NOTE

Subject: MONTHLY SUMMARY OF COUNCIL ACTS JUNE and JULY 2013

This document lists the acts adopted by the Council in June and July 2013.^{1 2}

It provides information on the adoption of legislative acts, including:

- the date of adoption,
- the relevant Council session,
- the number of the document adopted,
- the Official Journal reference,
- applicable voting rules, voting results and, where appropriate, explanations of vote and statements published in the minutes of the Council.

¹ With the exception of certain acts of limited scope such as procedural decisions, appointments, decisions of bodies set up by international agreements, specific budgetary decisions, etc.

² In the case of legislative acts adopted in the ordinary legislative procedure, there may be a difference between the date of the Council's meeting where the legislative act is adopted and the actual date of the act in question, since legislative acts adopted in the ordinary legislative procedure are only considered to have been adopted after signature by both the President of the Council and the President of the European Parliament and the Secretaries-General of the two institutions.

This document also contains information on the adoption of non-legislative acts that the Council has decided to make public.

This document is also available on the Council's website at:

<http://consilium.europa.eu/documents/legislative-transparency/monthly-summaries-of-council-acts>

Documents listed in the summary may be obtained from the public register of Council documents at: <http://consilium.europa.eu/documents/access-to-council-documents-public-register>

It should be noted that this document is exclusively for information purposes- only Council minutes are authentic. These are available on the Council's website at:

Directive 2013/29/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 June 2013 on the harmonisation of the laws of the Member States relating to the making available on the market of pyrotechnic articles (recast) Text with EEA relevance OJ L 178, 28.6.2013, p. 27–65 Statement by Bulgaria Bulgaria supports the adoption of the Directive of the European parliament and of the Council on the harmonisation of the laws of the Member States relating to the making available on the market of pyrotechnic articles. Nevertheless, Bulgaria regrets that the possibility for the manufacturer to appoint an authorised representative is not covered by any rules in this Directive. The absence of harmonised provisions governing this general right of the manufacturer could lead to divergent rules and practices in the Member States which, in turn, could create difficulties for economic operators. In order to minimise the negative effect of the absence of such rules Bulgaria considers it necessary to introduce the relevant reference provisions of Decision No 768/2008/EC in its national legislation.	PE-CONS 16/13	Qualified majority	All Member States in favour
Commission statement on the Competence of the Committee The Commission regrets the adoption of the Article 45(2b) that has the potential to create confusion and legal uncertainty. The role of the Committees which ensure control by Member States on the Commission's exercise of implementing powers is defined only by Regulation No (EU) 182/2011, adopted on the basis of Article 291, third paragraph, TFEU. Therefore, no other secondary legislative act can alter or would need to specify further this role. In particular, the rules of procedures of committees are adopted by the committees on the basis of Regulation No (EU) 182/2011. As such they are to be applied when the Committee exercise its role defined by Regulation No (EU) 182/2011. Any reference to rules of procedures outside this context is superfluous and inappropriate. It also risks complicating the functioning of the committee.	PE-CONS 9/13	Qualified majority	All Member States in favour
Regulation (EU) No 576/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 June 2013 on the non-commercial movement of pet animals and repealing Regulation (EC) No 998/2003 Text with EEA relevance OJ L 178, 28.6.2013, p. 1–26

Statement by the Commission Within the framework of the European Union Strategy for the Protection and Welfare of Animals , the Commission will study the welfare of dogs and cats involved in commercial practices. If the outcome of that study indicates health risks arising from those commercial practices, the Commission will consider appropriate options for the protection of human and animal health, including proposing to the European Parliament and to the Council appropriate adaptations to current Union legislation on trade in dogs and cats, including the introduction of compatible systems for their registration accessible across Member States. In light of the above, the Commission will assess the feasibility and appropriateness of an extension of such registration systems to dogs and cats marked and identified in accordance with Union legislation on non-commercial movements of pet animals.
Directive 2013/31/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 June 2013 amending Council Directive 92/65/EEC as regards the animal health requirements governing intra-Union trade in and imports into the Union of dogs, cats and ferrets Text with EEA relevance OJ L 178, 28.6.2013, p. 107–108	PE-CONS 10/13	Qualified majority	All Member States in favour
Directive 2013/30/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 June 2013 on safety of offshore oil and gas operations and amending Directive 2004/35/EC Text with EEA relevance OJ L 178, 28.6.2013, p. 66–106	PE-CONS 8/13	Qualified majority	All Member States in favour
Statement by the Commission 1. The Commission regrets that under § 3 and 5 of article 41 some Member States are partially exempted from the obligation to transpose the Directive and considers that such derogations shall not be regarded as a precedent in order not to affect the integrity of EU law. 2. The Commission notes that Member States may use the option not to transpose and apply Article 20 of the Directive because of the current absence of any company registered in their jurisdiction which has offshore activities outside the territory of the Union. In order to ensure effective enforcement of this Directive, the Commission underlines that it is incumbent on these Member States to ensure that companies already registered with them do not circumvent the aims of the Directive by extending their business objects to include offshore activities without notification of this extension to the competent national authorities so that they can take the necessary steps to ensure full application of Article 20. The Commission will take all necessary measures against any circumvention which may be brought to its attention.
Regulation (EU) No 528/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 12 June 2013 amending Regulation (EC) No 450/2008 laying down the Community Customs Code (Modernised Customs Code) as regards the date of its application OJ L 165, 18.6.2013, p. 62–62	PE-CONS 23/13	Qualified majority	All Member States in favour

Statement by the Maltese delegation The Republic of Malta has always supported the fight against match fixing and has always adopted a ‘zero-tolerance’ policy towards match-fixing with the appropriate policies and legislative framework. The Maltese Government is determined to continue to do so in all fora. Nevertheless the Republic of Malta is concerned about the inclusion within the mandate of an unharmonised area of the internal market, gaming, within its scope. Malta considers that in the absence of adopted rules at Union level in this sector and given the legal uncertainty, it would be pertinent for Member States to negotiate on internal market matters in their own right. The Republic of Malta stresses the need to ensure that discussions on this draft Convention should not address sensitive political issues related to the legislation or regulation of gaming issues where there are no adopted rules at EU level.

Statement by the UK delegation
Under Article 4 TFEU, the internal market, police cooperation and judicial cooperation in criminal matters, and data protection are areas of shared competence. As the draft Convention could not affect or alter the scope of any existing internal EU rules in these areas the EU has not acquired exclusive external competence by virtue of Article 3(2) TFEU and these areas therefore remain areas of shared competence. While it is open to the Council to mandate the Commission to negotiate on behalf of the EU in these areas, the UK's view is that it would have been preferable for the Member States to negotiate in these areas in their own right.
In addition, the UK considers that there should be an Article 16 legal base (TFEU) cited in the mandate. This is because the negotiating mandate specifically mentions data protection as one of the three areas within competence. The draft Convention contains very substantial data protection obligations. For these reasons we consider that it would be appropriate to cite a data protection legal base in the mandate.
Statement by the Commission
The Commission considers that a Council Decision authorising the opening of negotiations should not indicate a substantive legal basis. Moreover, insofar as the splitting of the Decision intends to reflect the different voting requirements pursuant to the application of Protocol 21, the Commission notes that a Decision authorising negotiation of an international agreement is not a "measure" in the sense of that Protocol. Accordingly, it is not appropriate to split the Decision authorising negotiations.

Statement by Slovenia Slovenia wishes to express its concern over some provisions of the Directive for it believes they could have a negative impact in practice. While acknowledging the necessity to establish an effective asylum reception system aimed at ensuring the rights of asylum seekers and meeting the specific needs of vulnerable persons, we must also provide for an effective means to tackle the abuse of the asylum system. Slovenia believes some of the provisions lack the necessary balance. In particular: the arrangement of detention, especially with regard to the restricted conditions to apply detention as provided for in Articles 8 and 9, treatment and accommodation of persons legally staying in the EU and not being formal applicants for international protection in asylum facilities. According to Slovenian understanding persons legally staying in the EU and applying for international protection should be not be subject to any material and reception conditions provided for in the Directive.

Statement by the Council, the European Parliament and the Commission The Council and the European Parliament invite the Commission to consider, without prejudice to its right of initiative, a revision of Article 8(4) of the Recast of the Dublin Regulation once the Court of Justice rules on case C-648/11 MA and Others vs. Secretary of State for the Home Department and at the latest by the time limits set in Article 46 of the Dublin Regulation. The European Parliament and the Council will then both exercise their legislative competences, taking into account the best interests of the child. The Commission, in a spirit of compromise and in order to ensure the immediate adoption of the proposal, accepts to consider this invitation, which it understands as being limited to these specific circumstances and not creating a precedent.

Statements by the Commission

1. In the application of the present Regulation, the Commission reiterates that, when proposing uniform conditions for implementing the provisions on transfers as foreseen under the present Regulation, it will ensure that current standards on transfers, as laid down in Articles 7-10 of Commission Regulation 1560/2003 of 2 September 2003 laying down detailed rules for the application of Council Regulation (EC) No 343/2003, will be upheld.
 2. The Commission underlines that it is contrary to the letter and to the spirit of Regulation 182/2011 (OJ L 55 of 28.2.2011, p. 13) to invoke Article 5 § 4, subparagraph 2, point b) in a systematic manner. Recourse to this provision must respond to a specific need to depart from the rule of principle which is that the Commission may adopt a draft implementing act when no opinion is delivered. Given that it is an exception to the general rule established by Article 5 § 4 recourse to subparagraph 2, point b) cannot be simply seen as a "discretionary power" of the Legislator, but must be interpreted in a restrictive manner and thus must be justified.
 3. The Commission considers that the provision of Article 28(3), fourth sub-paragraph should be interpreted in the sense that the time limits foreseen in Articles 21, 23, 24 and 29 are calculated taking into account the period already lapsed with the detention procedure.
- In these cases, the period of one month for submitting a take charge or take back request and the period of six weeks for carrying out the transfer to the responsible Member State shall be deducted from the periods referred to in Articles 21, 23 and 29.

Statement by Slovenia

Slovenia agrees with the view of the Dublin Regulation as being one of the core elements of the Common European Asylum System, thus contributing to the efficient functioning of the EU asylum policy.

Past experience has shown the need to improve the functioning of the Dublin System, but it has also taught us that this should be done with prudence and with due attention to the horizontal nature of the Regulation. It is Slovenia's opinion that this was not duly taken into account in the process of negotiations, which is why Slovenia wishes to express serious concerns over the recast of the Dublin Regulation.

Several amended provisions could present significant administrative and financial burden and prolong the procedure. This could endanger the proper functioning of the system as a whole and as a consequence seriously exacerbate the situation of persons subjected to it.

Slovenia regrets the new arrangements regarding additional personal interview in the Dublin procedure. In our opinion the institute of this interview is sufficiently regulated in Asylum Procedures Directive which also provides for the use in this Regulation. Such duplication could present a significant administrative burden to relevant authorities of Member States.

Slovenia also regrets the shortening of the deadlines for detention in Article 28 and the provision that a person must not be restricted only because they are being subject to Dublin procedure. It is the opinion of Slovenia that this could seriously affect the ability of the Member States to efficiently carry out Dublin transfers and could have negative effect throughout the EU as a result of absconding of the applicants, which cannot be effectively prevented.

Slovenia expresses concerns over the adopted arrangements for Unaccompanied Minors and dependent persons in the procedure. Despite being fully aware of special needs and vulnerable situation of these persons, we fear that the obligation to establish and consequently bring together the persons concerned with family members and relations to such an extended scope will prove to be very difficult in practice, and will present a significant administrative burden especially to relevant authorities of smaller Member States as well as prolong the situation of uncertainty for the asylum seekers concerned.

Finally, Slovenia would like to emphasize once again its hesitation towards the placement of the Early Warning System in the framework of this Regulation since it is not primarily connected to the Dublin procedure.

Statement by Greece

1. The completion of the Common European Asylum System (CEAS) will allow for further development of initiatives, focusing on sincere and genuine solidarity towards Member States, especially those at the EU external borders. The Treaty for the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) institutionally establishes, for the first time, the notion of “solidarity” as well as the fair sharing of responsibilities between Member States (art. 80) in the areas of Migration and Asylum.
2. Asylum issues are of particular importance and priority to Greece, as one of the Member States facing strong pressures at its external borders due to mixed flows of illegal migrants. In this context Greece is implementing a comprehensive reform of its Asylum and Migration Management systems, thus supporting in an effective and constant manner the CEAS development.
3. Greece believes that the “Dublin Regulation” recast has proved to be less ambitious than it should have been since, among others, it does not offer substantial answers to the concerns and pressing issues that Member States at EU’s external borders face. This is due to three major reasons:
 - The first entry criterion provision was never examined at the discussions of the “Dublin Regulation” recast.
 - A provision for the suspension of transfers was not included in the final text.
 - The new art. 33 limits itself to the Asylum System and does not contain any reference to pressures which are due to mixed migratory flows.
 - 4. For the above reasons, Greece cannot offer its support to the adoption, as presented in the “A” items.

Statement by Germany

“The German delegation believes that the provisions under Article 23 (4) (b) of Directive 2005/85/EC of 1 December 2005 on minimum standards on procedures in Member States for granting and withdrawing refugee status are covered by Article 31 (8) (a)-(j) of the Commission’s recast proposal for the Directive in the version of Council document 8260/13

Statement by Slovenia

Slovenia fully subscribes to the German declaration regarding Article 31 (8) (a)-(j) of the Commission’s recast proposal for the Directive in the version of Council document 8260/13 ASILE 14.

At the same, Slovenia wishes to express additional remarks.

Slovenia believes the revised text introduces several legally problematic solutions which could potentially delay and interrupt asylum procedures and considerably reduce the ability of the Member States to fight abuse and to conclude procedures in due time. It could also bring about additional administrative and financial burdens.

The following seem the most problematic: the introduction of certain categories of applicants and their a priori exclusion from procedures without any substantial correlation to their procedural needs, a revised concept of implicit withdrawal of application and its favourable treatment in relation to explicit withdrawal, inclusion of subsequent applications in the framework of inadmissibility, and limited grounds for the suspensive effect of such applications.

Joint Statement of Spain and Portugal Portugal and Spain deeply regret the adoption of the amended Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council for a fin-attached policy, abandoning the current fin-to-carcass weight regime foreseen in the Council Regulation (EC) 1185/2003. Portuguese and Spanish operators are not involved in "finning" practices and there is no risk of sustainability associated with the surface sharks they catch. The amended regulation will severely damage the economic viability of the Union long line fleet, preventing or hampering the activity of dozens of vessels with the consequent loss of jobs. Moreover, this modification will not solve the practice of finning by Third Country fleets that accounts for 93% of world shark catches, being such regrettable practices completely unaffected by this legislation and continue damaging the sustainability of these fisheries. PT and ES insist that the EU delegations to the relevant RFMOs continue to demand the introduction of a finning ban so that effective practice of finning will no longer be performed at a global level.

Statement by the Republic of Bulgaria The Republic of Bulgaria declares that the Decision fixing the period for the eighth election of representatives to the European Parliament by direct universal suffrage is without prejudice to future decisions on the subject. The Republic of Bulgaria notes that: - the overall turnout in the elections to the European Parliament has fallen steadily from 63% in 1979 to 43% in 2009; - the turnout in the two European elections, which were held in Bulgaria (2007 and 2009), was significantly lower than the average for the EU-27; - the 24 th of May is a National holiday in Bulgaria (Day of Bulgarian Enlightenment and Culture and of Slavonic Alphabet). The Republic of Bulgaria would like to highlight that holding elections for European Parliament on 25 May 2014 would negatively affect the turnout in Bulgaria. In order to foster the voter turnout in European elections and to create favorable voting conditions for all European citizens, future periods concerning the election of the representatives of the European Parliament should be determined in a way that better reflects Member states' national calendars.

Statement by Austrian delegation The Directive on Electromagnetic Fields (EMF) aims at the protection of health and safety of workers against the effects of electromagnetic fields. For this purpose, the directive is based on article 153(2) TFEU, which provides the legal basis for directives laying down minimum requirements in the field of protection of health and safety of employees at the workplace. Article 4(1) of the directive on EMF defining the employer’s obligation to make risk assessments public on request cannot be considered as protection of health and safety of workers. Article 4 (1) falls within the competence of “Public Health” however article 168 TFEU does not provide the appropriate legal basis for the directive on EMF. To this end, article 4(1) is not compatible with Article 153(2) TFEU and the directive should not contain the provision in Article 4(1).

Statement by German delegation

The Federal Republic of Germany rejects the proposal for a Directive on the minimum health and safety requirements regarding the exposure of workers to the risks arising from electromagnetic fields.

For the evaluation of pulsed electromagnetic fields at the workplace, the proposal for a directive only allows for the so-called "weighted peak method" cited in Annex II as a reference method. Alternative and less conservative evaluation methods, however, equally allow for a reliable safety evaluation of technical applications in operation, thus ensuring a comparably high level of protection of the health and safety of workers.

In Germany, these evaluation methods have been applied successfully for more than ten years already by companies, enforcement authorities and the occupational accident insurance funds (BGs); they guarantee a comparably high level of protection of the health and safety of workers. If the application of the "weighted peak method" becomes the compulsory method, negative economic consequences cannot be excluded in connection with the application of many technical processes (e.g. resistance welding, electrolysis, electroplating) while at the same time there is no gain in safety for the workers.

In the negotiations the Federal Government always supported the idea that the Directive should also approve other recognised evaluation methods, which allow for a safety assessment of the technical applications in operation and at the same time guarantee a high level of protection for workers.

Statement by Bulgaria

The Republic of Bulgaria supports the objectives of the proposal for new Accounting Directive:

1. The reduction of administrative burden/simplification targeting mainly small companies;
 2. To increase of the clarity and comparability of the financial statements;
 3. The protection of essential user needs aiming at retaining necessary accounting information for users;
 4. The increased transparency on payments made to governments by the extractive industry and loggers of primary forests.
- The Republic of Bulgaria supports in principle the Proposal for full harmonisation of the categories small, medium-sized and large undertakings and groups within the European Union.

The Republic of Bulgaria could not support the final text of the proposal for a new Accounting Directive (doc. 8328/13), as the proposed thresholds for “small undertakings” and “small groups of undertakings” regulated in Article 3, paragraphs 1 and 4 of the proposal are very high for Bulgaria.

The Republic of Bulgaria could support a proposal for decreasing of the thresholds for the above-mentioned categories, namely:

Small undertakings and small groups of undertakings are undertakings which on their balance sheet dates do not exceed the limits of two of the three following criteria:

- Balance sheet total: EUR 2 500 000 (the final proposal being EUR 4 000 000);
- Net turnover: EUR 5 000 000 (the final proposal being EUR 8 000 000);
- Average number of employees during the financial year: 50.

The request for decreasing the thresholds is consistent with the actual economic situation in Bulgaria, the analyses of officially published financial statements of the operating undertakings and analysis of statistical data and the information submitted to the revenue authorities of the National Revenue Agency. From the existing in 2011 366,000 undertakings, only 5,292 (including 756 - large undertakings and 4,536 - medium-sized undertakings) would fall into the categories medium-sized and large undertakings according to the indicators proposed. The relative share of the medium-sized and large undertakings to all operating undertakings will be 1.45%. The remaining 98.55% will fall into the category “small undertakings”.

The Republic of Bulgaria considers that such categorisation of the undertakings would not achieve two of the key objectives set out in the Proposal for a directive, namely protection of essential user needs aiming at retaining necessary accounting information for users and reduction of administrative burden/simplification targeting mainly small companies.

Approximately 99% of all undertakings operating in the country will have to apply a regime of limited disclosure of information on financial and property status. The regime of limited disclosure could not provide the necessary information for certain categories of users of financial accounting information – revenue authorities of the NRA, credit institutions, investors, shareholders, etc. Small undertakings will have to provide additional accounting information to the above-mentioned users, which in practice will not result in reduction of the administrative burdens as expected from the implementation of the regime of limited disclosure.

On the grounds of the above, the Republic of Bulgaria votes “abstention” on the Proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on the annual financial statements, consolidated financial statements and related reports of certain types of undertakings.

Statement by Estonia

Estonia decidedly supports key objectives of the proposal, including:

- 1) reduction of administrative burden for small companies;
- 2) increased clarity and comparability of financial statements and
- 3) protection of users of financial statements by retaining necessary accounting information.

Therefore, we are all the more disappointed having to express our strong opposition to the final version of the directive, which in our case would seriously damage those very objectives it professes to seek.

In order to cut administrative burden shouldered by small companies, the directive forbids Member States to require anything but most limited information in their financial statements - to the extent that calls conformity to the principle of true and fair view into question. This is a significant problem for a number Member States, including Estonia, where SMEs account for approximately half of all economic activity. Resulting reduction in transparency of economic environment shall undoubtedly undermine trust and create problems raising capital. That reduction of administrative burden thus gained would be more than offset by increase in other kinds of reporting duties, solvency problems, bankruptcies and litigations is a view shared also by Estonian business community. We believe that principle of true and fair view needs to take primacy over any other consideration and that reduction of administrative burden must not happen at the expense of clarity and best accounting practices but through streamlining reporting processes and integration of public databases.

Approach chosen in the directive is especially counterproductive to us. While Estonia has striven to foster accounting framework closely based on international financial reporting standards (IFRS) and its sister-standard, IFRS for SMEs, we have in parallel also paid great attention to easing administrative burden through innovation and elimination of duplicate submissions. We have developed a one-stop web portal to, inter alia, prepare and submit electronic annual accounts, providing both tax and statistics related information, which has been recognized as the world's best e-government solution of the last decade by United Nations World Summit on the Information Society and very positively received by our companies. Scrapping this well-functioning system in favor of abstaining from collecting relevant financial information altogether or collecting the same info several times via different channels would represent a step backwards with regards to every purported objective of the directive as well as a deviation from what are internationally considered best practices. The latter is a concern that goes further than the problems faced by Estonia, having troubling implications for long-term success of entire Union.

Statement by Portugal

Since the start of the negotiations, Portugal has been warning about the negative impact of this legislative proposal, which proposes maximum harmonisation for small entities.

While our support for the principle of reducing administrative costs for small entities is not in question, the introduction of a harmonised concept of a small entity introducing a threshold under which 95 % of Portuguese undertakings fall, together with the impossibility of Member States demanding additional documents except for the purposes of tax information, is clearly ill adapted to our real economic situation. In addition, these exemptions may jeopardise the transparency, security and credibility of undertakings' financial statements for all users.

Transposition of this text into national law will inevitably entail alteration of the standardised national accounting system adopted in 2010 with the aim of bringing national accounting standards into line with the various International Accounting Standards, thereby ensuring consistency between the accounting principles and concepts of undertakings in Portugal. The IT platform for the provision of information by undertakings will also have to be altered.

Portugal consequently regrets that the alternative solutions that it proposed during the negotiations for greater flexibility in the provision of information by small entities have not been taken into consideration in this text.

Statement by the Council

The Council notes that in so far as the amendments to the Eurodac Regulation (recast) concern the procedures for comparison and data transmission for law enforcement purposes as laid down in Articles 5, 6, 19 to 22, 33, 36, 39(3), 40(7) and 43 of the Regulation, these amendments, which are based on police cooperation legal bases (Articles 87(2)(a) and 88(2)(a) TFEU), do not constitute a development building upon the provisions of Eurodac within the meaning of the agreements concluded by EU with Denmark, Norway, Iceland, Switzerland and Liechtenstein, and therefore fall outside of the scope of the said Agreements which have been concluded only for asylum purposes (for determining which State is responsible for considering an application for asylum or subsidiary protection, Article 78(2)(e) TFEU). Therefore, the provisions of the said agreements do not apply to the above listed articles of the Regulation. Once the Eurodac Regulation is adopted, the Commission may, as appropriate, submit recommendations for a Council decision authorising the opening of negotiations for complementing the said agreements to also cover the above listed law enforcement articles.

Statement by the Commission

Article 458 of the Regulation:

The modifications made to this Article would permit the creation of 27 different national approaches on key elements of the single rule book such as own funds, risk weights and exposure limits. Moreover, in an area governed by co-decision where implementing powers are normally conferred on the Commission, implementing powers relating to national deviations from an EU regulation would be conferred exclusively on the Council, and the Commission be reduced to a mere advisory role, along with EBA and ESRB.

To ensure compatibility with Article 114 TFEU, the Commission is of the opinion that Article 458, paragraph 4 must be interpreted as requiring that, upon receipt of a proposal from the Commission, the Council must always adopt a reasoned decision within the prescribed deadline. The last subparagraph of Article 458, paragraph 4, which establishes the legal position of the Member State concerned where the Council wrongfully fails to act, cannot be interpreted as releasing the Council from its obligation to act in accordance with the fifth subparagraph of Article 458, paragraph 4, namely the obligation to always adopt a reasoned decision. In the absence of such a reasoned decision of the Council, the last subparagraph of Article 458, paragraph 4, would permit derogations disproportionate with respect to the harmonisation achieved by the Regulation without allowing judicial review, which would be contrary to Article 114 TFEU. The Commission therefore reserves the right to bring the matter before the Court of Justice where the Council would ignore the legal obligations imposed upon it by Article 458, paragraph 4, and in particular where it would not adopt a reasoned decision within the prescribed deadline.

Statements by the Commission Article 133 (14) of the Directive: The Commission regrets that, in the context of the modalities around the conferral on EBA of binding settlement powers as regards higher buffer requirements established by a national authority, the fact that a recommendation of the Commission is given the same weight as that of the ESRB does not reflect the correct institutional balance between the ESRB and the Commission. Article 162(1) of the Directive: The Commission considers that Article 162(1) is not in compliance with Article 260(3) TFUE, which provides for the obligation upon Member States "to notify measures transposing a directive adopted under a legislative procedure". Statement by the United Kingdom

The United Kingdom notes and supports the Court's proposal to absorb the cost of the first additional Advocate-General within the Court's existing 2013 budget allocation. The United Kingdom's expectation is that the costs of the increase in Advocates-General will be met by savings by the Court elsewhere and we therefore expect the Court to likewise absorb the costs of the additional Advocates-General from 2014 onwards.

Joint Statement by the Council and the representatives of the Member States meeting within the Council on the number of advocates general

The Council recalls that according to Declaration n° 38 on Article 252 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union regarding the number of Advocates-General in the Court of Justice, annexed to the Final Act of the Intergovernmental Conference which adopted the Treaty of Lisbon, in case the Council decides, on request of the Court of Justice, to increase the number of Advocates General by three, Poland will, as is already the case for Germany, France, Italy, Spain and the United Kingdom, have a permanent Advocate General and no longer take part in the rotation system, while the existing rotation system will involve the rotation of five Advocates-General instead of three.

The Council further recalls that the request from the President of the Court of Justice to increase the number of Advocates General envisages one of the additional Advocates General taking up his functions in July 2013 and the other two taking up their functions in October 2015, when the next partial replacement of Advocates General under the present rotation system will also take place.

Against that background, the representatives of the Member States meeting within the Council agree that, in line with the rotation system presently applicable¹, two additional Advocates General will be appointed with effect from 7 October 2015 who will be, respectively, of Czech and Danish nationality. They will be appointed at the same time as the Advocate General of Bulgarian nationality, Bulgaria being the Member State next in line for the rotation under the present system. They further agree that the additional Advocate General to be appointed with effect from 1st July 2013 will be of Polish nationality.

Statement by the United Kingdom "The UK strongly welcomes the Draft Agreement between the European Union and the European Organisation for the Safety of Air Navigation providing a general framework for enhanced cooperation, which will establish and strengthen cooperation in this key area for European aviation. However, the UK objects to the inclusion of the citation of Articles 218 and 220 TFEU in the recitals to the Draft Agreement. The citation of specific TFEU articles in an international agreement risks undermining the EU decision-making process, which must consider the appropriate legal bases to cite for the Council Decisions on signature and conclusion. The risks associated with this approach are highlighted in this case by the discrepancies in the legal bases cited in the recitals to the Draft Agreement and those cited in the original negotiating mandate for the Draft Agreement and the Council Decision on signature. The Draft Agreement cites Articles 218 and 220 TFEU, the negotiating mandate cites Article 100 and the Council Decision on signature and provisional application of the Agreement cites Articles 218(5) and Article 100. The UK does not consider that the citation of Article 220 in the Draft Agreement is correct in this context. Article 220 concerns administrative cooperation between the EU and international organisations, but is not the appropriate legal base under the TFEU for the negotiation of legally binding agreements with international organisations on behalf of the EU." 2013/387/EU: Council Decision of 9 July 2013 on the adoption by Latvia of the euro on 1 January 2014 OJ L 195, 18.7.2013, p. 24–26 Council Regulation (EU) No 678/2013 of 9 July 2013 amending Regulation (EC) No 974/98 as regards the introduction of the euro in Latvia OJ L 195, 18.7.2013, p. 2–2 Council Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No 2866/98 as regards the conversion rate to the euro for Latvia	11669/13 11670/13 11809/1/13 REV 1

Statement by the Council and the Commission

1. The Quick Reaction Mechanism (QRM) and the extension of the Reverse Charge Mechanism (RCM) are temporary and exceptional measures to address serious VAT fraud risks. The Commission and the Council agree the need to prioritise the delivery of a “Robust, Resilient and Fraud Proof VAT system” as outlined in the Commission’s Communication on the Future of VAT with a view to facilitating the prevention of VAT fraud rather than having to rely on derogation arrangements. The Council notes the willingness of the Commission to bring forward proposals to meet this objective.
2. The Commission and the Council agree that the sole purpose of the RCM is to facilitate Member States in addressing VAT fraud which will lead to losses to their Exchequers, and does not represent in any way a move towards a general reverse charge system. Before applying a reverse charge, a Member State should be satisfied that the application of conventional administrative measures would have been insufficient to counteract fraud in such circumstances. Furthermore, applying a reverse charge should not adversely affect the existing conventional information exchange under Regulation (EU) Nr. 904/2010; Member States having implemented a reverse charge in a particular sector are still bound to reply to information requests relating to that sector within the time limits provided for in article 7 of this regulation. The Council notes the commitment by the Commission to be vigilant against any abuse of the RCM.
3. The Council notes the readiness of the Commission to speed-up as much as possible the existing procedures under Article 395 of the VAT Directive with a view to reducing the timescale involved in granting derogations to address the risk of VAT fraud.
4. The Council and the Commission recognise that co-operation in the sharing of best administrative practice among Member States in enhancing the effectiveness of measures against the risk of VAT fraud should be stepped up."

Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directives 2000/60/EC and 2008/105/EC as regards priority substances in the field of water policy	PE-CONS 21/13	Qualified majority	All Member States in favour except: Against: BG Abstention: LT, HU, PL, RO, SK
Statement by Slovenia Slovenia has serious concerns about the date in Article 3(1a)(ii) of the compromise proposal for Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directives 2000/60/EC and 2008/105/EC as regards priority substances in the field of water policy, regarding establishment of the supplementary monitoring programme and a preliminary program of measures covering substances. Slovenia recalls that time frame for monitoring does not coincide with the regular monitoring and programme measures under Water Framework Directive. It would therefore be too expensive and would impose too heavy administrative burden for Slovenia. Additionally, too short period of sampling would not provide representative data for adequate and cost effective measures. To this end Slovenia highly regrets that the extension of date in Article 3(1a)(ii) has not been set to 22 December 2021.

Joint statement by Hungary, Latvia, Romania and Slovakia

While understanding the need to address water pollution by setting environmental quality standards (EQS), Hungary, Latvia, Romania and Slovakia express their concerns about the major impact that this Directive could have in terms of administrative burdens, costs and tight deadlines for the implementation. We consider that the deadlines for the implementation of the new EQSs for the listed substances and their appropriate inclusion in the river basin management plans and programmes of measures are too short and difficult to follow, having in view the costs implications of the necessary measures, both in public and private sectors. Moreover, the obligation to establish and implement a supplementary monitoring programme and a preliminary programme of measures for the new substances represent an additional burden for Member States as compared to the provisions of the Water Framework Directive 2000/60/EC.

The monitoring costs of the priority substances and the substances in the watch list, including pharmaceuticals, are significant. Moreover, the lack of appropriate analytical methods for the majority of priority substances poses greater difficulties for Member States to fulfill their duties. In this respect, we welcome the inclusion of the provision to develop technical guidelines on monitoring strategies and analytical methods, under the Common Implementation Strategy of the Water Framework Directive 2000/60/EC. While recognizing the non-binding character of these guidelines, attention should be paid to art. 8 (3) of the Water Framework Directive 2000/60/EC on the obligation to develop technical specifications and standardised methods for analysis.

Therefore, Hungary, Latvia, Romania and Slovakia express their disappointment that the final compromise doesn't respond to their major concerns and do not support the final text of the directive.

Statement by the Commission

The Commission can accept the proposed compromise especially in view of the fact that preliminary Programmes of Measures for the "new" priority substances will be established in 2018 and their implementation begin thereafter, and that, while placing the three pharmaceutical substances on the watch list, the need to address the risks from those substances is acknowledged. The preliminary Programmes of Measures should be informed by some prior monitoring, conducted at the latest during the course of 2018 before establishing the preliminary Programme of Measures.

The Commission underlines that the timely development of guidelines for adequate analytical methods by the end of 2014 is a task for both the Commission and Member States experts under the Common Implementation Strategy for the Water Framework Directive. However, the Commission stresses that it does not consider that it is legally appropriate to make legal deadlines dependent upon the provision of non-binding guidelines. It also stresses that the adoption of guidelines is not related to and may not interfere with "implementing" powers conferred on the Commission on the basis of Article 291 TFEU, and that under Article 292 TFEU it has the power to issue guidelines at any time, without reference to any obligation in a basic act.

The Commission reiterates, in relation to the 'no-opinion clause', that it is contrary to the letter and to the spirit of Regulation (EC) No 182/2011 to invoke Article 5(4), subparagraph 2, point b) in a systematic manner. Given that it is an exception to the general rule established by Article 5(4), recourse to subparagraph 2, point b) cannot be simply seen as a "discretionary power" of the legislator, but must be interpreted in a restrictive manner and thus must be justified.

Statement by Germany

We agree with the Presidency proposal on Article 3 (1a)(ii) in Document 8186/13. However, we would like to clarify our interpretation of this point once again.

Directive 2000/60/EC does not envisage notifying the Commission of the programmes of measures. The new requirement to submit the preliminary programmes of measures would constitute a special regulation for this substance group, which we reject in principle. In order to reach agreement in the first reading, we accept the submission of the preliminary programme, whereby our understanding is that this programme will be kept general (in particular not be detailed to the water body level), and that there is no obligation to submit the final programme of measures.

Furthermore, the basic principle taken up in Article 3 of requiring the prevention of deterioration is already anchored in Directive 2000/60/EC and therefore superfluous here.

Our agreement to Article 3 is made on the basis of the interpretation set out above.

Statement by Austria

Austria has agreed to the Directive because we acknowledge the joint efforts of all actors involved to reach a compromise in a difficult matter. We ask the European Commission when carrying out the next reviews of the list of priority substances according to Article 16 of Directive 2000/60/EC to additionally assess the experience made with the presentation of the chemical status including the provision of additional maps for ubiquitous substances and – if appropriate – present a new proposal for the presentations.

Statement by Poland

Statement by Poland in connection with the adoption of the proposal for a Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directives 2000/60/EC and 2008/105/EC as regards priority substances in the field of water policy.

"In the course of negotiations between the European Parliament and the Council, Poland has consistently indicated that the proposal for a Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directives 2000/60/EC and 2008/105/EC as regards priority substances in the field of water policy as submitted by the European Commission is premature, one of the reasons being the lack of monitoring methodologies available to analyse the new substances.

We regret to say that the text as negotiated, in our opinion, does not provide for a sufficient and feasible time-frame to attain the goals of this Directive. Furthermore, Poland has serious doubts on account of the fact that the Directive will contribute to the excessive administrative and financial burden on both the administration and the private sector."

Statement by Austria "Austria is aware of the significance of the Maritime Labour Convention, which is an important step towards improving the living and working conditions of seafarers on ships. Accordingly, Austria welcomes efforts made to implement the Maritime Labour Convention in the largest possible number of States. On the other hand, maritime transport is less important to a landlocked state such as Austria, not least because the shipping register has been closed for commercial vessels. In this regard Austria is therefore no longer a flag State. Austria would not wish to obstruct the other Member States in any way, should they ratify the Maritime Labour Convention within the meaning of the proposed Directives. As the implementation of this Convention requires a significant administrative and financial commitment, which is entirely disproportionate to the Convention's relevance for Austria, Austria does not intend to ratify the Maritime Labour Convention."

Council Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No 994/98 on the application of Articles 92 and 93 of the Treaty establishing the European Community to certain categories of horizontal State aid	11080/13 COR 1

Statement of the Commission relating to the deletion of Article 1(1)(a)(xii) of the Commission proposal amending Regulation (EC) No 994/98 of 7 May 1998 on the application of Articles 92 and 93 of the Treaty establishing the European Community to certain categories of horizontal State aid (hereafter "the Enabling Regulation")¹ The Commission takes note of the Council decision not to follow its proposal to include to the list of exemption categories in the Enabling Regulation the category of aid granted for the purposes of coordination of transport or reimbursement for the discharge of certain obligations inherent in the concept of a public service pursuant to Article 93 of the Treaty and to delete Article 9 of the Regulation (EC) No 1370/2007 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2007 on public passenger transport services by rail and by road² once the Commission adopts the block exemption in this respect. The Commission does not agree with the Council and European Parliament interpretation of the relationship between Articles 109 and 108(4) TFEU. However, in a spirit of compromise, it will not stand against a qualified majority vote but reserves its right to propose in the future provisions necessary to ensure that State aid block exemptions post-Lisbon are adopted in accordance with Article 108(4) TFEU. ¹ OJ L 142, 14.5.1998, p.1 ² OJ L 315, 3.12.2007, p. 1	Council Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No 659/1999 laying down detailed rules for the application of Article 93 of the EC Treaty	11139/13
Statement of the Commission relating to the Proposal for a Council Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No 659/1999 laying down detailed rules for the application of Article 93 of the EC Treaty (Article 109 TFEU) When materially revising the currently available complaint form, the Commission will publish a draft of the form it intends to adopt and allow all interested parties at least one month's time to submit their comments. Joint Council and Commission statement relating to the Proposal for a Council Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No 659/1999 laying down detailed rules for the application of Article 93 of the EC Treaty (Article 109 TFEU) As outlined by the Commission in its Communication on EU State Aid Modernisation, it is essential to adapt State aid procedures in order to deliver decisions within business-relevant timelines. Notwithstanding the new procedural regulation, the added-value of the "Code of Best Practice for the conduct of State aid control procedures" should be further improved and highlighted, notably the Mutually Agreed Planning. It is particularly relevant and appropriate that the Commission and Member States use more systematically this code of conduct, since reducing the duration of State aid procedure can have a significant impact on the competitiveness of aid beneficiaries.	Council Position concerning the conclusion by the EU of Memoranda of Understanding, Joint Statements and other texts containing policy commitments, with third countries and international organisations	12498/13
