Draft Note Verbale

The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland ceased to be a Member State of the European Union (“the Union”) and the European Atomic Energy Community (“Euratom”) on 1 February 2020 (00.00 Central European Time) pursuant to the terms of the Agreement on the withdrawal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland from the European Union and the European Atomic Energy Community, signed at Brussels and London on 24 January 2020 (‘the Withdrawal Agreement’).

The Withdrawal Agreement established a transition period between the United Kingdom and the Union during which time the United Kingdom was treated as a Member State of the Union and of Euratom for the purposed international agreements concluded by the Union (or Euratom), or by Member States acting on behalf of the Union (or Euratom), or by the Union (or Euratom) and its Member States jointly and was bound by the obligations stemming from these agreements.

The transition period ended on 31 December 2020.

At the end of the transition period, international agreements concluded by the Union (or Euratom), or by Member States acting on behalf of the Union (or Euratom), or by the Union (or Euratom) and its Member States jointly ceased to apply to the United Kingdom.

As a consequence, the Union notifies [Third Country] that the United Kingdom is not treated as a Member States of the Union for the purposes of the Agreement establishing a Trade Agreement between the European Union and its Member States, on the one hand, and Colombia and Peru, and Ecuador, on the other, and is therefore not covered or bound by it. All references to the United Kingdom in the agreement are therefore to be disregarded and have not effect.
