Elements for registration and control of geographical indications

The elements taken into account for the purposes of Article 12.31(1) and (2) are the following:

- (a) a register listing geographical indications protected in the territory;
- (b) an administrative process verifying that geographical indications identify a good as originating in a territory, region or locality of one of the Parties, where a given quality, reputation or other characteristic of the good is essentially attributable to its geographical origin;
- (c) a requirement that a registered name shall correspond to a specific product or products for which a product specification is laid down, which can only be amended by due administrative process;
- (d) control provisions applying to production;
- (e) enforcement of the protection of registered names by appropriate administrative action by the public authorities;
- (f) legal provisions allowing a registered name to be used by any operator marketing products conforming to the corresponding specification;

- (g) provisions concerning the registration, which may include refusal of registration, of terms homonymous or partly homonymous with registered terms, terms customary in common language as the common name for goods, terms comprising or including the names of plant varieties and animal breeds; those provisions shall take into account the legitimate interests of all parties concerned;
- (h) rules concerning relation between geographical indications and trademarks providing for a limited exception to the rights conferred under trademark law to the effect that the existence of a prior trademark shall not be a reason to prevent the registration and use of a name as a registered geographical indication;
- (i) a right for any producer established in the area who submits to the system of controls to produce the product labelled with the protected name provided the producer complies with the product specifications; and
- (j) an opposition procedure to take into account the legitimate interests of prior users of names, whether those names are protected as a form of intellectual property or not.

CRITERIA TO BE INCLUDED IN THE OPPOSITION PROCEDURE

1. For the purposes of completing the opposition procedure as referred to in Article 12.31(3) and (4), a Party shall consider only the following information if that possibility is provided for by its laws:

- (a) a list of names with the corresponding transcription into Latin characters;
- (b) the product type;
- (c) an invitation:
 - in the case of the Union, to any natural or juridical persons having a legitimate interest, to submit objections to such protection by lodging a duly substantiated statement except those established or resident in Indonesia, and
 - in the case of Indonesia, to any natural or juridical persons having a legitimate interest, to submit objections to such protection by lodging a duly substantiated statement except those established or resident in a Member State of the Union;

2. Statements of opposition must reach:

- (a) for the Union, the European Commission in relation to agricultural geographical indications, and the European Commission and the European Union Intellectual Property Office in relation to craft and industrial products, within three months from the date of the publication of the information notice; or
- (b) for Indonesia, the Directorate General of Intellectual Property, Ministry of Law, within two months from the date of the publication of the information notice.

3. Statements of opposition shall be admissible only if they are received within the time limit set out in paragraph 2 and:

- (a) if they show that the protection of the name proposed would:
 - (i) in the case of agricultural geographical indications, conflict with the name of a plant variety, including a wine grape variety or an animal breed and as a result be likely to mislead the consumer as to the true origin of the product;
 - (ii) be a homonymous name which misleads the consumer into believing that products come from another territory;
 - (iii) in the light of a trademark's reputation and renown and the length of time it has been used, be capable of misleading the consumer as to the true identity of the product;

(iv) jeopardise the existence of an entirely or partly identical name or of a trademark or jeopardise the existence of products which have been legally on the market for at least five years preceding the date of the publication of this notice; or

(b) if they can give details which indicate that the name, for which protection and registration is considered, is generic.

4. The criteria referred to in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 shall be evaluated in relation to the territory of the Party in which the protection of the geographical indication is sought.
