Statements by the Commission

"While the Commission maintains its views that Article 218(3) and (4) TFEU provide a sufficient legal basis for the Decisions, without any substantive legal basis being necessary, it also considers that the choice of substantive legal basis does not affect the Council's voting rules."

"With regard to Article 3 of the Council Decision, the Commission notes that the insertion of "subject to any directives which the Council may subsequently issue to the Commission" is not in line with the case law of the Court of Justice in Case C-425/13 Commission v Council (Australia greenhouse gas emissions trading system), at paragraph 90, and should therefore be deleted."

Statement by Cyprus

"This is to express our strong reservations on this politically very sensitive issue. As this is the first time that the EU is about to open such negotiations, based on the new Europol Regulation, we consider it appropriate and useful to allow for a discussion at the political/Council level as well, as these cases will set a precedent for the future.

From the launch of the discussion on the Commission's proposals, we voiced our concerns, not because we do not appreciate the significance of these agreements for the EU and our citizens, but due to the very fact that we have no safeguard that this agreement (as many others) will be, in the case of Turkey, implemented towards all m-s. Any Agreement has to be mutually beneficial for the contracting parties. Turkey maintains a very negative track record of non-implementation of Agreements towards the Republic of Cyprus. To name a few, the Additional Protocol to the EC-Turkey Customs Union (2005), the Readmission Agreement (2012), the Visa Roadmap (2015), etc. In all cases, and after their endorsement, Turkey had issued unilateral declarations that it does not intend to implement its obligations with respect to the Republic of Cyprus. Therefore, how can we consent to the opening of negotiations on the international agreement in question, unless satisfactory explanations and/or safeguards are provided on how the situation is going to be rectified, given the inflexible stance of Turkey?

In the course of the discussions that took place since last January, Cyprus has retained its strong reservation regarding the opening of negotiations with Turkey in the same package with the other seven third countries. We supported detaching the discussion on Turkey from the rest of the package. Obviously, the case of Turkey differs from the rest. As a candidate country, Turkey has to comply with its obligations, stemming from the negotiating framework for its accession to the EU and the Visa Liberalization Roadmap. In the absence of progress in this respect, we consider it paradoxical to decide the opening of negotiations for signing an agreement on the exchange of personal data with Turkey. The 2018 Commission's Report on Turkey reaffirms our strong reservations pertaining to the serious and continued backslidings in the country and the need for Turkey to align its personal data protection legislation and its anti-terror legislation with the EU acquis.

Turkey continues to refuse any cooperation with the Republic of Cyprus across the board of JHA issues, which is also a horizontal obligation included in the Visa Liberalization Road Map. This is evident through Turkey's unilateral declarations (Readmission Agreement, Road Map), as well as from its refusal to cooperate with Cyprus on JHA related fields (Europol, Interpol, judicial cooperation in criminal matters). In addition, Turkey has taken no steps towards fulfilling the relevant benchmarks of the Visa Liberalization Road Map, especially those pertaining to cooperation with EU m-s. Thus, we continue to believe that it is of utmost importance to include all necessary safeguards, including a monitoring mechanism for the implementation of these agreements so as to ensure their full, effective and non-discriminatory implementation.

We have recorded our vote against this file and we request that this statement be attached to the minutes of COREPER and the Council."

40. Case C-600/14 ((Federal Republic of Germany v Council of the European Union) Council Decision establishing EU position (Art. 218(9) TFEU) 9008/18
Information note for the Permanent Representatives Committee (Part 1) JUR

Statement by Germany

"In point 22 of its information note, the Legal Service of the Council rightly states that, given the large number of decisions adopted on the basis of Article 218(9) TFEU, the Member States must always bear in mind that each of these decisions can constitute an initial exercise of Union competence. They observe that this could prove problematic where the division of competences is unclear and with Council decisions which have a very broad scope of application. Germany agrees with this conclusion and would point out that this finding has crucial implications for the division of competences between the Union and the Member States, which is based on the principle of conferral. In view of the above, any future proposal for a Council decision on the legal basis of Article 218(9) TFEU should be examined carefully with regard to the competences of the Union and the Member States. Germany requests that this statement be included in the minutes of Coreper 1."
