In order to ensure adequate protection ~~and that economic operators and competent authorities are not prejudiced by the application of this Regulation as regards wine names which have been granted protection prior to 1 August 2009~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~adoption~~ restrictions regarding the protected name ~~and in respect of transitional provisions concerning: wine names recognised by Member States as designations of origin or geographical indications by 1 August 2009; preliminary national procedure; wines placed on the market or labelled before a specific date; and amendments to the product specifications.~~
- (70a) In order to ensure that economic operators and competent authorities are not prejudiced by the application of this Regulation as regards wine names which have been granted protection prior to 1 August 2009 or for which an application for protection has been made prior to that date, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of transitional provisions concerning such wine names; wines placed on the market or labelled before a specific date; and amendments to the product specifications.

- (71) Certain terms are traditionally used in the Union and convey information to consumers about particularities and quality of wines complementing the information conveyed by protected designations of origin and geographical indications. So as to ensure the working of the internal market and fair competition and to avoid consumers being misled, those traditional terms should be eligible for protection in the Union.
- (72) In order to ensure an adequate protection, ~~the legitimate rights of producers or operators and to take account of the specificities in trade between the Union and certain third countries~~ the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~provisions regarding~~ the language and the spelling of a traditional term to be protected; ~~regarding the definition of the type of applicants that may apply for the protection of a traditional term; the conditions of validity of an application for recognition of a traditional term; the grounds for objecting to a proposed recognition of a traditional term; the scope of the protection, including the relationship with trade marks, protected traditional terms, protected designations of origin or geographical indications, homonyms, or certain wine grape names; the grounds for cancellation of a traditional term; the date of submission of an application or a request; the procedures to be followed in respect of an application for the protection of a traditional term, including scrutiny by the Commission, objection procedures and the procedures on cancellation and modification and in respect of the conditions under which traditional terms may be used on products from third countries and provide for related derogations.~~

- (72a) In order to ensure the legitimate rights of producers or operators, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the type of applicants that may apply for the protection of a traditional term; the conditions of validity of an application for recognition of a traditional term; the grounds for objecting to a proposed recognition of a traditional term; the scope of the protection, including the relationship with trade marks, protected traditional terms, protected designations of origin or geographical indications, homonyms, or certain wine grape names; the grounds for cancellation of a traditional term; the date of submission of an application or a request; and the procedures to be followed in respect of an application for the protection of a traditional term, including scrutiny by the Commission, objection procedures and the procedures on cancellation and modification.
- (72b) In order to take into account the specificities in trade between the Union and certain third countries, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the conditions under which traditional terms may be used on products from third countries and providing for related derogations.
- (73) The description, designation and presentation of products of the wine sector covered by this Regulation can have significant effects on their marketability. Differences between the laws of the Member States on the labelling of products of the wine sector may impede the smooth functioning of the internal market. Rules should therefore be laid down which take into account the legitimate interests of consumers and producers. For this reason, it is appropriate to provide for Union rules on labelling and presentation.

- (74) In order to ensure compliance with existing labelling practices, ~~with horizontal rules related to labelling and presentation, and to consider the specificities of the wine sector; in order to ensure the efficiency of the certification, approval and verification procedures and the legitimate interests of operators and that economic operators are not prejudiced~~ the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of exceptional circumstances justifying omitting reference to the terms “protected designation of origin” or “protected geographical indication”; ~~in respect of the presentation and use of labelling particulars other than those provided for in this Regulation; certain compulsory particulars; optional particulars; and presentation; in respect of the necessary measures as regards labelling and presentation of wines bearing a designation of origin or a geographical indication, whose designation of origin or geographical indication meets the necessary requirements; in respect of wine placed on the market and labelled before 1 August 2009; and in respect of derogations on labelling and presentation.~~
- (74a) In order to take into account the specificities of the wine sector, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the presentation and use of labelling particulars other than those provided for in this Regulation; certain compulsory and optional particulars; and presentation.
- (74b) In order to ensure the legitimate interests of operators, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of temporary labelling and presentation of wines bearing a designation of origin or a geographical indication where that designation of origin or geographical indication meets the necessary requirements.
- (74c) In order to ensure that economic operators are not prejudiced, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of transitional provisions as regards wine placed on the market and labelled in accordance with the relevant rules applying before 1 August 2009.

(74d) In order to take into account the specificities in trade in wine sector products between the Union and certain third countries, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the derogations from the rules on labelling and presentation as regards products to be exported where required by the legislation of the third country concerned.

~~(75) Provisions concerning wine should be applied in the light of the agreements concluded under Article 218 of the Treaty.~~

~~(76) It is appropriate to lay down rules for the classification of wine grape varieties, according to which Member States producing more than 50 000 hectolitres per year continue to be responsible for classifying the wine grape varieties from which wine may be made on their territories. Certain wine grape varieties should be excluded.~~

~~(77) It is appropriate to determine certain oenological practices and restrictions for the production of wine, in particular as regards coupage and the use of certain types of grape must, grape juice and fresh grapes originating in third countries. In order to meet the international standards, for further oenological practices, the Commission should as a general rule base itself on the oenological practices recommended by the International Organisation of Vine and Wine (OIV).~~

~~(8377a)~~ Specific instruments will still be needed after the end of the quota system to ensure a fair balance of rights and obligations between sugar undertakings and sugar beet growers. Therefore, the standard provisions governing written agreements within the trade concluded between them should be established.

~~(78) For the wine sector, Member States should be allowed to limit or to exclude the use of certain oenological practices and be allowed to keep more stringent restrictions for wines produced in their territory, as well as permit the experimental use of unauthorised oenological practices under conditions to be defined.~~

(78a) To enable beet growers to complete their adaptation for the far-reaching reform carried out in the sugar sector in 2006 and to continue the efforts to become competitive that have been undertaken since then, the present quota system should be extended until it is abolished at the end of the 2016/2017 marketing year.

*(8478a1) In order to ~~taking take~~ into account the ~~specificities~~ special characteristics of the sugar sector ~~and the interests of all parties~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~such~~ *updating the technical definitions concerning the sugar sector; updating the purchase terms for agreements within the trade for buying sugar beet and sugar cane, in particular as regards the conditions governing the purchase, delivery, taking over and payment of beet; and further rules on the determination of gross weight, tare and sugar content of sugar delivered to an undertaking and on sugar pulp.

(78a1a) The considerable and recurrent tensions observed on the European sugar market call for a mechanism that, for as long as necessary, releases non-quota sugar onto the internal market applying the same conditions as for quota sugar. This mechanism should, at the same time, permit additional imports at zero duty in order to ensure sufficient raw materials are available on the Union sugar market and to preserve the structural balance of this market.

(78a2) In order to take into account the special characteristics of the sugar sector and to ensure that the interests of all parties are duly taken into account, and given the need to prevent any disturbance of the market, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of delivery contracts and purchase terms; updating the purchase terms for agreements within the trade laid down in this Regulation; and the criteria to be applied by the sugar undertakings when allocating among beet sellers the quantities of beet to be covered by pre-sowing delivery contracts.

(78a3) In order to take account of the decisions taken by the Member States, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of adjustment of the national and regional quotas for the production of sugar, isoglucose and inulin syrup set out in this Regulation.

(78a4) In order to take account of technical developments, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of establishing a list of products for the production of which industrial sugar, industrial isoglucose or industrial inulin syrup may be used.

(78a5) In order to ensure that approved undertakings producing or processing sugar, isoglucose or inulin syrup comply with their obligations, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the granting and the withdrawal of approval for such undertakings, as well as the criteria for administrative penalties.

(78a5a) In order to take into account the special characteristics of the sugar sector and to ensure that the interests of all parties are duly taken into account, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the meaning of terms for the operation of the quota system; and the conditions governing sales to outermost regions.

(78a6) In order to ensure that the beet growers are closely associated with a decision to carry forward a certain quantity of production, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of carry-forward of sugar.

(8078b) For a better management of wine-growing potential Member States should communicate to the Commission an inventory of their production potential based on the vineyard register. To encourage Member States to communicate the inventory, support for restructuring and conversion is should be limited to those Member States which have communicated the inventory.

- (79) In order to provide for a satisfactory level of traceability of the products concerned, in particular in the interest of consumer protection, ~~provision should be made for~~ all the wine sector products covered by this Regulation should be required to have an accompanying document when circulating within the Union.
- ~~(80) For a better management of wine-growing potential Member States should communicate to the Commission an inventory of their production potential based on the vineyard register. To encourage Member States to communicate the inventory, support for restructuring and conversion is limited to those Member States which have communicated the inventory.~~
- ~~(81) In order to facilitate the monitoring and the verification of the production potential by Member States, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the scope and content of the vineyard register and exemptions.~~
- (82) In order to facilitate the transport of wine products and verification thereof by Member States, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of rules on the accompanying document; ~~and its use usage and the exemptions to the obligation to use such a document; establish on~~ the conditions under which an accompanying document is to be regarded as certifying protected designations of origin or geographical indications; ~~establish on~~ an obligation to keep a register ~~and on its use; on~~ specifying who shall keep a register and ~~on~~ exemptions from the obligation to keep a register; ~~indicate and on~~ the operations to be included in the register; ~~and establish rules concerning the use of accompanying documents and registers.~~
- ~~(83) Specific instruments will still be needed after the end of the quota system to ensure a fair balance of rights and obligations between sugar undertakings and sugar beet growers. Therefore, the standard provisions governing agreements between them should be established.~~

~~(84) In order to taking into account the specificities of the sugar sector and the interests of all parties, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of such agreements, in particular as regards the conditions governing the purchase, delivery, taking over and payment of beet.~~

~~(9084a)~~In the absence of Union legislation on formalised, written contracts, Member States may, within their own contract law systems, make the use of such contracts compulsory provided that in doing so the Union law is respected and in particular that the proper functioning of the internal market and the common market organisation is respected. Given the diversity of situations across the Union, in the interests of subsidiarity, such a decision should remain with Member States. However, in the milk and milk products sector, to ensure appropriate minimum standards for such contracts and good functioning of the internal market and the common market organisation, some basic conditions for the use of such contracts should be laid down at the Union level. All such basic conditions should be freely negotiated. Since some dairy co-operatives may have rules with similar effect in their statutes, in the interests of simplicity they should be exempted from the requirement for a contract. In order to ~~ensure that any~~ strengthen the effectiveness of such system ~~is effective~~ Member States should decide whether it should apply equally where intermediate parties collect milk from farmers to deliver to processors.

- (84b) In order to ensure the viable development of production and thus a fair standard of living for dairy farmers, their bargaining power vis-à-vis processors should be strengthened which should result in a fairer distribution of value-added along the supply chain. Therefore, in order to attain these CAP objectives, a provision should be adopted pursuant to Articles 42 and 43(2) of the Treaty to allow producer organisations constituted by dairy farmers or their associations to negotiate jointly contract terms, including price, for some or all of its members' raw milk production with a dairy. In order to maintain effective competition on the dairy market, this possibility should be subject to appropriate quantitative limits. So as not to undermine the effective functioning of cooperatives and for the sake of clarity, it should be specified that, when a farmer's membership of a cooperative entails an obligation, in respect of all or a part of that farmer's milk production, to deliver raw milk, the conditions of which are set out in the cooperative's statutes or in the rules and decisions based thereon, those conditions should not be subject to a negotiation through a producer organisation.*
- (84c) In view of the importance of protected designations of origin and protected geographical indications, notably for vulnerable rural regions, and in order to ensure the value added and to maintain the quality of, in particular, cheeses benefiting from protected designations of origin and protected geographical indications, and in the context of the expiring milk quota system, Member States should be allowed to apply rules to regulate the entire supply of such cheese produced in the defined geographical area at the request of an interbranch organisation, a producer organisation or a group as defined in Regulation (EU) No 1151/2012. Such a request should be supported by a large majority of milk producers representing a large majority of the volume of milk used for that cheese and, in the case of interbranch organisations and groups, by a large majority of cheese producers representing a large majority of the production of that cheese.*
- (84d) In order to follow developments in the market, the Commission needs timely information on volumes of raw milk delivered. Therefore, provision should be made to ensure that the first purchaser communicates such information to the Member States on a regular basis and that the Member State notifies the Commission thereof.*

- (85) Producer organisations and their associations can play useful roles in concentrating supply and promoting best practices. Interbranch organisations can play important part in allowing dialogue between actors in the supply chain, and in promoting best practices and market transparency. ~~Existing rules on the definition and recognition of such organisations and their associations covering certain sectors should therefore be harmonised, streamlined and extended to provide for recognition on request under statutes set out in EU law in all sectors.~~
- (85a) Existing rules on the definition and recognition of producer organisations, their associations, and interbranch organisations should therefore be harmonised, streamlined and extended to provide for possible recognition on request under statutes set out in accordance with this Regulation for certain sectors. In particular the recognition criteria and statutes of producer organisations should ensure that such bodies are formed on the initiative of producers and controlled in accordance with rules enabling the producer members to scrutinise democratically their organisation and its decisions.
- (86) Existing provisions in various sectors, boosting the impact of producer organisations their associations and interbranch organisations by permitting Member States, under certain conditions, to extend certain rules of such organisations to non-member operators have proved effective and should be harmonised, streamlined and extended to all sectors.
- (87) ~~As regards live plants, beef and veal, pigmeat, sheepmeat and goatmeat, eggs and poultrymeat p~~Provision should be made for the possibility of adopting certain measures to facilitate the adjustment of supply to market requirements which may contribute to stabilising the markets and to ensuring a fair standard of living for the agricultural community concerned.

- (88) In order to encourage action by producer organisation, ~~their~~ associations of producer organisation and interbranch organisations to facilitate the adjustment of supply to market requirements, with the exception of action relating to withdrawal from the market, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of measures ~~concerning live plants, beef and veal, pigmeat, sheepmeat and goatmeat, eggs and poultrymeat sectors to~~ improveing quality; promoteing better organisation of production, processing and marketing; facilitateing the recording of market price trends; and permitting the establishment of short and long-term forecasts on the basis of the means of production used.
- (89) In order to improve the operation of the market for wines, Member States should be able to implement decisions taken by interbranch organisations. The scope of such decisions should, however, exclude practices which could distort competition.
- (89a) Whereas the use of formalised written contracts in the milk sector is covered by separate provisions, the use of such contracts may also help to reinforce the responsibility of operators in other sector and increase their awareness of the need to better take into account the signals of the market, to improve price transmission and to adapt supply to demand, as well as to help to avoid certain unfair commercial practices. In the absence of Union legislation concerning such contracts, Member States may, within their own contract law systems, decide to make the use of such contracts compulsory provided that in doing so Union law is respected and in particular that the proper functioning of the internal market and the common market organisation is respected.

- (89b) In order to ensure the viable development of production and thus to ensure a fair standard of living for producers in the beef and veal and olive oil sectors, as well as producers of certain arable crops, their bargaining power vis-à-vis downstream operators should be strengthened, thereby resulting in a fairer distribution of value added along the supply chain. To achieve these CAP objectives, recognised producer organisations should be able to negotiate, subject to quantitative limits, the terms of delivery contracts including prices, for some or all of their members' production, provided that those organisations pursue one or more of the objectives of concentrating supply, the placing on the market of the products produced by its members and optimising production costs. The pursuit of these objectives should lead to the integration of activities that are significant in terms of volume of production and in terms of cost of the production and placing of the product on the market and this integration should be likely to generate significant efficiencies so that the activities of the producer organisation overall contribute to the fulfilment of the objectives of Article 39 of the Treaty.*
- (89c) In order to ensure the added value, and to maintain the quality of, in particular, cured ham benefiting from a protected designation of origin or a protected geographical indication, Member States should be allowed, subject to strict conditions, to apply rules to regulate the supply of such cured ham, provided that such rules are supported by a large majority of the producers of such ham and, where appropriate, by the producers of pigs in the geographical area relating to that ham.*

~~(90) — In the absence of Union legislation on formalised, written contracts, Member States may, within their own contract law systems, make the use of such contracts compulsory provided that in doing so the Union law is respected and in particular that the proper functioning of the internal market and the common market organisation is respected. Given the diversity of situations across the Union, in the interests of subsidiarity, such a decision should remain with Member States. However, in the milk and milk products sector, to ensure appropriate minimum standards for such contracts and good functioning of the internal market and the common market organisation, some basic conditions for the use of such contracts should be laid down at the Union level. Since some dairy co-operatives may have rules with similar effect in their statutes, in the interests of simplicity they should be exempted from the requirement for a contract. In order to ensure that any such system is effective it should apply equally where intermediate parties collect milk from farmers to deliver to processors.~~

~~(91) — In order to ensure the rational development of production and thus a fair standard of living for dairy farmers, their bargaining power vis-à-vis processors should be strengthened which should result in a fairer distribution of value-added along the supply chain. Therefore, in order to attain these CAP objectives, a provision should be adopted pursuant to Articles 42 and 43(2) of the Treaty to allow producer organisations constituted by dairy farmers or their associations to negotiate contract terms, including price, for some or all of its members' production with a dairy. In order to maintain effective competition on the dairy market, this possibility should be subject to appropriate quantitative limits.~~

(92) The registration of all supply contracts regarding hops produced in the Union is a burdensome measure and should be discontinued.

- (93) In order to ensure that the objectives and responsibilities of producer organisations, associations of producer organisations, ~~and~~ interbranch organisations ~~and operator organisations~~ are clearly defined so as to contribute to the effectiveness of their actions without undue administrative burden and without undermining the principle of freedom of association in particular toward non-members of such organisations, to take into account the specificities of each sector, and to ensure the respect of competition and the good functioning of the common market organisation, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of rules on: the specific aims which may, ~~shall must~~ or ~~shall must~~ not be pursued by such organisations and associations and where applicable added to those laid down, including derogations from those listed in this Regulation; the rules of such organisations and associations, the statutes of organisations other than producer organisations, the specific conditions applicable to the statutes of producer organisations in certain sectors, including derogations, recognition the structure, ~~legal personality~~, membership period, size; democratic accountability and activities of such organisations and associations, the effects deriving from ~~recognition, the withdrawal of recognition, and~~ mergers; the conditions for recognition, withdrawal and suspension of recognition, the effects deriving thereof, as well as requirements to take remedial measures in the event of non-respect of the recognition criteria; transnational organisations and associations and the rules relating to administrative assistance in the case of transnational cooperation; the sectors subject to Member States authorisation to which outsourcing applies and the conditions and the nature of activities which may be outsourced and the provision of technical means by organisations or associations; the basis for calculation of minimum volume or value of marketable production of organisations and associations; rules on the calculation of the volume of raw milk covered by negotiations by a producer organisation, the acceptance of members who are not producers in the case of producer organisations and who are not producer organisations in the case of association of producer organisations;

the extension of certain rules of the organisations to non-members and the compulsory payment of subscriptions by non-members, including the use and allocation of that payment by those organisations and a list of stricter production rules which may be extended, further requirements as regards representativeness, the economic areas concerned, including Commission scrutiny of their definition, minimum periods during which the rules should be in force before their extension, the persons or organisations to whom the rules or contributions may be applied, and the circumstances in which the Commission may require that the extension of rules or compulsory contributions be refused or withdrawn.

~~(94) A single market involves a trading system at the external borders of the Union. That trading system should include import duties and export refunds and should, in principle, stabilise the Union market. The trading system should be based on the undertakings accepted under the Uruguay Round of multilateral trade negotiations and in bilateral agreements.~~

(95) Monitoring trade flows is foremost a matter of management which should be addressed in a flexible way. The decision on the introduction of licence requirements should be made taking account of the need for licences for the management of the markets concerned and, in particular, for monitoring the imports or exports of the products in question.

(96) In order to take into account ~~of~~ the international obligations of the Union and the applicable Union social, environmental and animal welfare standards, the need to monitor evolution of trade and market developments, ~~the needs of the markets concerned~~ and ~~when necessary for monitoring of~~ imports or exports, the need for sound market management and the need to reduce the administrative burden, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the list of the products ~~of sectors~~ subject to the presentation of an import or export licence; and the cases and situations where the presentation of an import or export licence is not required.

- (97) In order to ~~define the main~~ provide further elements of the licence system, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~acts to rules on:~~ define the rights and obligations deriving from the licence, its legal effects, ~~including the possibility of a~~ and the cases where a tolerance applies as regards the respect of the obligation to import or export the quantity mentioned in the licence or where the origin is to be indicated;, ~~and the indication of the origin and provenance where that is compulsory; provide that~~ the issue of an import licence or the release into free circulation ~~shall being~~ subject to the presentation of a document issued by a third country or an entity certifying inter alia the origin, the authenticity and the quality characteristics of the products; ~~adopt the rules applicable to~~ the transfer of the licence or, ~~as necessary, the~~ restrictions on ~~that is~~ transmissibility; additional conditions for import licences for hemp ~~adopt the rules necessary for the reliability and the efficiency of the licence system~~ and the ~~situations where a specific principle of~~ administrative assistance between Member States ~~is needed~~ to prevent or deal with cases of fraud and irregularities; and ~~determine~~ the cases and situations where the lodging of a security guaranteeing that the products are imported or exported within the period of validity of the licence is or is not required.
- (98) The essential elements of customs duties applicable to agricultural products reflecting WTO agreements and bilateral agreements are laid down in the Common Customs Tariff. The Commission should be empowered to adopt measures for the detailed calculation of import duties pursuant to those essential elements.
- ~~(99) — In order to prevent or counteract adverse effects on the Union market which could result from imports of certain agricultural products, imports of such products should be subject to payment of an additional duty, if certain conditions are fulfilled.~~

- (100) The entry price system should be maintained for certain products. In order to ensure the efficiency of the entry price system, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~providing for inclusion a checking of the veracity of the declared price of a consignment using a flat-rate import value customs value against another value than the unit price and to provide the conditions under which the lodging of a security is required.~~
- (99100a) In order to prevent or counteract adverse effects on the Union market which could result from imports of certain agricultural products, imports of such products should be subject to payment of an additional duty, if certain conditions are fulfilled.
- (101) It is appropriate, under certain conditions, to open and administer import tariff quotas resulting from international agreements concluded in accordance with the Treaty or from other acts. The method of administration adopted should, for import tariff quotas, give due weight to the supply requirements of the existing and emerging Union production, processing and consumption market in terms of competitiveness, certainty and continuity of supply and the need to safeguard the equilibrium of the market.
- (101a) In order to carry out the undertakings under the agreements concluded during the Uruguay Round of multilateral trade negotiations concerning tariff rate quotas for import into Spain of 2 000 000 tonnes of maize and 300 000 tonnes of sorghum, and tariff rate quotas for import into Portugal of 500 000 tonnes of maize, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of establishing the provisions necessary for carrying out the tariff quota imports and, where appropriate, the public storage of the quantities imported by the paying agencies of the Member States concerned.

- (102) In order to ensure fair access to the quantities available, ~~the application of the agreements, commitments and rights of the Union,~~ and an equal treatment of operators within the import tariff quota, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~acts to:~~ determining the conditions and eligibility requirements that an operator has to fulfil to submit an application within the import tariff quota; ~~adopt provisions relating to establishing rules on~~ the transfer of rights between operators and ~~where~~ necessary the limitations to transfer within the management of the import tariff quota; making the participation in the import tariff quota subject to the lodging of a security; ~~adopt all the providing, where necessary, provisions~~ for any particular specificities, requirements or restrictions applicable to the tariff quota as set out in the international agreement or other act concerned.
- (103) Agricultural products may in certain cases benefit from special import treatment in third countries if the products comply with certain specifications and/or price conditions. Administrative cooperation between the authorities in the importing third country and the Union is necessary to ensure the correct application of such a system. To that end, the products should be accompanied by a certificate issued in the Union.
- (104) In order to ensure that products that are exported may benefit from a special treatment on import into a third country if certain conditions are respected, ~~in accordance with pursuant to international~~ agreements concluded by the Union in accordance with ~~Article 218 of the Treaty,~~ the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of requiring the competent authorities of the Member States, on request and after appropriate checks, to issue a document certifying that the conditions are met.
- (104a) In order to prevent illicit crops from disturbing the market for hemp for fibre, this Regulation should provide for checks on imports of hemp and hemp seed to ensure that such products offer certain guarantees with regard to the tetrahydrocannabinol content. In addition, imports of hemp seed intended for uses other than sowing should continue to be subject to a control system which provides for the authorisation of the importers concerned.*

- (104b) A quality policy is being followed throughout the Union as regards products of the hops sector. In the case of imported products, the provisions ensuring that only products complying with equivalent minimum quality characteristics are imported should be incorporated in this Regulation. In order to minimise the administrative burden, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the conditions under which obligations related to an attestation of equivalence and the labelling of packaging are not to apply.*
- (104c) The Union has concluded several preferential market access arrangements with third countries which allow those countries to export cane sugar to the Union under favourable conditions. The related provisions on the evaluation of the refiners' need for sugar for refining and, under certain conditions, the reservation of import licences to specialised users of significant quantities of imported raw cane sugar, which are considered to be full-time refiners in the Union, should be maintained for a certain period. In order to ensure that imported sugar for refining is refined in accordance with those requirements, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the use of terms for the operation of import arrangements; the conditions and eligibility requirements that an operator has to fulfil to lodge an application for an import licence, including the lodging of a security, and rules on administrative penalties to be charged.*
- (105) The customs duty system makes it possible to dispense with all other protective measures at the external borders of the Union. The internal market and duty mechanism could, in exceptional circumstances, prove to be inadequate. In such cases, in order not to leave the Union market without defence against disturbances that might ensue, the Union should be able to take all necessary measures without delay. Such measures should comply with the international commitments of the Union.
- (106) ~~The possibility of prohibiting the use of inward and outward processing arrangements should be provided for.~~ It is ~~thus~~ appropriate to enable suspension of the use of inward and outward processing arrangements in such situations where the Union market is disturbed or is liable to be disturbed by such arrangements.

- (107) ~~Provisions for granting r~~Refunds on exports to third countries, based on the difference between prices within the Union and on the world market, and falling within the limits set by the commitments made within the WTO, should be retained as a measure which may cover serve to safeguard the Union's participation in international trade in certain products ~~falling within to which~~ this Regulation applies when conditions of the internal market fall under the scope of those described for exceptional measures. Subsidised exports should be subject to limits in terms of value and quantity, and, without prejudice to the application of exceptional measures, the refund available should be zero.
- (108) Compliance with the limits in terms of value should be ensured at the time when the export refunds are fixed through the monitoring of payments under the rules relating to the European Agricultural Guarantee Fund. Monitoring can be facilitated by the compulsory advance fixing of export refunds, while allowing the possibility, in the case of differentiated refunds, of changing the specified destination within a geographical area to which a single export refund rate applies. In the case of a change of destination, the export refund applicable to the actual destination should be paid, with a ceiling on the amount applicable to the destination fixed in advance.
- (109) Compliance with the quantity limits should be ensured by a reliable and effective system of monitoring. To that end, the granting of export refunds should be made subject to an export licence. Export refunds should be granted up to the limits available, depending on the particular situation of each product concerned. Exceptions to that rule should be permitted only for processed products not listed in Annex I to the Treaties~~y~~, to which volume limits do not apply. Provision should be made for a derogation from strict compliance with management rules where exports benefiting from export refunds are not likely to exceed the quantity laid down.
- (110) In the case of the export of live bovine animals, ~~provision should be made whereby~~ export refunds should be ~~are~~ granted and paid only if the provisions established in Union legislation concerning animal welfare, in particular those concerning the protection of animals during transport, are respected.

- ~~(111) In order to ensure equality of access to export refunds for exporters of agricultural products covered by this Regulation, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of applying certain rules for agricultural products to products exported in the form of processed goods.~~
- ~~(112) In order to encourage exporters to respect animal welfare conditions and to enable the competent authorities to verify correct expenditure of export refunds where this is conditional on respect for animal welfare requirements, the power to adopt certain acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission in respect of animal welfare requirements outside the customs territory of the Union, including the use of independent third parties.~~
- (113) In order to ensure ~~that operators respect their obligations when participating in tendering procedures~~ the proper functioning of the export refund system, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~designating the primary requirement for release of licence securities for tendered export refunds~~ the obligation to lodge a security guaranteeing the execution of operator's obligations.
- (114) In order to minimise the administrative burden for operators and authorities, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of acts to set thresholds below which the obligation to issue or present an export licence may not be required, designate destinations or operations where an exemption for the obligation to present an export licence can be justified and permit in justified situations export licences to be granted ex-post.

- (115) In order to ~~adhere to~~ address practical situations justifying full or partial eligibility to export refunds, and in order to help operators bridge the period between the application for and the final payment of the export refund, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~measures pertaining to rules on:~~ another date for the refund; ~~the consequences for the payment of the export refund when the product code or destination mentioned in a licence is not in conformity with the actual product or destination;~~ advance payment of export refunds including the conditions for the lodging and release of a security; ~~checks and additional~~ proof when doubts on the real destination of products exist including the opportunity for re-importation into the customs territory of the Union; destinations treated as exports from the Union, and inclusion of destinations within the customs territory of the Union eligible for export refunds.
- ~~(111)~~ 115a) In order to ensure equality of access to export refunds for exporters of agricultural products ~~covered by this Regulation listed in Annex I to the Treaty and of products processed thereof~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of applying certain rules for agricultural products to products exported in the form of processed goods.
- (116) In order to ensure that products benefiting from export refunds are exported from the customs territory of the Union and to avoid their return to that territory, and ~~in order~~ to minimise the administrative burden for operators in generating and submitting proof that refund products reached a country of destination for differentiated refunds, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of ~~measures pertaining to rules on:~~ the time limit by which the exit from the customs territory of the Union must be finalised, including the time for temporary re-entry; the processing that products benefiting from export refunds may undergo during that period; the proof of having reached a destination for differentiated refunds; the refund thresholds and conditions under which exporters may be exempted from such proof; and conditions for approval of proof of reaching a destination for differentiated refunds by independent third parties.

- (116a) In order to encourage exporters to respect animal welfare conditions and in order to enable the competent authorities to verify correct expenditure of export refunds where this is conditional on respect for animal welfare requirements, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of animal welfare requirements outside the customs territory of the Union, including the use of independent third parties.
- (117) In order to take account of the specificities of the different sectors, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of specific requirements and conditions for operators and of the products eligible for an export refund ~~including, in particular, the definition and characteristics of the products~~, and the establishment of coefficients for the purposes of calculating export refunds taking into account the ageing process of certain spirit drinks obtained from cereals.
- ~~(118) In order to prevent illicit crops from disturbing the market for hemp for fibre, this Regulation should provide for checks on imports of hemp and hemp seed to ensure that such products offer certain guarantees with regard to the tetrahydrocannabinol content. In addition, imports of hemp seed intended for uses other than sowing should continue to be subject to a control system which provides for the authorisation of the importers concerned.~~
- (119) Minimum export prices for flowering bulbs are no longer useful and should be abolished.
- (120) In accordance with Article 42 of the Treaty the provisions of the Treaty concerning competition ~~shall~~ apply to production of and trade in agricultural products only to the extent determined by Union legislation within the framework of Article 43(2) ~~and (3)~~ of the Treaty and in accordance with the procedure laid down therein.

(120a) In view of the specificities of the agricultural sector and its reliance on the good functioning of the entire food supply chain, including effective application of competition rules on all related sectors throughout the whole food chain, which can be highly concentrated, special attention should be dedicated to the application of competition rules as set out in Article 42 of the Treaty. To that end, there is a need for close cooperation between the Commission and the competition authorities of the Member States. Moreover, Guidelines adopted by the Commission, where appropriate, are a suitable instrument to provide guidance to undertakings and other stakeholders concerned.

(121) It should be provided that t~~The~~ rules on competition relating to the agreements, decisions and practices referred to in Article 101 of the Treaty and to the abuse of dominant positions ~~should be~~ applied to the production of, and trade in, agricultural products, in so far as their application does not jeopardise the attainment of the objectives of the CAP.

(122) A special approach should be allowed in the case of farmers' or producer organisations or their associations the objective of which is the joint production or marketing of agricultural products or the use of joint facilities, unless such joint action excludes competition or jeopardises the attainment of the objectives of Article 39 of the Treaty.

(123) Without prejudice to regulation of supply for certain products, such as cheese and ham benefitting from a protected designation of origin or a protected geographic indication, or wine, which is governed by a specific set of rules, Aa special approach should be followed as regards certain activities of interbranch organisations on the condition that they do not lead to the partitioning of markets, affect the sound operation of the CMO, distort or eliminate competition, entail the fixing of prices or quotas, or create discrimination.

(124) The proper ~~working~~ functioning of the ~~single~~ internal market would be jeopardised by the granting of national aid. Therefore, the provisions of the Treaty governing State aid should, as a general rule, apply to agricultural products. In certain situations exceptions should be allowed. Where such exceptions apply, the Commission should be in a position to draw up a list of existing, new or proposed national aid, to make appropriate observations to the Member States and to propose suitable measures.

~~(127)~~(124a) The provisions on the grubbing-up premium and certain measures under wine support programmes should not by themselves preclude national payments for the same purposes.

(125) Due to the specific economic situation of the production and marketing of reindeer and reindeer products, Finland and Sweden should continue to grant national payments in that regard.

~~(128)~~(125a) In Finland sugar beet growing is subject to particular geographical and climatic conditions which will adversely affect the sector beyond the general effects of the sugar reform. That Member State should therefore be authorised, on a permanent basis, to make national payments to its sugar beet growers.

(125b) Member States should be able to make national payments for co-financing the apiculture measures laid down under this Regulation as well as for the protection of apiaries disadvantaged by structural or natural conditions or under economic development programmes except for those allocated for production or trade.

(125c) Member States participating in the schemes to improve access to food for children should be able in addition to Union aid to grant national aid for the supply of the products and for certain related costs.

(126) In order to address justified cases of crisis even after the end of the transitional period, the distillation support measure provided for under the support programmes in 2012, Member States should be able to make national payments for crisis distillation within an overall budgetary limit of 15 % of the respective value of the Member State's relevant yearly budget for its national support programme. Such national payments should be notified to the Commission and approved under this Regulation before being granted.

~~(127) The provisions on the grubbing-up premium and certain measures under wine support programmes should not by themselves preclude national payments for the same purposes.~~

~~(128) In Finland sugar beet growing is subject to particular geographical and climatic conditions which will adversely affect the sector beyond the general effects of the sugar reform. That Member State should therefore be authorised, on a permanent basis, to make national payments to its sugar beet growers.~~

(129) Member States should be allowed to continue to make national payments for nuts as currently provided for under Article 120 of Regulation (EC) No 73/2009 in order to cushion the effects of decoupling of the former Union aid scheme for nuts. For clarity, since that Regulation is to be repealed, the those national payments should be provided for in this Regulation.

~~(130) Restrictions to free circulation resulting from the application of measures intended to combat the spread of animal diseases could cause difficulties on the market in one or more Member States. Experience shows that serious market disturbances such as a significant drop in consumption or in prices may be attributed to a loss in consumer confidence due to public health or animal or plant health risks. In the light of experience measures attributable to a loss in consumer confidence should be extended to plant products.~~

- ~~(131) The exceptional market support measures for beef and veal, milk and milk products, pigmeat, sheepmeat and goatmeat, eggs and poultrymeat should be directly related to health and veterinary measures adopted in order to combat the spread of disease. They should be taken at the request of Member States in order to avoid serious disruption on the markets.~~
- (132) Special intervention measures should be provided in order to react efficiently and effectively against threats of market disturbance. The scope of those measures should be defined.
- (133) In order to react efficiently and effectively against threats of market disturbance caused by significant price rises or falls on internal or external markets or ~~any~~ other ~~factors affecting the market~~ events and circumstances significantly disturbing or threatening to disturb the market, where that situation or its effects on the market is likely to continue or deteriorate, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the ~~necessary~~ necessary to address that market situation, while respecting any obligations resulting from international agreements and provided that any other measures available under this Regulation appear insufficient, for the sector concerned including, ~~where necessary~~, measures to extend or modify the scope, duration or other aspects of other measures provided for under this Regulation, or provide for export refunds, or suspend import duties in whole or in part including for certain quantities ~~and~~/or periods as necessary.
- (133a) Restrictions to free circulation resulting from the application of measures intended to combat the spread of animal diseases could cause difficulties on the market in one or more Member States. Experience shows that serious market disturbances such as a significant drop in consumption or in prices may be attributed to a loss in consumer confidence due to public health or animal or plant health risks. In the light of experience, measures attributable to a loss in consumer confidence should be extended to plant products.*

- (133b) The exceptional market support measures for beef and veal, milk and milk products, pigmeat, sheepmeat and goatmeat, eggs and poultrymeat should be directly related to health and veterinary measures adopted in order to combat the spread of disease. They should be taken at the request of Member States in order to avoid serious disruption on the markets.*
- (133c) In order to react effectively to exceptional circumstances, the power to adopt certain acts should be delegated to the Commission in respect of extending the list of product, as set out in this Regulation, for which exceptional support measures may be adopted.*
- (134) The Commission should be authorised to adopt the necessary measures to solve specific problems in case of emergency.
- (134a) Reacting efficiently and effectively against threats of market disturbance may be of particular importance for the milk sector. Similarly, specific problems in case of emergency may arise. It is therefore necessary to emphasise that the adoption by the Commission of the above mentioned measures in case of market disturbance, including market imbalance, or those needed to solve specific problems in case of emergency may address in particular the milk sector.*
- (134b) In order to respond to periods of severe market imbalances, as exceptional measures specific categories of collective actions by private operators may be appropriate in order to stabilise the concerned sectors, subject to precise safeguards, limits and conditions. Where such actions could fall under the scope of Article 101(1) of the Treaty, the Commission should be enabled to provide a time-limited derogation. These actions should however be complementary to Union action in the framework of public intervention and private storage or of exceptional measures envisaged by this Regulation, and should not impair the functioning of the single market.*

- (135) It should be possible to require ~~u~~Undertakings, Member States and/or third countries ~~may be required~~ to submit communications for the purposes of applying this Regulation, monitoring, analysing and managing the market in agricultural products, ensuring market transparency, the proper functioning of CAP measures, of checking, controlling, monitoring, evaluating and auditing CAP measures, and ~~implementing~~ complying with the requirements laid down in international agreements, including notification requirements under those agreements. In order to ensure a harmonised, streamlined and simplified approach, the Commission should be empowered to adopt all the necessary measures regarding communications. In so doing it should take into account the data needs and synergies between potential data sources.
- (136) In order to ensure the integrity of information systems and to ensure the authenticity and legibility of documents and associated data transmitted ~~make communications fast, efficient, accurate, and cost effective~~, the power to adopt certain acts ~~in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty~~ should be delegated to the Commission in respect of the nature and type of the information to be notified; the categories of data to be processed and maximum retention periods; the purpose of processing, in particular in the event of the publication of such data and their transfer to third countries; the methods of notification; the rules related to the access rights to the information or information systems made available; and the conditions ~~and means~~ of publication of the information.

(137) Union legislation concerning the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, in particular Directive 95/46/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council ~~of 24 October 1995 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data~~¹⁴ and Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council ~~of 18 December 2000 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by the Community institutions and bodies and on the free movement~~¹⁵ of such data ~~is~~^{are} applicable.

(138) Funds should be transferred from the Reserve for crises in the agricultural sector under the conditions and procedure referred to in Article 24 of Regulation (EU) No xx/yyyy [HZ Regulation] and paragraph ~~14~~ [19c] of the Interinstitutional Agreement between the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission on budgetary discipline, cooperation in budgetary matters and on sound financial management¹⁷, and it should be clarified that this Regulation is the applicable basic act.

Duration

The scheme of authorisations for vine plantings established in this Chapter shall apply between 1 January 2016 and 31 December 2030, with a mid-term review to be undertaken by the Commission to evaluate the operation of the scheme and if appropriate, make proposals.

SECTION 1

Management of the scheme of authorisations for vine plantings

Article 54a

Authorisations

- 1. Vines of wine grape varieties classified in accordance with Article 63(2) may only be planted or replanted if an authorisation is granted in accordance with Articles 54c, 54e and 54h under the conditions laid down in this Chapter.

A producer who has not used an authorisation granted during its period of validity shall be subject to administrative penalties as provided for in Article 89(3a) of [proposal COM(2011) 628 final/2].

4. This Chapter shall not apply to planting or replanting of areas intended for experimental purposes or for graft nurseries, to areas whose wine or vine products are intended solely for the consumption by the wine-grower's household or to areas to be newly planted as a result of compulsory purchases in the public interest adopted under national legislation.

Article 54b

Safeguard mechanism for new plantings

1. Member States shall make available each year authorisations for new plantings corresponding to 1% of the total area actually planted with vines in their territory, as measured on 31 July of the previous year.

 - (b) limit the issuing of authorisations at regional level, for specific areas eligible for the production of wines with a protected designation of origin, for areas eligible for the production of wines with a protected geographical indication, or for areas without a geographical indication.

Any of the limitations referred to in points (a) and (b) shall contribute to an orderly growth of vine plantings, shall be set above 0%, and shall be justified on one or more of the following specific grounds:

- (a) the need to avoid a well-demonstrated risk of oversupply of wine products in relation to market prospects for those products, not exceeding what is necessary to satisfy this need;
 - (b) the need to avoid a well-demonstrated risk of significant devaluation of a particular protected designation of origin or a protected geographical indication.
3. Member States shall make public any decisions adopted pursuant to paragraph 2, which shall be duly justified. Member States shall notify the Commission forthwith of those decisions and justifications.

- (d) where duly justified, one or more of the criteria referred to in paragraph 2 provided that they are applied in an objective and non-discriminatory manner.*

2. If the total area covered by the eligible applications referred to in paragraph 1, in a given year exceeds the area made available by the Member State, authorisations shall be granted according to a pro-rata distribution of hectares to all applicants on the basis of the area for which they have requested the application. Such granting may also be partially or completely made according to one or more of the following objective and non-discriminatory priority criteria:

- (b) areas where vineyards contribute to the preservation of the environment;*

- 2. Member States may grant the authorisation referred to in paragraph 1 to producers undertaking to grub up an area planted with vines if the grubbing-up of the pledged area is carried out at the latest at the end of the fourth year from the date on which new vines have been planted.*

3. The authorisation referred to in paragraph 1 shall be used on the same holding on which the grubbing-up was undertaken. Member States may, in areas eligible for the production of protected designations of origin or protected geographical indications, restrict the replanting, on the basis of a recommendation from a professional organisation in accordance with Article 54d, to vines complying with the same protected designation of origin or geographical indication specification as the area grubbed up.

In duly justified cases, Member States may decide on the basis of objective and non-discriminatory criteria that the condition in Article 108a(1)(c) is fulfilled by limiting the number of interbranch organisations on a regional or national level if so provided for by national rules in place before 1 January 2014 and where this does not impair the proper functioning of the single market.

2. ~~For interbranch organisations in the olive oil and table olive and tobacco sectors, the specific aim referred to in point (c) of paragraph 1 may also include at least one of the following objectives:~~

Article 110

Extension of rules

1. In cases where a recognised producer organisation, a recognised association of producer organisations or a recognised interbranch organisation operating in a specific economic area or economic areas of a Member State is considered to be representative of the production of or trade in or processing of a given product, the Member State concerned may, at the request of that organisation, make binding for a limited period of time some of the agreements, decisions or concerted practices agreed on within that organisation on other operators acting in the economic area or areas in question, whether individuals or groups and not belonging to the organisation or association.
2. An “economic area” shall mean a geographical zone made up of adjoining or neighbouring production regions in which production and marketing conditions are homogeneous.
3. An organisation or association shall be deemed representative where, in the economic area or areas concerned of a Member State:
 - (a) it accounts for, as a proportion of the volume of production or of trade in or of processing of the product or products concerned:
 - (i) for producer organisations in the fruit and vegetables sector, at least 60%, or
 - (ii) in other cases, at least two thirds, and
 - (b) it accounts for, in the case of producer organisations, more than 50% of the producers concerned.

However, in the case of interbranch organisations, where the determination of the proportion of the volume of production, or of trade in, or of processing of the product or products concerned gives rise to practical difficulties, a Member State may lay down national rules for determining the specified level of representativeness referred to in point (a)(ii) of the first subparagraph.

Where the request for extension of its rules to other operators covers more than one economic area, the organisation or association shall demonstrate the minimum level of representativeness as defined in the first subparagraph for each of the branches it groups in each of the economic areas concerned.

4. The rules for which extension to other operators may be requested as provided in paragraph 1 shall have one of the following aims:
- (a) production and market reporting;
 - (b) stricter production rules than those laid down in Union or national rules;
 - (c) drawing up of standard contracts which are compatible with Union rules;
 - (d) rules on marketing;
 - (e) rules on protecting the environment;
 - (f) measures to promote and exploit the potential of products;
 - (g) measures to protect organic farming as well as designations of origin, quality labels and geographical indications;
 - (h) research to add value to the products, in particular through new uses which do not pose a threat to public health;
 - (i) studies to improve the quality of products;
 - (j) research, in particular into methods of cultivation permitting reduced use of plant protection or animal health products and guaranteeing conservation of the soil and conservation or improvement of the environment;
 - (k) definition of minimum qualities and definition of minimum standards of packing and presentation;
 - (l) use of certified seed and monitoring of product quality.
 - (m) rules on animal health, plant health or food safety.
 - (n) rules on the management of by-products.

Those rules shall not cause any damage to other operators in the Member State concerned or the Union and shall not have any of the effects listed in Article 145(4) or be otherwise incompatible with Union law or national rules in force.

4a. The extension of the rules referred to in paragraph 1 shall be brought to the attention of operators by publication in full in an official publication of the Member State concerned.

4b. Member States shall inform the Commission of any decisions taken under this Article.

Article 111

Financial contributions of non-members

Where rules of a recognised producer organisation, a recognised association of producer organisations or a recognised interbranch organisation are extended under Article 110 and the activities covered by those rules are in the general economic interest of ~~persons~~ economic operators whose activities relate to the products concerned, the Member State which has granted recognition may decide, after consultation of the relevant stakeholders, that individuals economic operators or groups which are not members of the organisation but which benefit from those activities shall pay the organisation all or part of the financial contributions paid by its members to the extent that such contributions are intended to cover costs directly incurred as a result of pursuing the activities in question.

Article 113

Marketing rules to improve and stabilise the operation of the common market in wines

- I.* In order to improve and stabilise the operation of the common market in wines, including the grapes, musts and wines from which they derive, producer Member States may lay down marketing rules to regulate supply, particularly by way of decisions taken by the interbranch organisations recognised under Articles 108 and 108a.

Such rules shall be proportionate to the objective pursued and shall not:

- (a) relate to any transaction after the first marketing of the produce concerned;

Where the Member State decides that deliveries of the products covered by this Article by a producer to a processor must be covered by a written contract between the parties, it shall also decide which stage or stages of the delivery shall be covered by such a contract if delivery of the products concerned is made through one or more intermediaries.

Member States shall ensure that the provisions that they set in place under this Article do not impair the proper functioning of the internal market.

In the case described in the second subparagraph of this paragraph, the Member State may establish a mediation mechanism to cover cases in which no such contract can be concluded by mutual agreement, thereby ensuring fair contractual relations.

2. Any contract or offer for a contract referred to in paragraph 1 shall:
 - (a) be made in advance of the delivery,*
 - (b) be made in writing, and*
 - (c) include, in particular, the following elements:*
 - (i) the price payable for the delivery, which shall:*
 - be static and be set out in the contract, and/or*

 - (ii) the quantity and quality of the products concerned which may or must be delivered and the timing of such deliveries,
 - (iii) the duration of the contract, which may include either a definite duration or an indefinite duration with termination clauses,

 - (v) arrangements for collecting or delivering the agricultural products, and

4. All elements of contracts for the delivery of agricultural products concluded by producers, collectors, processors or distributors, including those elements referred to in paragraph 2(c), shall be freely negotiated between the parties.

Notwithstanding the first subparagraph, one or both of the following shall apply:

- (i) where a Member State decides to make written contracts for the delivery of agricultural products compulsory in accordance with paragraph 1 of this Article, it may establish a minimum duration, applicable only to written contracts between a producer and the first purchaser of the agricultural products. Such a minimum duration shall be at least six months and shall not impair the proper functioning of the internal market;

- (ii) where a Member State decides that the first purchaser of agricultural products must make the producer a written offer for a contract in accordance with paragraph 1, it may provide that the offer must include a minimum duration for the contract, set by national law for this purpose. Such a minimum duration shall be at least six months and shall not impair the proper functioning of the internal market.

The second subparagraph shall be without prejudice to the producer's right to refuse such a minimum duration provided that he does so in writing. In this case, the parties shall be free to negotiate all elements of the contract, including those elements referred to in paragraph 2(c).

5. Member States which make use of the options referred to in this Article shall ensure that the provisions set in place do not impair the proper functioning of the internal market.

Member States shall notify the Commission of how they apply any measures introduced under this Article.

3. For the purposes of this Article, references to producer organisations shall also include associations of such producer organisations recognised under Article 107.
4. For the purposes of applying point (c) of paragraph 2, the Commission shall publish, by such means as it considers appropriate, the volume of olive oil production in Member States.

For negotiations covering more than one Member State, the decision referred to in the first subparagraph shall be taken by the Commission without applying the procedure referred to in Article 162(2) or (3). In other cases, that decision shall be taken by the national competition authority of the Member State to which the negotiations relate.

Part I: Definitions concerning the rice sector

- I. The terms ‘paddy rice’, ‘husked rice’, ‘semi-milled rice’, ‘wholly milled rice’, ‘round grain rice’, ‘medium grain rice’, ‘long grain rice A or B’ and ‘broken rice’ shall be defined as follows:
1. (a) ‘Paddy rice’ means rice which has retained its husk after threshing.
 - (b) ‘Husked rice’ means paddy rice from which only the husk has been removed. Examples of rice falling within this definition are those with the commercial descriptions ‘brown rice’, ‘cargo rice’, ‘loonzain’ and ‘riso sbramato’.
 - (c) ‘Semi-milled rice’ means paddy rice from which the husk, part of the germ and the whole or part of the outer layers of the pericarp but not the inner layers have been removed.
 - (d) ‘Wholly milled rice’ means paddy rice from which the husk, the whole of the outer and inner layers of the pericarp, the whole of the germ in the case of long grain or medium grain rice and at least part thereof in the case of round grain rice have been removed, but in which longitudinal white striations may remain on not more than 10 % of the grains.
 2. (a) ‘Round grain rice’ means rice, the grains of which are of a length not exceeding 5,2 mm and of a length/width ratio of less than 2.
 - (b) ‘Medium grain rice’ means rice, the grains of which are of a length exceeding 5,2 mm but not exceeding 6,0 mm and of a length/width ratio no greater than 3.
 - (c) ‘Long grain rice’ means:
 - (i) long grain rice A, rice, the grains of which are of a length exceeding 6,0 mm and of ~~which the~~ length/width ratio ~~is~~ greater than 2 but less than 3;
 - (ii) long grain rice B, rice, the grains of which are of a length exceeding 6,0 mm and of ~~which the~~ length/width ratio ~~is~~ equal to or greater than 3.
 - (d) ‘Measurements of the grains’ means grain measurements ~~are taken~~ on wholly milled rice taken by the following method:
 - (i) take a sample representative of the batch;

- (ii) sieve the sample so as to retain only whole grains, including immature grains;
- (iii) carry out two measurements of 100 grains each and work out the average;
- (iv) express the result in millimetres, rounded off to one decimal place.

3. 'Broken rice' means grain fragments the length of which does not exceed three quarters of the average length of the whole grain.

II. As regards grains and broken grains which are not of unimpaired quality, the following definitions shall apply:

A. 'Whole grains' means grains from which only part of the end has been removed, irrespective of characteristics produced at each stage of milling.

B. 'Clipped grains' means grains from which the entire end has been removed.

C. 'Broken grains or fragments' means grains from which a part of the volume greater than the end has been removed; broken grains include:

large broken grains (pieces of grain of a length not less than half that of a grain, but not constituting a complete grain), medium broken grains (pieces of grain of a length not less than a quarter of the length of a grain but which are smaller than the minimum size of 'large broken grains'), fine broken grains (pieces of grain less than a quarter of the size of a grain but too large to pass through a sieve with a mesh of 1,4 mm), fragments (small pieces or particles of grain which can pass through a sieve with a mesh of 1,4 mm); split grains (pieces produced by a longitudinal split in the grain) come under this definition.

D. 'Green grains' means grains which are not fully ripened.

E. 'Grains showing natural malformation' means grains showing a natural malformation whether or not of hereditary origin, as compared with the morphological characteristics typical of the variety.

- G. 'Grains striated with red' means grains showing longitudinal red striations of differing intensity and shades, due to residues from the pericarp.
- H. 'Spotted grains' means grains showing a well-defined small circle of dark colour of more or less regular shape; spotted grains also include those which show slight black striations on the surface only; the striations and spots must not show a yellow or dark aureole.
- I. 'Stained grains' means grains which have undergone, on a small area of their surface, an obvious change in their natural colour; the stains may be of different colours (blackish, reddish, brown); deep black striations are also to be regarded as stains. If the colour of the stains is sufficiently marked (black, pink, reddish-brown) to be immediately visible and if they cover an area not less than half that of the grain, the grains must be considered to be yellow grains.
- J. 'Yellow grains' means grains which have undergone, totally or partially, otherwise than by drying, a change in their natural colour and have taken on a lemon or orange-yellow tone.
- K. 'Amber grains' means grains which have undergone, otherwise than by drying, a slight uniform change in colour over the whole surface; this change alters the colour of the grains to a light amber-yellow.

ANNEX IIIc

DETAILED RULES ON TRANSFERS OF SUGAR OR ISOGLUCOSE QUOTAS IN ACCORDANCE WITH ARTICLE 101K

POINT I

For the purpose of this Annex:

- (a) 'merger of undertakings' means the consolidation of two or more undertakings into a single undertaking;*
- (b) 'transfer of an undertaking' means the transfer or absorption of the assets of an undertaking having quota to one or more undertakings;*
- (c) 'transfer of a factory' means the transfer of ownership of a technical unit, including all the plant required to manufacture the product concerned, to one or more undertakings, resulting in the partial or total absorption of the production of the undertaking making the transfer;*
- (d) 'lease of a factory' means the leasehold contract of a technical unit including all the plant required for the manufacture of sugar, with a view to its operation, concluded for a period of at least three consecutive marketing years, which the parties agree not to terminate before the end of the third marketing year, with an undertaking which is established in the same Member State as the factory concerned, if, after the lease takes effect, the undertaking which rents the factory can be considered a solely sugar-producing undertaking for its entire production.*

POINT II

- 1. Without prejudice to point 2, in the event of the merger or transfer of sugar-producing undertakings or the transfer of sugar factories, the quota shall be adjusted as follows:*
 - (a) in the event of the merger of sugar-producing undertakings, the Member States shall allocate to the undertaking resulting from the merger a quota equal to the sum of the quotas allocated prior to the merger to the sugar-producing undertakings concerned;*
 - (b) in the event of the transfer of a sugar-producing undertaking, the Member State shall allocate the quota of the transferred undertaking to the transferee undertaking for the production of sugar or, if there is more than one transferee undertaking, the allocation shall be made in proportion to the sugar production absorbed by each of them;*
 - (c) in the event of the transfer of a sugar factory, the Member State shall reduce the quota of the undertaking transferring ownership of the factory and shall increase the quota of the sugar-producing undertaking or undertakings purchasing the factory in question by the quantity deducted in proportion to the production absorbed.*

2. Where a number of the sugar-beet or cane growers directly affected by one of the operations referred to in point 1 expressly show their willingness to supply their beet or cane to a sugar-producing undertaking which is not party to those operations, the Member State may make the allocation on the basis of the production absorbed by the undertaking to which they intend to supply their beet or cane.
3. In the event of closure, in circumstances other than those referred to in point 1, of:
 - (a) a sugar-producing undertaking,
 - (b) one or more factories of a sugar-producing undertaking.

The Member State may allocate the part of the quotas involved in such closure to one or more sugar-producing undertakings.

Also in the case referred to in point (b) of the first subparagraph, where some of the producers concerned expressly show their willingness to supply their beet or cane to a given sugar-producing undertaking, the Member State may allocate the proportion of the quotas corresponding to the beet or cane concerned to the undertaking which they intend to supply with those products.

4. Where the derogation referred to in Article 101(5) is invoked, the Member State concerned may require the beet growers and the sugar undertakings concerned by that derogation to include in their agreements within the trade special clauses enabling the Member State to apply points 2 and 3 of this SectionPoint.
5. In the event of the lease of a factory belonging to a sugar-producing undertaking, the Member State may reduce the quota of the undertaking offering the factory for rent and allocate the portion by which the quota was reduced to the undertaking which rents the factory in order to produce sugar in it.

If the lease is terminated during the period of three marketing years referred to in point I (d) the adjustment of quota under the first subparagraph of this point shall be cancelled retroactively by the Member State as at the date on which the lease took effect. However, if the lease is terminated by reason of force majeure, the Member State shall not be bound to cancel the adjustment.

6. Where a sugar-producing undertaking can no longer ensure that it meets its obligations under Union legislation towards the sugar-beet or cane producers concerned, and where that situation has been ascertained by the competent authorities of the Member State concerned, the latter may allocate for one or more marketing years the part of the quotas involved to one or more sugar-producing undertakings in proportion to the production absorbed.

7. Where a Member State grants a sugar producing undertaking price and outlet guarantees for processing sugar beet into ethyl alcohol, that Member State may, in agreement with that undertaking and the beet growers concerned, allocate all or part of the sugar production quotas to one or more other undertakings for one or more marketing years.

POINT III

In the event of the merger or transfer of isoglucose-producing undertakings or the transfer of an isoglucose-producing factory, the Member State may allocate the quotas involved for the production of isoglucose to one or more other undertakings, whether or not they have a production quota.

POINT IV

The measures taken pursuant to ~~Sections~~Points II and III may take effect only if the following conditions are met:

- (a) the interests of each of the parties concerned are taken into consideration;*
- (b) the Member State concerned considers that they are likely to improve the structure of the beet, cane and sugar-manufacturing sectors;*
- (c) they concern undertakings established in the same territory for which the quota is set in Annex IIIbi.*

POINT V

When the merger or transfer occurs between 1 October and 30 April of the following year, the measures referred to in ~~Sections~~Points II and III shall take effect for the current marketing year.

When the merger or transfer occurs between 1 May and 30 September of the same year, the measures referred to in ~~Sections~~Points II and III shall take effect for the following marketing year.

POINT VI

Where ~~Sections~~Points II and III are applied, Member States shall inform the Commission of the adjusted quotas not later than 15 days after the expiry of the periods referred to in ~~Section~~Point V.

- 4. Sugar undertakings producing a quantity of sugar lower than their quota beet for which they have signed pre-sowing delivery contracts under point (a) of Article 101(1a), shall distribute the quantity of beet corresponding to any additional production up to the amount of their quota among the beet sellers with whom they have signed pre-sowing delivery contracts within the meaning of point (a) of Article 101(1a).

ANNEX VII

OENOLOGICAL PRACTICES REFERRED TO IN ARTICLE 62

Part I

Enrichment, acidification and de-acidification in certain wine-growing zones

A. Enrichment limits

1. Where climatic conditions have made it necessary in certain winegrowing zones of the Union, the Member States concerned may allow to supplement the natural alcoholic strength by volume of fresh grapes, grape must, grape must in fermentation, new wine still in fermentation and wine obtained from wine grape varieties classifiable according to Article 63.
2. The increase in natural alcoholic strength by volume shall be achieved by means of the oenological practices referred to in Section B and shall not exceed the following limits:
 - (a) 3 % volume in wine-growing zone A ;
 - (b) 2 % volume in wine-growing zone B ;
 - (c) 1,5 % volume in wine-growing zones C .
3. In years when climatic conditions have been exceptionally unfavourable, Member States may request that the limit(s) laid down in point 2 be raised by 0,5 %. In response to such a request, the Commission under the powers as referred to in Article 68 shall adopt the implementing act as soon as possible. The Commission shall endeavour to take a decision within four weeks after the request has been submitted.

B. Enrichment processes

1. The increase in natural alcoholic strength by volume provided for in Section A shall only be effected:
 - (a) in respect of fresh grapes, grape must in fermentation or new wine still in fermentation, by adding sucrose, concentrated grape must or rectified concentrated grape must;

- (b) in respect of grape must, by adding sucrose, concentrated grape must or rectified concentrated grape must, or by partial concentration, including reverse osmosis;
 - (c) in respect of wine, by partial concentration through cooling.
- 2. The processes referred to in point 1 shall be mutually exclusive where wine or grape must is enriched with concentrated grape must or rectified concentrated grape must and an aid has been paid under Article 103y of Regulation (EC) No 1234/2007.
- 3. The addition of sucrose provided for in points 1(a) and (b) may only be performed by dry sugaring and only in the following areas:
 - (a) wine-growing zone A;
 - (b) wine-growing zone B;
 - (c) wine-growing zone C,

with the exception of vineyards in Italy, Greece, Spain, Portugal, Cyprus and vineyards in the French departments under jurisdiction of the courts of appeal of:

- Aix-en-Provence,
- Nîmes,
- Montpellier,
- Toulouse,
- Agen,

- Bastia.

However, enrichment by dry sugaring may be authorised by the national authorities as an exception in the abovementioned French departments. France shall notify the Commission and the other Member States forthwith of any such authorisations.

4. The addition of concentrated grape must or rectified concentrated grape must shall not have the effect of increasing the initial volume of fresh crushed grapes, grape must, grape must in fermentation or new wine still in fermentation by more than 11 % in wine-growing zone A, 8 % in wine-growing zone B and 6,5 % in wine-growing zone C.
5. The concentration of grape must or of wine subjected to the processes referred to in point 1:
 - (a) shall not have the effect of reducing the initial volume of these products by more than 20 %;
 - (b) shall, notwithstanding point (2)(c) of Section A, not increase the natural alcoholic strength of these products by more than 2 % volume.
6. The processes referred to in points 1 and 5 shall not raise the total alcoholic strength by volume of the fresh grapes, grape must, grape must in fermentation, new wine still in fermentation, or wine:
 - (a) in wine-growing zone A to more than 11,5 % volume;
 - (b) in wine-growing zone B to more than 12 % volume;
 - (c) in wine-growing zone C I to more than 12,5 % volume;
 - (d) in wine-growing zone C II to more than 13 % volume; and
 - (e) in wine-growing zone C III to more than 13,5 % volume.
7. By way of derogation from point 6, Member States may:
 - (a) in relation to red wine, raise the upper limit of total alcoholic strength by volume of the products referred to in point 6 to 12 % volume in wine-growing zone A and 12,5 % volume in winegrowing zone B;
 - (b) raise the total alcoholic strength by volume of the products referred to in point 6 for the production of wines with a designation of origin to a level to be determined by Member States.

C. Acidification and de-acidification

1. Fresh grapes, grape must, grape must in fermentation, new wine still in fermentation and wine may be subject to:
 - (a) de-acidification in wine-growing zones A, B and C I ;
 - (b) acidification and de-acidification in wine-growing zones C I, C II and C III (a), without prejudice to point 7 of this Section; or
 - (c) acidification in wine-growing zone C III (b).
2. Acidification of the products, other than wine, referred to in point 1 may be carried out only up to a limit of 1,50 g/l expressed as tartaric acid, or 20 milliequivalents per litre.
3. Acidification of wines may be carried out only up to a limit of 2,50 g/l expressed as tartaric acid, or 33,3 milliequivalents per litre.
4. De-acidification of wines may be carried out only up to a limit of 1 g/l expressed as tartaric acid, or 13,3 milliequivalents per litre.
5. Grape must intended for concentration may be partially de-acidified.
6. Notwithstanding point 1, in years when climatic conditions have been exceptional, Member States may authorise acidification of the products referred to in point 1 in wine-growing zones A and B, under the conditions referred to in points 2 and 3 of this Section.
7. Acidification and enrichment, except by way of derogation to be adopted by the Commission by means of delegated acts pursuant to Article 59(1), and acidification and de-acidification of one and the same product shall be mutually exclusive processes.

D. Processes

1. None of the processes referred to in Sections B and C, with the exception of the acidification and de-acidification of wines, shall be authorised unless carried out, under conditions to be determined by the Commission by means of delegated acts pursuant to Article 59(1), at the time when the fresh grapes, grape must, grape must in fermentation or new wine still in fermentation are being turned into wine or into any other wine sector beverage intended for direct human consumption other than sparkling wine or aerated sparkling wine in the wine-growing zone where the fresh grapes used were harvested.
2. The concentration of wines shall take place in the wine-growing zone where the fresh grapes used were harvested.
3. Acidification and de-acidification of wines shall take place only in the wine making undertaking and in the wine-growing zone where the grapes used to produce the wine in question were harvested.
4. Each of the processes referred to in points 1, 2 and 3 shall be notified to the competent authorities. The same shall apply in respect of the quantities of concentrated grape must rectified concentrated grape must or sucrose held in the exercise of their profession by natural or legal persons or groups of persons, in particular producers, bottlers, processors and merchants to be determined by the Commission by means of delegated acts pursuant to Article 59(1), at the same time and in the same place as fresh grapes, grape must, grape must in fermentation or wine in bulk. The notification of these quantities may, however, be replaced by entry in a goods inwards and stock utilisation register.
5. Each of the processes referred to in Sections B and C shall be recorded on the accompanying document, as provided for in Article 103, under cover of which the products having undergone the processes are put into circulation.
6. Those processes, subject to derogations justified by exceptional climatic conditions, shall not be carried out:

- (a) in wine-growing zone C after 1 January;
 - (b) in wine-growing zones A and B after 16 March, and
- they shall be carried out only for products of the grape harvest immediately preceding those dates.
7. Notwithstanding point 6, concentration by cooling and acidification and de-acidification of wines may be practised throughout the year.

STATEMENTS FOR THE COUNCIL MINUTES

Council Legal Service declaration on Article 43(3)

[to be inserted]

Commission declaration on marketing standards (linked to Article 59(1a))

The Commission is keenly aware of the sensitivity of extending marketing standards to sectors or products which currently are not subject to these rules under the sCMO Regulation.

Marketing standards should only apply to sectors where there are clear expectations of the consumers and when there is a need to improve the economic conditions for the production and marketing of specific products as well as to their quality, or to take into account technical progress or need for product innovation. They should also avoid administrative burden, be simply understandable for the consumers and help producers to easily communicate the characteristics and attributes of their products.

The Commission will take into account any duly justified request from Institutions or representative organisation, as well as the recommendations of International Bodies, but before using its power to include new products or sectors in paragraph 1 of Article 59 will be required to carefully assess the specificity of that sector and present a report to the European Parliament and the Council evaluating, in particular, the need of the consumer, the costs and administrative burdens for operators including the impact on the internal market and on international trade, as well as the benefits offered to producers and to the end consumer.

Commission declaration on sugar

In order to aim for a balanced market and a fluid supply of sugar to the Union market during the remaining period of sugar quotas, the Commission will have regard to the interests of both Union sugar beet growers and raw cane refiners in applying the temporary market management mechanism laid down in Article 101da of the sCMO Regulation.

Commission declaration on the European Price Monitoring Tool

The Commission recognises the importance of collecting and disseminating available data on price developments in the different steps of the food chain. To this end, the Commission has developed a Food Prices Monitoring Tool for Food Products, which draws from the combined food related price index data collected by National Statistical Offices. This tool aims at bringing together and making available price development along the food chain, and allows comparison of price developments for relevant agricultural products, for food industries and the relevant consumer products. This tool is under constant improvement and will aim to expand the range of food chain products it covers and in general to meet farmers' and consumers' need for more transparency and food price building.

The Commission shall report regularly to the European Parliament and to the Council on the activities of the European Price Monitoring Tool and the results of the latter's studies.
