Statement by the Czech Republic

"Czechia recognizes the need to keep a balance between the imperative to ensure the attractiveness of Europe for innovative pharmaceutical companies and the urgency to allow EU based generics and biosimilars to compete on the global markets.

Nevertheless, we are concerned about the consequences of the proposed limitation of the rights of SPC holders. Any such weakening of intellectual property rights in Europe might undermine investment in research and development of new medicinal products. As a result, Europe might lose its attractiveness as a center of research and development, which might have a negative impact in particular on EU patients who are dependent on the supply of innovative medicinal products.

Against this background, we are of the view that any restriction of exclusive rights of SPC holders should only be permissible in exceptional circumstances such as humanitarian reasons addressing public health problems in developing countries. Consequently, the geographical scope of export countries should be more proportionate and limited only to those that are least developed and other developing countries."

Environment

6. Regulation on CO2 standards for cars and vans (recast) 5091/19 + ADD 1
Analysis of the final compromise text with a view to agreement

The Committee endorsed the text of the final compromise and mandated the Presidency to inform the European Parliament that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading in accordance with this compromise (subject to revision by the legal linguists), the Council would approve the European Parliament's position and the act shall be adopted.

Statement by Luxembourg

"Le Luxembourg se félicite qu'un accord ait pu être dégagé par les co-législateurs avant la fin de la présente législature sur la proposition de règlement fixant des normes de performance en matière d'émissions pour les voitures particulières et les véhicules utilitaires légers, garantissant ainsi la continuité de la législation de l'UE pour un secteur émetteur clé et de la clarté pour les investisseurs, les fabricants de véhicules, les pouvoirs publics et les citoyens.

Néanmoins, nous regrettons que le niveau d'ambition décidé ait été défini bien en deçà du niveau nécessaire pour aligner les émissions de CO₂ du transport routier dans l'UE aux objectifs établis par l'accord de Paris ou pour permettre aux États membres d'atteindre les objectifs nationaux de réduction des émissions de CO₂ établis par le règlement dit du «partage des efforts»¹, malgré la faisabilité technique et les nombreux avantages qu'un niveau d'ambition plus élevé aurait pu apporter à l'économie de l'UE, à sa politique industrielle et à l'intégrité environnementale de ses politiques.

Nous regrettons également que certaines des dispositions convenues dans le cadre du mécanisme d'incitation pour les véhicules à zéro et à faibles émissions (ZLEV) affaiblissent le niveau de réduction réel des émissions de CO₂ obtenu par ce règlement et craignons qu'elles soient exploitées par les constructeurs d'une manière pouvant conduire à des distorsions du marché intérieur.

En conséquence, nous appelons la Commission et les co-législateurs à mettre en place des mesures et des instruments européens supplémentaires, notamment des moyens financiers, afin de favoriser une transition aussi rapide que possible vers des véhicules à zéro émissions dans l'UE. Nous appelons également la Commission à surveiller de près la manière dont les fabricants se conforment au nouveau règlement et à prendre des mesures en cas d'abus."

7. Regulation on CO₂ standards for heavy-duty vehicles Preparation for the trilogue

The Committee agreed on a revised mandate for the forthcoming trilogue.

Energy

8. Regulation on electricity (recast) 5070/19 + COR 1 +
COR 2
Analysis of the final compromise text with a view to agreement

The Committee analysed the text. The Commission confirmed that on strategic reserves there is no intention to favour one form of capacity mechanism to another. The aim is to ensure that Member States examine availabilities and then freely decide. The Committee endorsed the text of the final compromise and mandated the Presidency to inform the European Parliament that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading in accordance with this compromise (subject to revision by the legal linguists), the Council would approve the European Parliament's position and the act shall be adopted.

Statements by the Commission

- on the interconnector definition

"The Commission notes the agreement of the co-legislators relating to the recast Electricity Directive and Recast Electricity Regulation, reverting back to the definition of "interconnector" used in Directive 2009/72/EC and Regulation (EC) 714/2009. The Commission agrees that electricity markets differ from other markets such as natural gas, e.g. by trading products which can currently not be easily stored and are produced by a large variety of generating installations, including installations at distribution level. As a consequence, the role of connections to third countries differs significantly between the electricity and gas sectors and different regulatory approaches can be chosen.

The Commission will further examine the impact of this agreement and provide guidance on applying the legislation where needed.

For the sake of legal clarity, the Commission wishes to highlight the following:

The agreed definition of interconnector in the Electricity Directive refers to equipment linking electricity systems. This wording does not distinguish different regulatory frameworks or technical situations and thus, a priori, includes all electric connections to third countries in the scope of application. As regards the agreed definition of interconnector in the Electricity Regulation, the Commission underlines that the integration of electricity markets requires a high degree of cooperation between system operators, market participants and regulators. While the scope of applicable rules may vary depending on the degree of integration with the internal electricity market, close integration of third countries into the internal electricity market, such as participation in market coupling projects, should be based on agreements requiring the application of relevant Union law."

- on market reform implementation plans

"The Commission notes the agreement of the co-legislators relating to Art. 18(3) which provides that Member States with identified adequacy concerns shall publish an implementation plan with a timeline for adopting measures to eliminate any identified regulatory distortions and/or market failures as a part of the State Aid process.

Pursuant to Article 108 TFEU, the Commission has exclusive competence to assess the compatibility of State aid measures with the internal market. This Regulation cannot affect and is without prejudice to the Commission's exclusive competence pursuant to the TFEU. The Commission may therefore, where relevant, give its opinion on market reform plans in parallel to the process of approving capacity mechanisms under State aid rules, but the two processes are legally separate."

Statement by Greece

"Greece has carefully considered the assurances provided by the European Commission, during the Coreper I meeting of 18 January 2019.

Based, on the above mentioned assurances, it is our understanding that the lignite power plant of Ptolemais 5, currently under construction, can be included in the provisions of Article 18b, par. 5, according to which it is possible for commitments or contracts, concluded before 31 December 2019 not to be modified in order to comply with the new provisions of the Regulation on the internal market of electricity. It was also clear to us that the Commission is willing to provide the necessary support to Greece, in this regard.

It is on this understanding, and in a constructive spirit, that Greece votes positively on the final text of the recast of the Electricity Regulation."

9. Directive on electricity (recast) 5076/19 + COR 1
Analysis of the final compromise text with a view to agreement

The Committee endorsed the text of the final compromise and mandated the Presidency to inform the European Parliament that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading in accordance with this compromise (subject to revision by the legal linguists), the Council would approve the European Parliament's position and the act shall be adopted.

Statements by the Commission

- on alternative dispute resolution

"The Commission notes the agreement of the co-legislators relating to [Recital 24 and] Article 26 to regulate at EU level that energy service providers' participation in Alternative Dispute Resolution shall be mandatory. The Commission regrets this decision since its proposal had left this choice to Member States in line with the approach adopted in Directive 2013/11/EU on Alternative Resolution for consumer Disputes (the ADR Directive) and bearing in mind the principles of subsidiarity and proportionality.

It is not the Commission's role to undertake comparative assessments of the individual alternative dispute resolution models put in place by the Member States. The Commission will therefore consider the overall effectiveness of the national alternative dispute resolution landscapes in the context of its general obligation to monitor the transposition and effective application of Union law."

- on the interconnector definition

"The Commission notes the agreement of the co-legislators relating to the recast Electricity Directive and Recast Electricity Regulation, reverting back to the definition of "interconnector" used in Directive 2009/72/EC and Regulation (EC) 714/2009. Statement by the Netherlands, supported by Germany

"The Netherlands fully supports the objectives of this Directive in general and the enhancement of licensing in the case of retransmissions in particular.

Nevertheless, The Netherlands wishes to make a declaration regarding the ambiguity of the definitions of retransmission. The definition of retransmission by an internet service provider in this Directive explicitly excludes from the scope of mandatory collective management of rights the retransmission of an online transmission. The definition of retransmission by cable operators that stems from Directive 93/83 (SatCab) does not.

The omission of initial online transmissions is entirely due to the fact that initial online transmissions did not yet exist at the time Directive 93/83 entered into force, but have developed in a later stage. It has not been discussed during the negotiations and did not form part of the political agreement: on the contrary, the aim of this Directive was to provide a level playing field for signal distributors, regardless of the method of distribution. The Netherlands therefore remains of the opinion that initial online retransmissions should have been excluded explicitly in the operative part of this Directive or at the very least in a recital.

The fact that this has been omitted poses an ambiguity that risks to lead to legal uncertainty.

In the absence of clarity on this issue the Netherlands will, in the explanatory memorandum to the legislation implementing this Directive, stipulate that a retransmission of an initial online transmission by a broadcasting organization does not fall under the regime for mandatory collective management, regardless of the way the retransmission takes place."

Statement by Hungary

on the Conclusions on the Annual Growth Survey 2019

"Hungary is ready to work with the Commission to define investment needs and economic development priorities and as in the past still continues to engage in an active dialogue with the Commission on setting targets however strictly outside of the European Semester process.

Hungary is of the view that the Commission's proposal on the Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF) for the 2021-2027 period and the related sectoral legislative proposals intend to strengthen the link between the Cohesion Policy and the economic governance in several aspects, thereby significantly limiting Member States' room for manoeuvre in Cohesion Policy programming as well as the optimal use of resources. It is a special interest for Hungary to ensure that the economic development priorities of the Hungarian Government are taken into account in the cohesion programming fully."

Déclaration de la France

"La France salue la proposition de réforme de la révision du règlement transversal 178/2002 «General Food Law» et y apporte son soutien. Elle est favorable au renforcement tant de la transparence de la procédure actuelle d'évaluation des risques que de l'indépendance de l'expertise. Les mesures proposées sont utiles pour atteindre ces objectifs.

Néanmoins, la France regrette que les enjeux liés aux «effets cocktails» des substances chimiques n'aient pas pour le moment été pris en compte lors des débats et que ce sujet, pourtant essentiel, ne soit pas abordé dans le projet de règlement. Elle rappelle que la bonne prise en compte des «effets cocktails» est une des grandes priorités que s'est fixée l'Union européenne (par le 7^{ème} programme d'action pour l'environnement, réitéré au niveau du Conseil par ses conclusions de décembre 2016 par exemple)."

Statement by Belgium

"Although supporting the general approach of the Council, Belgium remains concerned about the following topics:

- Transparency of the risk management process (article 8)
Belgium considers that non-binding guidelines, containing only a general risk communication plan, are insufficient to significantly improve the transparency of the risk management process and the decision-making process for authorizing regulated substances. This does not meet the conclusions of the fitness check of Regulation (EU) n° 178/2002, the ECI on the ban of glyphosate and the consultations on the roadmap on transparency and sustainability of the EU risk assessment model in the food chain.
- Obligations of Member States towards scientific organizations employing members in scientific panels and scientific committees (article 28(5)(d))
As regards the Council's position on EP amendment 53 concerning article 28(5)(d), Belgium would like to recall that many Member States do have neither the means nor the legitimacy nor the legal basis for applying obligations that go beyond the general approach of the Council. Therefore, only the Council's general approach is acceptable.
- Confidentiality (article 39 and sectoral legislations)
Belgium fears that the product innovation of European companies is still compromised and questions the justification for requiring the publication of all information even if it is not relevant for the purposes of the risk assessment of the substances concerned. Moreover, Belgium still believes that a comitology procedure, involving the legislator, should be provided to interpret, specify and / or adapt, where appropriate, the information items listed in article 39 and in sectorial legislations for which a confidential treatment procedure can be applied. This mechanism would ensure a sufficient legal security. Leaving this issue entirely to EFSA's decision via internal arrangements could be considered as a form of disempowerment of the legislator and could lead to further appeals to the ECJ."
