JUSTICE AFFAIRS

Regulation on the digitalisation of judicial cooperation and access to justice

Directive aligning the existing rules on communication with the rules of the proposed Regulation

The Presidency has finished the first reading of the whole text of the proposed Regulation on digitalisation of judicial cooperation and access to justice. Based on the results of the discussions at the meetings as well as the written contributions sent by delegations, the Presidency has redrafted Articles 16 to 25, complementing the redraft text by the French Presidency on Articles 1 to 15. The compiled redrafted text has been discussed at the e-Justice Working Party, completing the second reading of the Articles of the proposed Regulation. The Presidency has also finished the second reading of the Directive.

The Presidency hopes for fruitful final discussions in the e-Justice Working Party in order for the general approach as regards both proposals to be approved by the Council in December 2022.

Regulation on the digital information exchange in terrorism cases

At its meeting on 9 June 2022, the Justice and Home Affairs Council reached a general approach on the proposal. The Presidency is looking forward to starting negotiations with the European Parliament as soon as possible. The Presidency intends to work with the European Parliament in close and efficient cooperation, with a view to reaching an agreement on this important file.

Regulation establishing a collaboration platform to support the functioning of Joint Investigation Teams

At its meeting on 9 June 2022, the Justice and Home Affairs Council reached a general approach on the proposal. The proposal is a common priority for the Council and the European Parliament. Therefore, the Presidency plans to start negotiations on this file with the European Parliament at the earliest opportunity with the objective of rapidly achieving progress and reaching a political agreement.

E-evidence: Proposal for a Regulation and a Directive

The Presidency aims to finalise the work and reach an agreement with the European Parliament in the upcoming weeks. Trilogue negotiations with the European Parliament began back in February 2021 but proved to be challenging. As from May 2022, both legislators have begun to move towards a global compromise package. The 7th political trilogue held on 28 June 2022 marked a real breakthrough in the negotiations, and after a number of technical meetings during the first weeks of the Czech Presidency of the Council, the co-legislators are now close to finding an agreement on the remaining outstanding issues.

Directive on asset recovery and confiscation

On 25 May 2022, the Commission presented its proposal for a Directive on asset recovery and confiscation, which will replace several existing EU instruments in this area. Examination at technical level began during the French Presidency. The first reading of the text is ongoing and will be completed by the Czech Presidency, which aims to identify possible difficulties, discuss them at political level, and propose initial drafting suggestions with a view to preparing a solid basis for continuing work under the Swedish Presidency.

Directive on combating violence against women and domestic violence

The proposal for a Directive on combating violence against women and domestic violence was presented on 8 March 2022. Due to its extent and complexity, the first reading of the text is still ongoing. A number of legal issues concerning the proposal, raised at technical level, still need to be considered. The Czech Presidency intends to complete the first reading of the text and clarify legal issues related to the proposal, which will be followed by possible discussion at political level.

Regulation on the law applicable to the third-party effects of assignments of claims

The last technical meeting with the Parliament, the Council and the Commission on this file took place on 8 March 2022 under the French Presidency. Shortly afterwards, negotiations were suspended and the situation has remained the same under the Czech Presidency. Resuming the discussions with the European Parliament depends on the result of legal consultations that the European Parliament has decided to carry out on its side. These consultations would focus on understanding the concept of “the law of the assigned claim”. Until now, the consultations did not lead to progress in finding a compromise on this legal question. The Czech Presidency is trying to clarify with the Parliament when it intends to resume inter-institutional negotiations.

Directive on protecting persons who engage in public participation from manifestly unfounded or abusive court proceedings (‘Strategic lawsuits against public participation’)

On 27 April 2022, the Commission submitted its proposal for a Directive on protecting persons who engage in public participation from manifestly unfounded or abusive court proceedings (‘Strategic lawsuits against public participation’, or ‘SLAPP’). The first reading began during the French Presidency and was completed under the Czech Presidency in July 2022. The Working Party set out to examine the compromised text of Chapters I and II on 10 October 2022. The Czech Presidency intends to advance the discussions at technical level and conduct possible discussion at political level at the JHA Council in December 2022.
