Agriculture

4. Regulation on veterinary medicinal products 9763/18 + ADD 1
Confirmation of the final compromise text with a view to agreement

The Committee endorsed the text of the final compromise and mandated the Presidency to inform the European Parliament that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading in accordance with this compromise (subject to revision by the legal linguists), the Council would approve the European Parliament's position and the act shall be adopted.

Joint Declaration of Croatia, Czech Republic, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Malta, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia

"Member States support and recognise the importance of tackling antimicrobial resistance (AMR) as well as the provisions agreed in Regulation on Veterinary Medicinal Products notably as regards to the stepwise approach of the collection of data on sales and use of antimicrobials (Article 54).

However, these Member States acknowledge that proposed ambitious calendar and measures on data collection on use and sales of antimicrobials will certainly increase national administrative and financial burden.

In addition, Member States recognise that the European Commission plays a crucial role in supporting Member States to implement these important tasks for the fight against AMR.

Therefore and in line with the recently adopted EU One Health Action plan, these Member States request the European Commission to confirm its willingness and commitment to assist and support Member States in the form of providing the co-financing instruments with the view to the effective implementation of data collection on use and sales of antimicrobials."

Statement by the Commission

"The new EU Regulation on veterinary medicinal products requires Member States to collect and report data on sales and use of antimicrobials used in animals. The Commission considers this information essential to identify possible risk factors for development and spread of antimicrobial resistance (AMR), monitor trends in antimicrobial consumption, target relevant policy measures and assess their implementation. Although the implementation of this legal requirement is foreseen through a gradual (stepwise) approach, it may require substantial input in terms of administrative, human and financial resources.

The European One Health Action Plan against AMR recognises that in order to deliver long-lasting results and create the necessary impetus, it is important that the EU legislation related to AMR (including, inter alia, on the use of veterinary medicines) is adequately implemented. In this context, the Commission has committed in that Action Plan to engage in supporting Member States in the implementation of EU rules, including by providing technical support through the Structural Reform Support Service (SRSS) for designing and implementing policies against AMR.

Furthermore, the Commission will explore the possibilities for supporting this data collection in Member States in line with its proposals made in the context of the future EU Multiannual Financial Framework."

Statement by Germany, supported by Poland

"Germany would like to comment as follows on Articles 72 to 81 of the text as provided in the consultation document (9763/18/ADD 1):

The final compromise paper (document 9763/18 ADD 1) on the proposal for a European Parliament and Council Regulation on veterinary medicinal products basically reflects a balanced overall outcome; an agreement could be reached on a lot of important issues. Nevertheless, Germany is concerned that the focus of pharmacovigilance of veterinary medicinal products is on signal management of the authorisation holder and that the current legislation is not continued. In particular, this relates to

- = the elimination of the Periodic Safety Update Reports (PSUR),
- = the extension of the notification period for serious adverse events and
- = the lack of differentiation concerning the degree of severity of adverse events.

Since, however, progress has been made in the deliberations in general the concerns that exist in the German view do not impede Germany's consent to the final compromise paper."

Health

5. Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No 726/2004 as part of the Veterinary Medicines Package 9488/18
Confirmation of the final compromise text with a view to agreement

The Committee endorsed the text of the final compromise and mandated the Presidency to inform the European Parliament that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading in accordance with this compromise (subject to revision by the legal linguists), the Council would approve the European Parliament's position and the act shall be adopted.

Statement by the Commission

"The Commission recalls its position that when adapting existing Commission empowerments to Article 290 and 291 TFEU it is not an appropriate legislative technique to provide for transitional provisions that would state that Commission acts adopted previously under those empowerments will continue to apply unless and until repealed. In the Commission's view such provisions state the obvious and would not be coherent with other legislative acts and are liable to induce legal uncertainty at a broader level.

The Commission regrets that only part of the existing regulatory procedure with scrutiny empowerments in Directive 2001/83 and Regulation 1901/2006 will be aligned in this instrument, while the rest of the empowerments remain to be aligned in the context of the negotiations on the Omnibus alignment proposal (COM(2016) 799). In the Commission's view the full alignment should have taken place in one of the two instruments."

21. Demarche by the EU and its Member States on Icelandic whaling
Approval 9705/1/18 REV 1
ENV

Statement by the Commission

"The Commission takes note of the inclusion of Bulgaria, acting on behalf of Member States, as co-signatory of the cover letter of the EU demarche on whaling. The Commission recalls that this issue is currently sub judice in the Weddell Sea cases (C-626/15 and C-659/16) and that consequently some restraint should be observed on all parts until the Court determines the matter.

Additionally and as already stated on previous occasions, the Commission recalls that the European Union has exclusive competence in the field of the conservation of the marine biological resources pursuant to the provisions of Article 3(1)(d) in conjunction with Article 38 and Annex I of the Treaty and thus of all living aquatic resources under the Common Fisheries Policy pursuant to Council Regulation (EU) No 1380/2013. The fact that this demarche is carried out jointly by the EU and EU Member States is without prejudice for any future negotiations about the conservation and management of marine biological resources under the common fisheries policy."

Statement by Germany

"The EU Council Conclusions on the EU and its Member States' medium-term priorities for the FAO, particularly Paragraph 13, are meant to be read together with the "Key messages on behalf of the European Union and its 28 Member States, Montenegro and the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia on the Mandatory Age of Separation" delivered at the 159th session of the FAO Council.

In this regard, Germany STRESSES the importance for the FAO to take its share in maintaining the integrity of the UN Common System and to fully implement UNGA resolutions without delay in order to avoid serious reputational and financial risks; therefore, EMPHASISES the concerns already expressed by the EU and its 28 Member States during the 159th session of the Council with regard to the decision to further delay implementation of the UNGA Resolution 70/244 on the Mandatory Age of Separation by the FAO until July 1, 2019. Germany would have preferred the implementation of UNGA Resolution 70/244 without any delay to ensure compliance with the UN system."

Statement by the Commission

"The Commission will request the ranges of FMSY and other biological reference points from the International Council for the Exploration of the Sea (ICES). The Commission considers that, as a general rule, the fishing opportunities should be based on the best available scientific advice provided by ICES. In the unlikely event that ICES is either unable to provide the ranges of FMSY and other biological reference points or where there are serious reasons to believe that the advice issued by ICES does not meet the requirement for the best available scientific advice, the fishing opportunities will be based on the best available scientific advice that has either been issued or reviewed by an independent scientific body that is recognised at the Union or international level."

8719/18
DENLEG

Statement by the United Kingdom

"The UK is disappointed that the proposed measure provides for the extension of the transitional period for one grill flavouring only ('grill flavour concentrate (vegetable)' FL no. 21.002) and does not cover the other two grill flavourings for which applications were submitted (i.e. Grillin' 5078 FL no 21.003 and Grillin' CB-200SF FL No 21.004).

Both Grillin' flavourings (FL No 21.003 and 21.004) are the subject of equivocal EFSA opinions resulting from a lack of data and in the UK's view, do not as such provide sufficient justification for risk management action. Their exclusion from this proposal of will result in the removal of products from the market despite no proven safety concerns. This is an undesirable precedent as further scientific studies are being undertaken by the applicant which would enable for a more thorough assessment of their safety to be made.

In accordance with the objectives of the flavouring legislation (Regulation (EC) No 1334/2008) the UK considers that it would have been more appropriate to extend the transitional period set out in Article 4 of Regulation (EU) No 873/2012 for all three grill flavourings until such time that a more robust assessment of their safety can be carried out and subsequent risk management measures become justifiable. This approach would have ensured a consistent treatment of the three grill flavouring applications."

Statement by the Commission

"In a VAT system based on the principle of taxation in the Member State of destination of goods and services with Member States collecting VAT on behalf of the others in particular in e-commerce activities, in order to combat VAT fraud and evasion, it is crucial that Member States adapt their legislation to make possible and effective the presence and participation of officials from the Member States of taxation during the administrative enquiries. The Commission will closely monitor the effectiveness of the measure and will report to the Council."

Statement by Germany

"With reference to the fifth recital:

'Such access should be made available via the European Vehicle and Driving Licence Information System (EUCARIS) software application, whose use is mandatory for Member States under Council Decision 2008/615/JHA6 and Council Decision 2008/616/JHA7, as regards vehicle registration data.'

We understand the references to EUCARIS and to the two Council Decisions to mean that each Member State realises and administers the automated data retrieval from national vehicle registers for Eurofisc liaison officials via a national contact point."

With reference to Article 21a(2):

'Access to the information referred to in paragraph 1, shall be granted under the following conditions:

(i) access is in connection with an investigation into suspected VAT fraud or is to detect VAT fraud;

(ii) access is through a Eurofisc liaison official, as referred to in Article 36(1), who holds a personal user identification for the electronic systems allowing access to this information.'

We understand this to mean that access to the data is not granted for the purpose of prosecuting parking violations, and that the requesting Member State must ensure that the data are not used for the purpose of prosecuting parking violations. According to our understanding, the purpose limitation in Article 21a(2) ('VAT fraud') overrides the broader utilisation provisions of Article 55 in this respect."

Statement by Italy

"Italy maintains its reservation on the decision to approve the draft amending budget No. 3/2018 ("DAB 3/2018"), to the extent that a final agreement between Member States in COREPER on the overall financing modalities for the second tranche of the Facility for Refugees in Turkey ("Facility"), which requires unanimity, is still pending.

The decision to approve DAB 3/2018 attempts to create a de facto budgetary basis for the scheme of repartition between EU budget and Member States contributions related to the financing of the second tranche of the Facility.

Italy expresses concerns for a decision that could bypass, with an amendment to the annual budget of merely procedural nature, the general framework at the basis of the Facility."
