Statement by the Commission

"The Commission would like to clarify its intention regarding the treatment of 'small-volume manufacturers' in the framework of the Commission Regulation on the determination of the CO₂ emissions and fuel consumption from heavy-duty vehicles, so-called Certification Regulation.

The Commission aims to provide for a definition of 'small volume manufacturers' in future amendments of the certification Regulation once this will become relevant as additional vehicles covered would be produced by SMEs.

The Commission intends to duly consider if an exemption for such 'small volume manufacturers' is necessary by carrying out a study, which will assess the administrative burden linked to the certification procedure for these manufacturers. The Commission will also aim at ensuring consistency of such definitions and, potentially, the respective exemptions, with existing type-approval legislation.

If an exemption for such 'small volume manufacturers' were to be included in the Certification Regulation, this would automatically lead to the exclusion of CO₂ emissions and fuel consumptions data from such manufacturers from the scope of application of the Regulation on monitoring and reporting."
