ITEMS DEBATED

EU regional strategy for Syria and Iraq as well as the Da'esh threat

Ministers reviewed the implementation of the EU's regional strategy for Syria and Iraq as well as the Da'esh threat, which was adopted by the Council on 16 March 2015. They discussed the implementation of the main chapters of the strategy and the impact of ongoing humanitarian and stabilisation efforts.

The Council adopted conclusions outlining its priorities in working to achieve lasting peace, stability and security in Syria, Iraq and the wider region. The conclusions also outline ways in which the implementation of the strategy should adapt to respond to the change of circumstances since March 2015.

EU global strategy on foreign and security policy

Ministers had a discussion over lunch on the future EU global strategy on foreign and security policy. This strategy is intended to guide the European Union's foreign and security policy in the coming years.

External aspects of migration

Ministers had a discussion on the external aspects of migration. They took stock of the implementation of the Valletta action plan. They notably reviewed the state of play of high-level dialogues with partner countries and the ongoing work with countries in Sahel and in the Horn of Africa. They also touched upon the implementation of the EU-Turkey statement from March 2016 and stressed their commitment to tackling the migration challenge in a collective way.

The Council adopted conclusions on the external aspects of migration.

EUNAVFOR MED operation Sophia

The Council adopted the following conclusions:

"1. Recalling its conclusions on Libya of 18 April and also in the light of the ministerial meeting on Libya in Vienna on 16 May, the Council underlines the need to enhance the capacity of EUNAVFOR MED Operation Sophia to disrupt the business model of human smugglers and trafficking networks and to contribute to broader security in support of the legitimate Libyan authorities. In this regard, the Council welcomes the expressed readiness of the President of the Presidency Council of the Government of National Accord, Mr Serraj, to cooperate with the EU on the basis of these conclusions.

2. To that end, the Council agrees to extend the mandate of EUNAVFOR MED Operation Sophia by one year and, while retaining the focus on its core mandate, to add two further supporting tasks:

- capacity building and training of, and information sharing with, the Libyan Coastguard and Navy, based on a request by the legitimate Libyan authorities taking into account the need for Libyan ownership;

- contributing to information sharing, as well as implementation of the UN arms embargo on the High Seas off the coast of Libya on the basis of a new UNSC Resolution.

3. The Council underlines the need for preparatory work, including on planning, to continue without delay. On the basis of this work, it will then take a Council Decision to extend and amend EUNAVFORMED's mandate and start the implementation of the new tasks. The Council stresses the importance of continuing coordination with international partners such as UN and NATO.

4. The Council underlines the urgency regarding the situation in Libya and human smuggling and trafficking in the Central Mediterranean and will work on timely EU action in response. It deplores the loss of so many lives at sea and commends the role the operation and the Member States played in saving tens of thousands of human lives."

In the margins of the Council– *Eastern Partnership ministerial meeting

Before the Council, EU Foreign Affairs ministers met their counterparts from Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, the Republic of Moldova and Ukraine for the 7th annual Eastern Partnership ministerial meeting. The meeting was chaired by the High Representative for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy, Federica Mogherini.

This meeting provided the opportunity to take stock of the Eastern Partnership (EaP) one year after the fourth Eastern Partnership Summit held in Riga on 21-22 May 2015. Ministers discussed the progress made in the implementation of the cooperation agenda, as well as the progress in reforms, and noted the contribution of the EaP to stability in the region. The High Representative concluded the meeting by commending the unity of all ministers and their collective commitment to the partnership.
