While the wine sector has achieved a balance between production supply, quality, consumer demand and exports on the world market, this balance is not long standing or stable enough yet, in particular when faced with serious market disturbances. In addition, there is a trend towards a continued decrease in wine consumption in the Union due to changes in consumer habits and lifestyle. In consequence, liberalisation of new vine plantings risks to threaten in the long term, the balance achieved so far between the supply

This risks to put into question the positive developments obtained through the Union legislation and policy of the last decades. (XX) The existing scheme of authorisations for vine plantings is also considered essential to ensure the diversity and respond to the specificities of the Union wine landscape. The wine sector has specific characteristics, including the long cycle of Vineyards with production only taking place several years after planting but then continuing for several decades and the potential for considerable fluctuations in production from one harvest to the next. Unlike many wine producing third countries, the Union wine sector is

In order to guarantee the economic viability of their projects and to improve the competitiveness of the Union wine sector on the global market, operators in the sector and winegrowers therefore need long-term predictability, given the significant investment that the planting of a vineyard represents. (XXX)) In order to secure the achievements obtained in the Union's wine sector until now and to achieve a long-lasting quantitative and qualitative balance in the sector through the continued orderly growth of vine plantings beyond 2030, the scheme should be extended until 2045, i.e. for a period equivalent to the initial period in place since 2016, but with two
