- (1) Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 of the European Parliament and of the Council³ lays down the general principles and requirements of food law, so as to form a common basis for measures governing food law both at Union and Member State level. It provides, amongst others, that food law must be based on risk analysis, except where this is not appropriate to the circumstances or the nature of the measure.
- (2) Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 defines “risk analysis” as a process consisting of three interconnected components: risk assessment, risk management and risk communication. For the purposes of risk assessment at Union level, it establishes the European Food Safety Authority (“the Authority”), as the responsible Union risk assessment body in matters relating to food and feed safety. ~~Risk communication is an essential part of the risk analysis process.~~
- (3) Risk communication is an essential part of the risk analysis process. The evaluation of Regulation (EC) No 178/2002⁴, (“Fitness Check of the General Food Law”), found that risk communication is overall, not considered to be effective enough, which has an impact on consumers’ confidence on the outcome of the risk analysis process.
- (4) It is therefore necessary to ensure a comprehensive and continuous risk communication process throughout risk analysis, involving Union and national risk assessors and risk managers. That process should be combined with an open dialogue between all interested parties to ensure the coherence and consistency within the risk analysis process.
- (5) Particular emphasis should be placed on explaining in a coherent, appropriate and timely manner not only risk assessment findings themselves but also how these are utilized to help inform risk management decisions along with other legitimate factors, where relevant.
- (6) To this effect, it is necessary to establish general objectives and principles of risk communication, taking into account the respective roles of risk assessors and managers.

³ Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 28 January 2002 laying down the general principles and requirements of food law, establishing the European Food Safety Authority and laying down procedures in matters of food safety; (OJ L 31, 1.2.2002, p. 1).

⁴ Commission Staff Working Document, “The REFIT evaluation of the General Food Law (Regulation (EC) No 178/2002)”, SWD(2018)38 final, dated 15.1.2018.

- (7) Guidelines on a general plan for risk communication ~~Based on these general objectives and principles; should be drawn up by the Commission, in close cooperation with the Authority and the Member States;~~ a general plan on risk communication should be established in close cooperation with the Authority and the Member States, and following relevant public consultations. The plan should promote an integrated risk communication framework for all risk assessors and risk managers at national and Union level on all matters relating to the food chain. The plan should be general, allow for the necessary flexibility and not deal with situations specifically covered by the general plan for crisis management.
- (8) The general plan should aim at identifying the key factors to be taken into account when considering the type and level of risk communications' activities needed ~~are considered~~, such as the different levels of risk, the nature of the risk and its potential public health impact, who and what are directly or indirectly affected by the risk, the levels of risk exposure to a hazard, the level of urgency and the ability to control risk and other factors that influence risk perception including the level of urgency as well as the applicable legislative framework and relevant market context.
- (8a) The general plan should also aim at identifying the tools and channels to be used and should establish appropriate mechanisms of coordination and cooperation between the risk assessors and risk managers at national and Union level involved in the risk analysis process, in particular where several Union agencies provide scientific outputs on the same or on related subject matters, to ensure coherent risk communication and an open dialogue amongst all interested parties.
- (9) Transparency of the risk assessment process contributes to the Authority acquiring greater legitimacy in the eyes of the consumers and general public in pursuing its mission, increases their confidence in its work and ensures that the Authority is more accountable to the Union citizens in a democratic system. It is therefore essential to maintain the confidence of the general public and other interested parties in the risk analysis process underpinning Union food law and in particular in the risk assessment, including the organisation and independence of the Authority and transparency.
- (10) It is appropriate to align the composition of the Management Board of the Authority to the Common Approach on decentralised agencies, in accordance with the Joint Statement of the European Parliament, the Council of the European Union and the European Commission on decentralised agencies of 2012⁵, thus increasing the role of Member States as well as the effort and engagement of all parties involved in the management of the Authority.

⁵ https://europa.eu/european-union/sites/europaeu/files/docs/body/joint_statement_and_common_approach_2012_en.pdf.

- (11) Experience shows that the role of the Management Board of the Authority is focussed on administrative and financial aspects and does not impact on the independence of the scientific work performed by the Authority. It is thus appropriate to include representatives of all Member States in the Management Board of the Authority while providing that those representatives should have experience and expertise ~~in particular on risk assessment~~ not only in the fields of food chain legislation and policy, including risk assesment, but also in those of general, financial and legal matters and ensuring that they act independently in the public interest.
- (12) The members of the Management Board should be selected in such a way as to secure the highest standards of competence and a broad range of relevant experience available amongst the representatives of the Member States, the European Parliament and the Commission.
- (13) The Fitness Check of the General Food Law identified certain shortcomings in the long-term capability of the Authority to maintain its high-level expertise. In particular, there has been a decrease in the number of candidates applying to be members of the Scientific Panels . The system has thus to be strengthened and Member States should take a more active role to ensure that a sufficient pool of experts is available to meet the needs of the Union risk assessment system in terms of high level of scientific expertise, independence and multidisciplinary expertise.
- (14) To preserve the independence of the risk assessment from risk management and from other interests at Union level, it is appropriate that the selection by the Executive Director nomination and the appointment by the Management Board of the Authority of the members of the Scientific Committee and of the Scientific Panels ~~by the Member States, their selection by the Executive Director of the Authority and their appointment by the Management Board of the Authority~~ are based on strict criteria ensuring the excellence and independence of the experts while ensuring the required multidisciplinary expertise for each Panel. It is also essential to this end that the Executive Director whose function is to defend the Authority's ~~EFSA's~~ interests and in particular the independence of its expertise has a role in the selection ~~and appointment~~ of those scientific experts. Further measures should also be put in place to ensure that scientific experts have the means to act independently.
- (15) It is essential to ensure the efficient operation of the Authority and to improve the sustainability of its expertise. It is therefore necessary to strengthen the support provided by the Authority and the Member States to the work of the Authority's Scientific Panels. In particular, the Authority should organise the preparatory work supporting the Panels' tasks, including by requesting the Authority's staff or national scientific organisations networking with the Authority to draft preparatory scientific opinions to be peer-reviewed and adopted by the Panels.

- (16) Authorisations procedures are based on the principle that it is for the applicant to prove that the subject matter of an ~~authorisation procedure~~ application complies with Union safety requirements given the scientific knowledge in its possession. This principle is based on the premise that public health is better protected when the burden of proof is on the applicant since it has to prove that a particular subject matter is safe prior to its placing on the market, instead of the public authorities having to prove that a subject matter is unsafe in order to be able to ban it from the market. ~~Moreover, public money should not be used to commission costly studies that will in the end help the industry to place a product on the market.~~ According to this principle and in accordance with applicable regulatory requirements, in support of applications ~~for an authorisation~~ under Union sectoral food law, applicants are required to submit relevant studies, including tests, to demonstrate the safety and in some cases the efficacy of a subject matter.
- (17) Provisions exist on the content of applications ~~for authorisations~~. It is essential that the application ~~for authorisation~~ submitted to the Authority for its risk assessment meets the applicable specifications to ensure the best quality scientific assessment by the Authority. Applicants and in particular small- and medium-sized enterprises do not always have a clear understanding of these specifications. It ~~should be~~ is thus appropriate that ~~the Authority,~~ where the Authority may be requested to provide a scientific output, it should provide advice to a potential applicant, upon request. This advice should be on the applicable rules and the required content of an application ~~for authorisation~~, before an application is formally submitted, while not entering into the design of the studies to be submitted that remain the applicant's responsibility. To ensure the transparency of this process, a summary of the pre-submission advice of the Authority should be made public only once a corresponding application has been made public in accordance with the applicable rules on transparency.
- (18) ~~¶~~ Where the Authority may be requested to provide a scientific output, it should have knowledge of the subject matter of all studies performed by an applicant with a view to support an future application ~~for an authorisation~~ under Union food law. To this end, it is necessary and appropriate that when business operators commissioning ~~or carry-out~~ the studies with a view to submit an application and laboratories carrying them out they notify those studies to the Authority ~~when commissioned~~. The notification obligation should also apply to the laboratories and other testing facilities carrying-out the studies. Information about the notified studies should be made public only once a corresponding application ~~for authorisation~~ has been made public in accordance with the applicable rules on transparency. The Authority should lay down practical arrangements to implement the notification obligations, including procedures for requesting and making public the justifications for their non-compliance.

- (19) In the case of applications to request the renewal of an authorisation, the authorised substance or product has already been on the market for several years. Therefore experience and knowledge exist on this substance or product. Where the Authority may be requested to provide a scientific output, it is therefore appropriate that the studies planned for supporting requests for renewals should be notified by the applicant to the Authority and that following are submitted to a consultation of third parties on these planned studies, and that the Authority systematically provides advice to the applicants on the content of the intended renewal application, taking into account the received comments.
- (20) There are certain public concerns about the Authority's assessment in the area of authorisations being primarily based on industry studies. The Authority already makes searches in scientific literature to be able to consider other data and studies existing on the subject matter submitted to its assessment. In order to provide an additional level of guarantee ensuring that the Authority can have access to all relevant scientific data and studies available on a subject matter of an application for an authorisation or a renewal of an authorisation procedure, it is appropriate to provide for a consultation of third parties in order to identify whether other relevant scientific data or studies are available. To increase the effectiveness of the consultation, the consultation should take place when the studies submitted by industry included in an application for authorisation are made public, under the applicable transparency rules of this Regulation. Where there is a risk that the results of a public consultation cannot be given due consideration due to the applicable deadlines, it is appropriate to provide for a limited extension of these deadlines.
- (21) Studies, including tests, submitted by business operators in support of applications for authorisations under Union sectoral food law usually comply with internationally recognised principles, which provide a uniform basis for their quality in particular in terms of reproducibility of results. However, issues of compliance with the applicable standards, such as Directive 2004/10/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on the inspection and verification of good laboratory practice⁶ or standards developed by the International Organization for Standardization, may arise in some cases and this is why international and national systems are in place to verify such compliance. It is therefore appropriate to that the Commission carries out fact finding missions to assess the application by laboratories and other testing facilities of the relevant standards for carrying out tests and studies submitted to the Authority as part of an application. This would allow to identify possible weaknesses in the systems, to aim at correcting these and to provide an additional level of guarantees to reassure the general public on the quality of studies and to lay down an enhanced auditing system whereby Member State controls on the implementation of those principles by the laboratories carrying out such studies and tests would be verified by the Commission. Based on the conclusions of these fact finding missions, the Commission could propose appropriate legislative measures aiming at improving the compliance with these standards.

⁶ Directive 2004/9/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 11 February 2004 on the inspection and verification of good laboratory practice (GLP) (OJ L 50, 20.2.2004, p. 28).

- (22) Food safety is a sensitive matter of prime interest for all Union citizens. While maintaining the principle that the burden is on the industry to prove compliance with Union requirements, it is important to establish an additional verification tool to address specific cases of high societal importance where there is a controversy on safety issues, namely the commissioning of additional studies with the objective of verifying evidence used in the context of risk assessment. Considering that it would be financed by the Union budget and that the use of this exceptional verification tool should remain proportionate, the Commission, taking into account the views expressed by Member States and the European Parliament, should be responsible for triggering the commissioning of such verification studies. Account should be taken of the fact that in some specific cases the studies commissioned may need to have a wider scope than the evidence at stake (for example new scientific developments becoming available).
- (23) The Fitness Check of the General Food Law demonstrated that although the Authority has made considerable progress in terms of transparency, the risk assessment process, especially in the context of authorisation procedures covering the agri-food chain, is not always perceived as fully transparent. This is also partly due to the different transparency and confidentiality rules that are laid down not only in Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 but also in other Union sectoral legislative acts covering the agri-food chain. Their interplay can impact on the acceptability of the risk assessment by the general public.
- (24) The European Citizens' Initiative "Ban glyphosate and protect people and the environment from toxic pesticides" further confirmed concerns regarding transparency with respect to studies commissioned by the industry and submitted in authorisation application⁷.
- (25) It is therefore necessary to strengthen the transparency of the risk assessment process in a proactive manner. Public access to all scientific data and information supporting requests for authorisations under Union food law as well as other requests for scientific output should be ensured, as early as possible in the risk assessment process. However, this process should be without prejudice to existing intellectual property rights or to any provisions of Union food law protecting the investment made by innovators in gathering the information and data supporting relevant applications for authorisations.
- (26) Where the opinion of the Authority is requested in relation to applications submitted ~~authorisation procedures~~ under Union food law and having regard to its obligation to ensure public access to all supporting information with respect to the provision of its scientific outputs, the Authority should have responsibility for assessing confidentiality requests.

⁷ Communication from the Commission on the ECI "Ban glyphosate and protect people and the environment from toxic pesticides", C(2017) 8414 final.

- (27) To determine what level of disclosure strikes the appropriate balance, the relevant rights of the public to transparency in the risk assessment process, should be weighted up against the rights of commercial applicants, taking into account the objectives of Regulation (EC) No 178/2002.
- (28) Accordingly and with respect to the application procedures governing requests for ~~authorisation procedures~~ provided in Union food law, experience gained so far has shown that certain information items are generally considered sensitive and should remain confidential across the different sectoral ~~authorisation~~ procedures. It is appropriate to lay down in Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 a horizontal list of information items whose disclosure ~~may be considered~~ is demonstrated by the applicant to significantly potentially harm the commercial interests concerned to a significant degree and should not therefore be disclosed to the public; (“general horizontal list of confidential items”). These items should amongst others comprise the manufacturing and production process, including technical and industrial specifications, such as impurities, inherent to that process except for information which is relevant to the assessment of the safety. Only in very limited and exceptional circumstances relating to foreseeable health or environmental effects and where relevant authorities have identified urgent needs to protect human health, animal health or the environment, such information should be disclosed.
- (29) For the purposes of clarity and to increase legal certainty, it is necessary to set out the specific procedural requirements to be followed by an applicant in respect of a request for information submitted for the purposes of ~~authorisation procedures~~ to support an application under Union ~~food~~ law to be treated in a confidential manner.
- (30) It is also necessary to set out specific requirements with respect to the protection of personal data for the purposes of the transparency of the risk assessment process taking into account Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁸ and Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁹. Accordingly, no personal data should be made publicly available under this Regulation, unless it is necessary and proportionate for the purposes of ensuring the transparency, independence and the reliability of the risk assessment process, while preventing conflicts of interests.

⁸ Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 December 2000 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by the Community institutions and bodies and on the free movement of such data (OJ L 8, 12.1.2001, p. 1).

⁹ Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (OJ L 119, 4.5.2016, p. 1).

- (31) For the purposes of increased transparency and in order to ensure that requests for scientific outputs received by the Authority are processed in an effective manner, standard data formats ~~and software packages~~ should be developed. In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 with regard to the adoption of standard data formats ~~and software packages~~, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹⁰.
- (32) Having regard to the fact that the Authority would be required to store scientific data, including confidential and personal data, it is necessary to ensure that such storage is carried out in accordance with a high level of security.
- (33) Furthermore, in order to assess the effectiveness and efficiency of the different provisions applying to the Authority, it is also appropriate to provide for a Commission evaluation of the Authority, in line ~~accordance~~ with the Common Approach on Decentralised Agencies. The evaluation should, in particular, review the procedures for selecting the members of Scientific Committee and Panels, for their degree of transparency, cost-effectiveness, and suitability to ensure independence and competence, and to prevent conflicts of interests.

¹⁰ Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2011 laying down the rules and general principles concerning mechanisms for control by Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers, (OJ L 55, 28.2.2011, p. 13).

- (34) In order to ensure consistency with the proposed adaptations in Regulation (EC) No 178/2002, provisions relating to public access and the protection of confidential information in Directive 2001/18/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council¹¹, Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹², in Regulation (EC) No 1831/2003 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹³, in Regulation (EC) No 2065/2003 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹⁴, in Regulation (EC) No 1935/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹⁵, in Regulation (EC) No 1331/2008 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹⁶, in Regulation (EC) No 1107/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹⁷ and in Regulation (EU) 2015/2283 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹⁸ should be amended.
- (35) ~~For the purposes of ensuring transparency of the risk assessment process, it is also necessary to extend the scope of Regulation (EC) No 178/2002, currently limited to food law, to also cover applications for authorisations in the context of Regulation (EC) No 1831/2003 as regards feed additives, Regulation (EC) No 1935/2004 as regards food contact materials and Regulation (EC) No 1107/2009 as regards plant protection products.~~

- ¹² Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 September 2003 on genetically modified food and feed (OJ L 268, 18.10.2003, p. 1).

- ¹⁴ Regulation (EC) No 2065/2003 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 10 November 2003 on smoke flavourings used or intended for use in or on foods (OJ L 309, 26.11.2003, p. 1).
- ¹⁵ Regulation (EC) No 1935/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 October 2004 on materials and articles intended to come into contact with food and repealing Directives 80/590/EEC and 89/109/EEC (OJ L 338, 13.11.2004, p. 4).
- ¹⁶ Regulation (EC) No 1331/2008 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 December 2008 establishing a common authorisation procedure for food additives, food enzymes and food flavourings (OJ L 354, 31.12.2008, p. 1).
- ¹⁷ Regulation (EC) No 1107/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 21 October 2009 concerning the placing of plant protection products on the market and repealing Council Directives 79/117/EEC and 91/414/EEC (OJ L 309, 24.11.2009, p. 1).
- ¹⁸ Regulation (EU) 2015/2283 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 November 2015 on novel foods, amending Regulation (EU) No 1169/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council and repealing Regulation (EC) No 258/97 of the European Parliament and of the Council and Commission Regulation (EC) No 1852/2001 (OJ L 327, 11.12.2015, p. 1).

(36) To ensure that sectoral specificities with respect to confidential information are taken into account, it is necessary to weigh up the relevant rights of the public to transparency in the risk assessment process, ~~including those flowing from the Aarhus Convention¹⁹~~, against the rights of ~~commercial~~ applicants, taking into account the specific objectives of sectoral Union legislation as well as experienced gained. Accordingly, it is in particular necessary to amend Directive 2001/18/EC, Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003, Regulation (EC) No 1831/2003, Regulation (EC) No 1935/2004, Regulation (EC) No 1331/2008, ~~and~~ Regulation (EC) No 1107/2009 and Regulation (EU) No 2015/2283 to provide for additional confidential items to those set out in Regulation (EC) No 178/2002.

(36a) It should be understood that the rules on confidentiality provided for in Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 are not intended to affect access to information upon request.

~~(37) In order to further strengthen the link between risk assessors and risk managers at Union and national levels as well as the coherence and consistency of risk communication, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission to adopt a general plan on risk communication on matters covering the agri-food chain. It is of particular importance that the Commission carries out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making of 13 April 2016. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.~~

(38) In order to enable the Authority and the business operators to adapt to the new requirements while ensuring that the Authority continues its smooth operation, it is necessary to provide for transitional measures for the application of this Regulation.

(39) The appointment of the Scientific Committee and Scientific Panels' members being dependent of the entry in function of the new Management Board, it is necessary to provide for specific transitional provisions allowing a prolongation of the current term of office of the members of the Scientific Committee and Scientific Panels members.
