- First reading agreement

Dear Mr Lange,

Following the informal negotiations on this proposal between the representatives of the three institutions held on 19/20 May 2026, where a provisional agreement was reached on a final compromise text, I am pleased to inform you that today the Permanent Representatives Committee agreed with the final compromise text as set out in Annex I to this letter.

As part of the provisional agreement, the European Parliament and the Commission put forward draft statements as set out in Annex II to this letter.

I am therefore now in a position to confirm that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading in accordance with Article 294, paragraph 3 of the Treaty, in the form set out in Annex I to this letter (subject to the revision by the lawyers-linguists of both institutions), the Council would, in accordance with Article 294, paragraph 4 of the Treaty, approve the European Parliament's position. The act is then adopted in the wording which corresponds to the European Parliament's position.

Proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

on the adjustment of customs duties on the import of certain goods originating in the United States of America and opening of tariff quotas for imports of certain goods originating in the United States of America

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 207(2) thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) The Union and the United States of America (the ‘United States’) have the largest and deepest bilateral trade and investment relationship in the world and have highly integrated economies. The total two-way trade between them was worth more than EUR 1.6 trillion in 2024. This deep and comprehensive partnership is underpinned by significant mutual investment in each other's markets worth around EUR 5.3 trillion. Ensuring the continued integration of these economies, which underpins the broader partnership between the Union and the United States, is a strategic imperative, particularly at a time where Russia's war of aggression against Ukraine threatens the Union's essential security interests.
- (1a) Effective on 12 March 2025, the United States imposed a 25% tariff on steel and aluminium and their derivative products. Effective on 3 April 2025, the United States imposed an additional duty of 25% on imported automobiles. Effective on 5 April 2025, the United States imposed an additional ad valorem duty on all imports from all trading partners, with the possibility of exceptions. Those United States tariff measures included a baseline 10% tariff on all imports, with a possible country-specific tariff rate set for individual economies based on bilateral trade balances. For the Union, this meant a 20% tariff on most products. On 9 April 2025, the United States announced a 90-day deferral of the imposition of the country-specific tariff, maintaining in place the 10% baseline for all partners. Effective on 3 May 2025, the United States imposed an additional duty of 25% on automobile parts. Effective on 4 June 2025, the tariffs on steel and aluminium and their derivative products were raised to 50 %. On 12 July 2025, the President of the United States announced that the baseline additional tariff on Union goods would be raised from 10% to 30%, with effect from 1 August 2025. Effective on 1 August 2025, the US imposed additional duties of 50% on imports of copper articles and their derivative products.

- (1aa) In this context, and with a view to establishing a stable framework for trade between the Union and the US, the President of the European Commission and the President of the United States reached a political agreement on 27 July 2025, which was subsequently reflected in the Joint Statement on a European Union – United States Framework Agreement on Reciprocal, Fair and Balanced Trade of 21 August 2025 (the 'Joint Statement')¹*
- (1b) The Union reiterates its unwavering commitment to a transparent, fair and rules-based multilateral trading system grounded in the principles of the World Trade Organization (WTO). In line with the Treaties, the Union remains devoted to advancing its values and interests on the global stage, particularly through the promotion of open and equitable trade and the reinforcement of international law. The WTO remains the cornerstone of the global trading order and the primary forum for developing, implementing, and enforcing international trade rules. Close cooperation with like-minded partners is essential to uphold and strengthen that system, to safeguard a predictable and rules-*

based global trading environment, to advance necessary WTO reform and to achieve a well-functioning dispute settlement mechanism.

- (1c) The Union remains committed to ensuring that the trade and investment relationship between the Union and the United States will evolve in line with the principles of free and fair trade between the parties, and in line with the WTO rules-based trading system without undermining other trade policy measures including in the area of trade defence.
- (2) ■ In the Joint Statement, the United States committed to modify certain tariffs applicable to Union imports in line with that political agreement, reducing the applicable rate to an all-inclusive tariff ceiling of 15 %. The United States ■ also committed to apply only the Most Favoured Nation (MFN) tariff to certain Union products such as unavailable natural resources (including cork), all aircraft and aircraft parts, generic pharmaceuticals and their ingredients and chemical precursors. The Union and the United States committed to consider other sectors and products that are important for their economies and value chains for inclusion in the list of products for which only the MFN tariffs would apply.
- (3) The Union and the United States intend the Joint Statement to be a first step in a process that can be further expanded over time to cover additional areas and continue to improve market access and increase their trade and investment relationship. The Union remains committed to continue engaging in negotiations with the United States with a view to reaching a mutually beneficial agreement for other important sectors of its economy, such as agri-food products, as well as industrial goods.
- (4) The Union has committed to eliminate tariffs on all United States industrial goods and to provide preferential market access for a wide range of United States seafood and agricultural goods, including tree nuts, dairy products, fresh and processed fruits and vegetables, processed foods, planting seeds, soybean oil, and pork and bison meat. The Union and the United States have committed to negotiate rules of origin that would apply to these trade benefits.
- (5) Accordingly, the Union should adjust the customs duties on imports of certain goods and open tariff quotas for imports of certain goods originating in the United States, adopting preferential tariff measures as referred to in Article 56 of Regulation (EU) No 952/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council³.

- (5a) This Regulation does not prejudice the ability of the Union, in accordance with Union law, including Regulation (EU) No 2023/2675 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 November 2023 on the protection of the Union and its Member States from economic coercion by third countries, and Regulation (EU) No 654/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 concerning the exercise of the Union's rights for the application and enforcement of international trade rules and amending Council Regulation (EC) No 3286/94 laying down Community procedures in the field of the common commercial policy in order to ensure the exercise of the Community's rights under international trade rules, in particular those established under the auspices of the World Trade Organization, and international law, to apply measures in response to measures adopted by the United States.
- (6) The ■ Joint Statement's main objective is to establish a clear framework for transatlantic trade that brings much - needed stability and predictability for Union exporters. Where actions by the United States ■ threaten to undermine stability and predictability, such as by threatening to diverge or diverging from its commitments under the Joint Statement, for example if the United States fails, in the context of the lapse or replacement of the temporary import surcharge imposed on Union exports into the United States pursuant to Section 122 of the Trade Act of 1974 by Proclamation of the President of the United States of 20 February 2026, to address the Union's concerns regarding the tariff treatment of those Union exports which until 24 February 2026 benefitted from the 15% all-inclusive tariff ceiling or which were until that date exempted from additional tariffs, in line with the Joint Statement, the Commission should be empowered to suspend, in whole or in part, the Union's commitments under the Joint Statement implemented in this Regulation. Likewise, where the United States by its action otherwise defeats the purpose of the Joint Statement the Commission should be empowered to suspend in whole or in part, of the Union's commitments under the Joint Statement implemented in this Regulation.

² Regulation (EU) No 952/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 9 October 2013 laying down the Union Customs Code (OJ L 269, 10.10.2013, p. 1).

- (6a) This Regulation grants the United States broad and exceptional tariff preferences and tariff quotas, which could potentially lead to increases in imports of the goods covered by those preferences and quotas, which could have a significant impact on Union industry. A safeguard mechanism should therefore be established, with the aim to protect Union industry including in the agricultural sector, in the event that the tariff preferences and tariff quotas granted by this Regulation would lead to such increases of imports of certain goods as to cause or threaten to cause serious injury to Union industry.
- (6b) The Joint Statement does not provide for the application of the 15 % tariff ceiling to steel and aluminium, therefore the 50 % duty rates previously introduced by the United States remain in place. The Union and the United States have, however, expressed their intention, in the Joint Statement, to consider the possibility to cooperate on ring-fencing their respective domestic markets from steel and aluminium overcapacity, while ensuring secure supply chains between each other, including through tariff quota solutions.
- (6c) On 19 August 2025, the United States Department of Commerce announced the addition of 407 product categories to the list of steel and aluminium derivative products covered by Section 232 sectoral tariffs. As a result, the steel and aluminium content of the newly added products is subject to a tariff rate of 50 %. On 2 April 2026, the list of steel and aluminium derivative products subject to those tariffs and the methodology of application of those tariffs were further modified.
- (6d) The imposition of those tariffs and of the cumbersome administrative and customs requirements, after the political agreement was reached on 27 July 2025, has increased the level of instability in trade between the Union and the United States, and has led to serious economic consequences for the Union companies concerned and for their workers. Those tariffs also disproportionately affect the Union's small and medium-sized enterprises and downstream industries, undermining their competitiveness in the United States market and leading to potential long-term loss of market share and to lasting damage to transatlantic industrial supply chains. The Union and the United States should reach a swift and mutually beneficial conclusion to the ongoing negotiations aimed at resolving these tariff issues and restoring stable transatlantic trade relations. In that context, the Commission should be empowered to adopt an implementing act suspending the application of Article 1 in relation to the goods falling under Combined

Nomenclature codes 72, 73 and 76, where by 31 December 2026, The United States continues to apply a tariff rate higher than 15% on steel and aluminium derivative products imported from the Union.

- (7) In order to ensure uniform conditions for the implementation of this Regulation, implementing powers should be conferred on the Commission to suspend the application of this Regulation, in whole or in part, in specific circumstances. Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and the Council⁴.
- (8) The origin of a good should be determined in accordance with the applicable Union legislation, notably, the rules on non-preferential origin as referred to in Title II, Chapter 2, Section 1 of Regulation (EU) No 952/2013, until rules on preferential origin as referred to in Article 64(2) or (3) of that Regulation have been adopted to implement the outcome of the negotiations on rules of origin referred to in the Joint Statement.
- (8a) This Regulation has been adopted without an accompanying impact assessment, so its potential economic impact is difficult to estimate at the time of its adoption. Therefore, the Commission should monitor the economic effects in the Union of the trade liberalisation measures provided for in this Regulation. The Commission should inform at regular intervals the European Parliament and the Council of any changes in trade volumes and values of US exports to the Union of goods subject to this Regulation. By 30 June 2029, the Commission should present a comprehensive assessment of effects of this Regulation accompanied, where appropriate, by a legislative proposal to extend the application of this Regulation.
- (8b) Access to the Union market is conditional on compliance with applicable Union law.
- (8c) In accordance with the Treaties, the European Parliament and the Council should be kept fully, regularly and in a timely manner informed of relevant developments in the application of this Regulation and should be duly consulted throughout the process.

⁴ Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 February 2011 laying down the rules and general principles concerning mechanisms for control by Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers (OJ L 55, 28.2.2011, p. 13 ELI: <http://data.europa.eu/eli/reg/2011/182/oj>).

- (9) In view of the importance of avoiding disruption of the trade and investment relationship between the Union and the United States, this Regulation should enter into force on the day following that of its publication,
